PHILADELPHIA.

THE subscriber respectfully announces his return to New Orleans, and will resume the treatment of Hernia for permanent and radical cure, in all its varied forms, together with Varicocele and other diseases, which resemble and are often mistaken for Hernia, agreeable to the new and popular method discovered by Hood and Chase in this branch of surgery. From the recent investigations he has made, during his absence in Philadelphia and elsewhere, he feels confidence in renewing the assurance, that this disease may be as often and as effectually cured as any other chronic disease. On his return he finds, that the result of this method of treatment for the last two years in this city, more than meets his most sanguine expectations.

The following gentlemen, have permitted a reference to their names, in testimony of the efficacy of this method of treatment.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

New Orleans, January 4th 1838.

To the Senate and House of Representatives.

A sense of duty compels me once more to mention the subject of the expedition of the Louisiana volunteers to Florida, in 1836.

Governed by a zeal for the national honor, the General Assembly made a liberal appropriation to defray the expenses incident to the detachment. A portion of the outlay was subsequently refunded by the Paymaster of the United States, leaving, however, a considerable balance in our favor.

The pay rolls are now made up, and the vouchers prepared for transmission to the War Department.

It seems to me to be proper and expedient that, on a preliminary step, the subject should undergo legislative investigation, and that the application of government should be based on the sanction and authority ...

Such a proceeding is not only necessary to the interest of the state, but in the promotion of the objects ... through ... to the ... of ...

PROSPECTUS

ST. CHARLES COLLEGE

IN GRAND COTEAU, LOUISIANA.

THE location of this establishment, at the centre of Grand-Coteau, gives it a sure guarantee for salubrity.

It being the aim and purpose of its directors to fit young men for the different stations of society, it is unnecessary to say that they will omit nothing to prepare them to answer the wants and increasing prosperity of the country.

The system of studies is divided into two courses: the classical, which embraces all the branches of instruction commonly taught in other colleges; and the commercial, which differs from the classical only by the exclusion of the ancient tongues.

Pupils who are not sufficiently advanced to be admitted into either of these courses, will be prepared for them in the elementary classes.

The English, French and Spanish languages are comprised in the general course of education; but the German and Italian, as also music, drawing, painting, &c. are left to the choice and expenses of parents or guardians.

All means of emulation shall be used to exercise the talents of the scholars, to excite them to the love of labour, and make them contract early habits of diligence and industry. There will be also, during the year, stated literary exercises to accustom them to speak publicly.

Wholesome study and recreation, an abundant and wholesome diet, varied gymnastic exercises: all concur to preserve and improve the health of the pupils.

Every quarter, parents will receive a bulletin whereby they will be informed of their children's health, conduct, application and success.

The premiums each year to mimeses by the distribution of prizes; and this is always preceded by particular examinations and public exercises. The last bulletin will yearly announce the precise day of this distribution, and the time when the classes will recommence.

Conditions.

The age of admission is from 9 to 18 years.

Such students whose behavior and conduct will give pernicious examples to their companions, will be immediately sent back to their parents.

The price of board and tuition is 200 dollars, payable in advance: the first half, at the beginning of the scholastic year; and the second, in the month of March.

The accessory expenses are estimated at 60 dollars; in which are included the following articles.

Bed and mattress, washing, mending, medicine, doctor's visits, use of library, maps and globes, stationary;—material expenses for divers means of emulation, encouragement and reward;—medical attendance and pharmacy