[illegible]

[illegible] Sheriff, [illegible] Ursulines et Ho[illegible] prince qui s'y tro[illegible]

Par le shé[illegible] grosse avec [illegible] jeune [illegible] ans.

Par le Sheriff, lundi [illegible] esclaves, hommes [illegible]

Par T. Mossy, [illegible] 21, [illegible] et se trouvant au coin des rues [illegible] et Ste. Marie, et la mitoyenne face à la rue Grande [illegible] un et deux ans.

PAR J. LECARPENTIER.

Au plus-haut et dernier enchérisseur et sans réserve,

IL sera vendu Lundi le 31 Mars [illegible] midi à la Bourse d'Hewlet, à la Nouvelle-Orléans, les propriétés ci-après, dépendantes de la succession feu Jean-Baptiste Lejonchère, nègre libre, savoir:

UNE HABITATION située dans la paroisse de Plaquemines, à environ cinq lieues au-dessous de la pointe, au Détour des Anglais, sur la rive gauche du fleuve, avec environ douze arpens de front sur le fleuve sur la profondeur ordinaire de quarante, et bornée des deux côtés par les habitations ayant appartenu ci-devant à feu Bernard [illegible]

TROIS ESCLAVES [illegible] et agréablement annoncés au moment de la vente.

Les esclaves pourront rester [illegible] jusqu'à la vente. La vente payable en quatre termes égaux d'un, deux, trois et quatre ans, avec intérêts à huit pour cent, et [illegible] hypothèques sur l'habitation.

On vend avec ses limites, ses bâtisses et tel qu'elle se trouve dans l'état où le tout se trouvera au jour de la vente, à l'exception du moulin qui en sera distrait aux frais du propriétaire de la dite moitié, pour le jour de la vente, en [illegible] que l'acquéreur le requerra. Les billets seront souscrits par cautions suivant la [illegible] de la vente.

Wm. Young Lewis, [illegible] ces actes, ainsi que ceux de [illegible] levée de l'hypothèque, se [illegible]

[illegible] FRANÇOIS [illegible]

[illegible] Hewlet, les propriétés ci-après [illegible]

1. Ayoule, nègre [illegible] agée de [illegible] ans, [illegible] cuisinière et [illegible]

2. Nick, nègre [illegible] 45 ans, cigarier et [illegible]

3. [illegible] âgée de 39 ans, [illegible] et [illegible]

4. Un [illegible] de dessins, charrettes, [illegible] et aussi un peu maçon.

5. Un Terrain situé [illegible] Dauphine, entre les rues du Quartier et de l'Esplanade, de [illegible] irrégulière, [illegible] par le No. 2, sur le plan dressé le 6 [illegible] 1820 par Joseph Pilié [illegible], et qui est exposé à la Bourse [illegible] jusqu'au jour de la vente. Ladite [illegible] 31 pieds 11 pouces de face à la rue [illegible] une profondeur moyenne de 82 pieds 2 pouces sur laquelle sur le No. 2, est une maison construite en briques, couverte en terrasse, composée de quatre chambres, et dans la cour, une cuisine, construite en colombage, et couverte en ardoise. Il y a un corridor à l'usage des terrains Nos. 2 et 3.

7. Un Terrain désigné audit plan par le No. 3, ayant 29 pieds 1 pouce de face à la rue Dauphine [illegible] de l'Esplanade et du Quartier, sur une profondeur irrégulière de 81 pieds 10 pouces, sur lequel lot No. 3, est une maison construite en briques et couverte en terrasse, et dans la cour, une cuisine en colombage couverte en ardoise et un four en briques.

8. Un Terrain désigné audit plan par le No. 4, mesurant 29 pieds 8 pouces de face à la rue du Quartier, entre Dauphine et Bourgogne, sur une profondeur irrégulière de 74 pieds 9 pouces; sur lequel terrain No. 4, se trouve une maison en briques, couverte en tuiles, composée de quatre chambres, et dans la cour, une cuisine en colombage, couverte en ardoise.

9. Un Terrain désigné audit plan par le No. 5, mesurant 38 pieds 2 pouces de face à la rue du Quartier, entre Dauphine et Bourgogne, sur une profondeur régulière de 98 pieds 3 pouces, sur lequel terrain No. 5, est une maison en briques, couverte en tuiles, composée de quatre chambres, et dans la cour, une cuisine en colombage, couverte en ardoise, ainsi qu'un grand hangard en bois.

10. Un Terrain formant l'encoignure Nord des rues Bourgogne et St. Pierre, ayant 45 pieds 6 pouces ou environ de face à la rue Bourgogne, sur 93 pieds ou environ de face à la rue St. Pierre, avec la maison maçonnée entre potens et couverte en tuiles, et autres édifices et dépendances.

11. Un Terrain formant l'encoignure Est des rues Bourgogne et du Maine, ayant 64 pieds de face à la rue Bourgogne et 90 pieds à la rue du Maine; avec une vieille maison briques entre potens, couverte en planches, composée de trois chambres, d'une galerie et de deux cabinets, et dans la cour, une cuisine et autres dépendances.

CONDITIONS:

Le tout, payable moitié à argent et moitié à deux ans de terme, à compter du jour de la vente à Pencas, en billets cautionnés à la satisfaction du vendeur, et portant hypothèque spéciale jusqu'à parfait paiement. Les actes de vente seront passés aux frais des acquéreurs devant Theodore Pierson, notaire public. 28 mars.

[illegible] PERSONNE ayant travaillé [illegible] ans, sait des [illegible] propre à gouverner, économe, soit comme intendant ou pour fournir sur son compte la partie [illegible] les plus avantageuses, peut trouver une place sur une habitation. S'adresser pour plus ample renseignement à Mr. J. Clément, encoignure des rues Chartres et St. Pierre. 26 mars.

DEMANDE DE DOUBLONS.—On a besoin de 250 doublons Espagnols ou Mexicains, pour lesquels on donnera une prime [illegible] du cours. S'adresser immédiatement au bureau de

P. V. BARBET
17 mars rue St. Louis No. 37.

A VENDRE.—VIN de bourgogne mousseux de la 1ère qualité.
4 dec. Tho. Nicoles & Co.

THE [illegible]

[illegible] Congress.

Pen[illegible]

[illegible] Repu[illegible] and [illegible] which was the [illegible] concerning the improvement [illegible] civil code and the code of practice.

At the sitting of Saturday, March 22, a message from the Governor informed the House that he had signed several [illegible] to all and for the [illegible] administration of [illegible] Asylum, and one [illegible] establishment of a [illegible] Church [illegible]

A communication [illegible] Governor for appropriations [illegible] the expenses of the executive [illegible] 1827, were 2,327 [illegible]

At the sitting of March 25th, the House adopted with an amendment, an act, relative to the public [illegible] of the lists of public property [illegible] ment of the [illegible] due the State.

On motion of Mr. Waggaman, the [illegible] at times [illegible] the clerks of the [illegible] ment to [illegible] themselves with the duties [illegible]

CRIMINAL COURT.

Charles [illegible] Charbonier [illegible] Ballard [illegible] thefts.

[illegible] we hear from some [illegible] press an entery [illegible] elsewhere can be shewn a parallel to the bold and baseless allegations with which the partisans of Opposition have persecuted that distinguished republican, Henry Clay, and still continue to persecute him, though every honorable mind is convinced of his entire innocence of the charges of intrigue and corruption.—Boston Pat.

Pittsburg.—About 2,600 persons, with two millions of capital, are employed in the factories of Pittsburg. The Senate of Pennsylvania has passed a bill, permitting the Baltimore and Ohio rail road to enter that State, provided a branch shall be made to Pittsburg; and, as it is important to Baltimore as well as to Pittsburg, that these cities should be "joined together," we hope and trust that such an act passed by Pennsylvania will be cheerfully accepted by the managers of this company. Pittsburg is, and must more and more become, the centre of a vast and valuable business—the place of deposit for mighty quantities of the produce of the soil and industry of Western Pennsylvania and the south eastern section of Ohio; and enjoys many other natural advantages which, in the present state of the public feeling, [illegible] internal improvements [illegible] domestic manufactures, ought not to be neglected, and should be appreciated—in time. Pittsburg is even now supplying iron for the navy of the United States. We wish every success to the industry of her enterprising people, and desire an extension of our domestic competition, as well to relieve us of every dependence on foreigners, as to secure to our people all sorts of commodities at the most reduced prices—which will necessarily follow a [illegible] of the home market to the collective supply; and then things may be safely allowed "to regulate themselves," and they will do it.—Niles.

A Promising Youth.—On Wednesday last, we had the curiosity to weigh and measure a young man, who came to town a few days since in company with his mother, to visit some friends residing here. His height was six feet [illegible] inches, measured round the waist [illegible] feet eight inches, weighed two hundred and ninety-eight pounds, was eighteen years old the fourth day of November last. We are unable to state his place of residence, his name is Daniel Whipple—he is said to have had a severe attack of ague the season past in consequence of which he has undoubtedly lost considerable flesh.—Lansingburgh Observatory. N. Y.

From the Boston Evening Gazette.

Remarkable instance of Parental tenderness.—An instance of parental tenderness was related to me but the day before yesterday, which, (tho it occurred some years ago) as it exhibits the distinguished tenderness of soul of one of our own country women, should not pass [illegible] Misinformation [illegible] residing [illegible] the spot where the occurrence [illegible] and this relation must be [illegible] it was the first [illegible] the story [illegible] of yo[illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] as[illegible] [illegible] ing [illegible] [illegible] tions [illegible] [illegible] late. [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] obscurity [illegible] ceived un[illegible] [illegible] and naval officers [illegible] Spices, [illegible] at [illegible] heir of [illegible] champaign [illegible] the [illegible] day of [illegible] [illegible] artillery. It was [illegible] close of the day, and the [illegible] cannon sent its reverberations [illegible] hill and dale. At the moment when the match was presented to one of the pieces, a young man, in the first enthusiasm of [illegible] rushed forward [illegible] to the mouth of the cannon—at the same instant [illegible] off the charge with it [illegible] shoulders, [illegible] one [illegible] eyes. [illegible] the flame [illegible] a moment [illegible] for [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] the ground, writhing [illegible] and tortured with [illegible] all the solaces of life [illegible] to live; the warm grasp of friendship, the smile of [illegible] ear of [illegible] [illegible] again [illegible] him in his long night of sorrow.

A sight of a spectacle so painfully affecting, every bosom [illegible] with passionate sorrow—for the heart of [illegible] is throng of sensibility. They raised him from the ground & bore him [illegible] in their arms to his residence [illegible] was not far distant. A female came out to receive him. It was his sister. [illegible] her blushes covered with [illegible] ted, sightless, and nearly [illegible] the concourse of friends who followed with bleeding hearts and surrounded the suffering youth, stood unnoticed before her—her eyes riveted only upon one object [illegible] her heart, her soul filled and agitated only with one emotion; nature oppressed [illegible] made of feelings could endure no more: she yielded herself up to wondrously sorrow, and in the touching accents of sympathising tenderness and grief she exclaimed—"Good gracious! if that is the new shirt I made for him last week!"

JOE MEADOWS.

Roxbury, Jan. 23, 1828.

Anecdote of Cromwell.—The following traditionary anecdote of Cromwell is from the relation of an old man, who had heard it repeated many times in his youth by some ancient members of his family. During the times of the commonwealth, there was a scarcity of corn, in consequence of a short harvest. Though it was known that the preceding year had produced plentiful crops, yet the farmers of those days, like some sellers in times of [illegible], artificially increased the scarcity by withholding their grain from the public [illegible] a famine appeared to threaten the metropolis. Upon a market day (I was told by my narrator) at Uxbridge, a stout, rubicund, respectable, gentlemanly man, dressed like a substantial country yeoman, purchased nearly all the supply of grain in the market. The farmers supposing him to be employed by some merchants, or probably by government, were well pleased with him, and invited him to dine at one of the inns in their company, which invitation he accepted. After dinner, whilst regaling themselves over their tobacco, &c. he told them he had a large commission for corn, and was disposed to give a good price. He likewise offered a premium to him who brought the greatest quantity for sale. Accordingly, on the next market day, Uxbridge had never displayed a larger supply of corn. Then too appeared our substantial yeoman, with several attendants and bags of gold. He purchased and paid for nearly all the grain that was brought. The competition among the farmers for the prize had emptied many a groaning granary, and the lucky farmer who had brought the greatest quantity was called for by the gentlemanly purchaser, to receive the [illegible] douceur. Exulting he received and pocketed the money; but as he was turning away from his liberal customer, he was asked by that gentleman to return him two pence which the farmer did accordingly. The gentleman, with a [illegible] leer, said a sly joke, thus addressed him—"Does you know what I pay two pence for?" He answered, "No." Well, then, I'll tell thee. I consider thou art the greatest rogue in this market. This two pence is to purchase a cord to hang thee with. Corporal Stubbs," addressing one of his pretended servants, "there is a rogue twiger over the way. With this two pence buy a rope, and hang this fellow upon the sign post."

[illegible]

[illegible] House at [illegible] pending [illegible] [illegible] day of [illegible] pendence [illegible] artillery. It was [illegible] close of the day, and the [illegible] cannon sent its reverberations [illegible] hill and dale. At the moment when the match was presented to one of the pieces, a young man, in the first enthusiasm of [illegible] rushed forward [illegible] to the mouth of the cannon—at the same instant [illegible] off the charge with it [illegible] shoulders, [illegible] one [illegible] eyes. [illegible] the flame [illegible] a moment [illegible] for [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] the ground, writhing [illegible] and tortured with [illegible] all the solaces of life [illegible] to live; the warm grasp of friendship, the smile of [illegible] ear of [illegible] [illegible] again [illegible] him in his long night of sorrow.

A sight of a spectacle so painfully affecting, every bosom [illegible] with passionate sorrow—for the heart of humanity is throng of sensibility. They raised him from the ground & bore him [illegible] in their arms to his residence [illegible] was not far distant. A female came out to receive him. It was his sister. [illegible] her blushes covered with [illegible] ted, sightless, and nearly [illegible] the concourse of friends who followed with bleeding hearts and surrounded the suffering youth, stood unnoticed before her—her eyes riveted only upon one object [illegible] her heart, her soul filled and agitated only with one emotion; nature oppressed [illegible] made of feelings could endure no more: she yielded herself up to wondrously sorrow, and in the touching accents of sympathising tenderness and grief she exclaimed—"Good gracious! if that is the new shirt I made for him last week!"

JOE MEADOWS.

Roxbury, Jan. 23, 1828.

Anecdote of Cromwell.—The following traditionary anecdote of Cromwell is from the relation of an old man, who had heard it repeated many times in his youth by some ancient members of his family. During the times of the commonwealth, there was a scarcity of corn, in consequence of a short harvest. Though it was known that the preceding year had produced plentiful crops, yet the farmers of those days, like some sellers in times of [illegible], artificially increased the scarcity by withholding their grain from the public [illegible] a famine appeared to threaten the metropolis. Upon a market day (I was told by my narrator) at Uxbridge, a stout, rubicund, respectable, gentlemanly man, dressed like a substantial country yeoman, purchased nearly all the supply of grain in the market. The farmers supposing him to be employed by some merchants, or probably by government, were well pleased with him, and invited him to dine at one of the inns in their company, which invitation he accepted. After dinner, whilst regaling themselves over their tobacco, &c. he told them he had a large commission for corn, and was disposed to give a good price. He likewise offered a premium to him who brought the greatest quantity for sale. Accordingly, on the next market day, Uxbridge had never displayed a larger supply of corn. Then too appeared our substantial yeoman, with several attendants and bags of gold. He purchased and paid for nearly all the grain that was brought. The competition among the farmers for the prize had emptied many a groaning granary, and the lucky farmer who had brought the greatest quantity was called for by the gentlemanly purchaser, to receive the douceur. Exulting he received and pocketed the money; but as he was turning away from his liberal customer, he was asked by that gentleman to return him two pence which the farmer did accordingly. The gentleman, with a [illegible] leer, said a sly joke, thus addressed him—"Does you know what I pay two pence for?" He answered, "No." Well, then, I'll tell thee. I consider thou art the greatest rogue in this market. This two pence is to purchase a cord to hang thee with. Corporal Stubbs," addressing one of his pretended servants, "there is a rogue twiger over the way. With this two pence buy a rope, and hang this fellow upon the sign post."

[illegible]

A [illegible] of Plaquemines, [illegible] the city, at the English Turn, [illegible] the river, having an average [illegible] the ordinary depth of [illegible] on both sides by the [illegible] ing to the late Manuel [illegible] SLAVES, whose names [illegible] known at the time of the [illegible]

Terms:—The Slaves [illegible]

The Plantation, [illegible] equal instalments, at [illegible] years from the day of the [illegible] rily endorsed and [illegible] Plantation.

The same is sold with [illegible] and improvements, [illegible] whole will be found [illegible] exception of the [illegible] will be taken away [illegible] said Tuesday before the [illegible] the purchaser will require [illegible] divided in such lots as will [illegible] The deeds of sale to be passed before Wm. Young Lewis, Esq. notary public. The terms of those sales as well as those of the [illegible] of the [illegible] Feb. [illegible]

J. H. FASSY,

DYER AND SCOWRER, begs leave to inform his friends and the public in general that he has removed his establishment to No. [illegible] St. Peter street, at the side of the Gaol, where he continues the DYING AND SCOWERING business. Ladies' Silks cleaned in the neatest order. Silks cleaned in the neatest manner without damaging its colour. DYING done in all its various colours. He hopes a continuance of those who have favored him with their [illegible] will be executed in the neatest [illegible] on the most reasonable terms.

[illegible] 26.

DRAWN NUMBERS

In the Louisiana Lottery—7th Class,

5—22—4—13

P. V. BARBET'S

Lottery Office, No. 37 St. Louis street, Opposite Hewlett's Exchange.

Those who have obtained [illegible] in the

LOUISIANA LOTTERY—8th class

To be drawn positively on the 5th of April,

HIGHEST PRIZES:

$12,000, 10,000, 8000, 5000, 4000, 2,784, 6 of 1000, 6 of 600, 6 of 400

PRICE OF TICKETS:

Whole Tickets, 6 dollars; Halves, 3 dollars; Quarters, 1 dollar 50 cts.

This Office, No. 37 St. Louis Street, opposite Hewlett's Coffee House, is always open to transact all sorts of Exchange, on foreign [illegible] either in doubloons, napoleons or silver [illegible] &c. [illegible] money [illegible] discount.

5—22—4—13

DRAWN NUMBERS IN THE

Louisiana Lottery—7th Class,

5—21—4—within one of the

HIGHEST PRIZE.

Was sold by

MALCOLM.

Persons holding Prize Tickets, are requested to present them immediately for Payment, the renewal in the 8th Class of the

LOUISIANA LOTTERY,

To be drawn positively on SATURDAY next, the 5th of April, 1828.

—HIGHEST PRIZES,—

$12,000, $10,000, $8,000, $5,000, $4,000, $2,784, 6 of $1000, 6 of $600, 6 of $400—

Tickets amounting to $101,400

PRICE OF TICKETS:

Whole Tickets, $6; Halves, $3; Quarters, $1 50

Packages of 10 Tickets, [illegible]; Certificates of do. [illegible] in proportion.

Apply at

MALCOLM'S Office, sign of the Wheel of Fortune—No. 86, Chartres street—or at 120 St. Ch[illegible] Opposite the Exchange.

THE EXHIBITION

OF THE GREAT

Panorama Picture

OF THE PALACE AND GARDEN

OF VERSAILLES,

IS now open to the public in the building erected for the purpose, on the public square of Rampart street, opposite to Orleans street.

House of exhibition, from 10 A. M. till 5 P. M.

Admittance, [illegible] cents,
Children, [illegible] cents,

To accommodate persons of colour, Monday [illegible] exclusively reserved for them, as likewise the mornings of each day, from 8 till 9.

Subscription—one dollar for each person, during the time of the exhibition.

N. B.—The much admired [illegible] of ARMADE[illegible] also exhibited in the [illegible]

[illegible] Dollars [illegible] be given by applying at BARBET'S Lottery [illegible] No. 37, St. Louis street, opposite Hewlett's Coffee House. march 17

SALE [illegible]

[illegible] Ground [illegible]

[illegible] House [illegible] Lot No. 3 [illegible] Lot No. 11, [illegible]

[illegible] A lot [illegible] designated [illegible] thirteen feet and four inches in depth, bounded on one side by the lot No. 7, on the other side by the lot No. 9, and in the rear by the lot No. 11, together with the improvements thereon.

9th—A lot of ground designated [illegible] in measuring thirty-[illegible] feet in depth, [illegible] No. 8, [illegible] by the lot No. 7, [illegible] in the rear by the lot No. 11, together with the buildings and improvements thereon.

10th—A lot of ground adjoining the former and designated on the same plan by No. 10, measuring fifty-five feet front on Tonnelier street, by one hundred and thirteen feet and four inches in depth, fronting on Tchapitoulas street, bounded on one side by the lot No. 9, and on the other side by the lot No. 11, together with the buildings and improvements thereon.

11th—A lot of ground adjoining the former and designated on the same plan by No. 11, measuring thirty-three feet four inches front on Tchapitoulas street, by one hundred and eighty feet in depth, bounded on one side by the lots No. 10, 9, 8, 7, and 6; on the other side by the lot No. 12, and in the rear by the lot No. 3.

12th—A lot of ground adjoining the former, and designated on the same plan by No. 12, measuring thirty-three feet four inches on Tchapitoulas street, by one hundred and eighty feet in depth, bounded on one side by the lot No. 11, on the other side by the adjoining property, heretofore belonging to the estate of the late Urbain Guillaud, ceased, and in the rear by the lot No. 4.

All the measurement of these twelve lots are French measure.

13—A tract of land situated on the left bank of the river Mississippi, in the parish of West Feliciana, consisting of two grants made to the late Augustin Allain by the Spanish government, according to two plots thereof made by the late Carlos Trudeau then royal surveyor for the province of Louisiana, the one in 1794, the other in 1797; the said two grants measuring together 2705 superficial arpents. The first of these two grants measures 40 arpents front on the river by 40 in depth; and the second in the rear of the first measures 37½ arpents in front by 22 in depth, containing together as above stated 2705 superficial arpents, agreeably to a plan of the [illegible] deposited in the office of the said notary.

TERMS.

The twelve lots of ground in the suburb St. Mary, payable in four equal instalments at one, two, three and four years from the day of sale, in notes satisfactorily endorsed and bearing mortgage respectively on the property [illegible]

The tract of land situated in the parish of West Feliciana, payable one third at one year and the balance in equal instalments at 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 years from the day of sale, in notes satisfactorily endorsed and bearing mortgage on the land.

The notes to be divided in [illegible] as may suit the [illegible] be executed before [illegible] Seghers. The costs of the recording and [illegible] to be paid by the [illegible]

March [illegible]

[illegible] ST[illegible]

CUT [illegible] for sale by [illegible] march 26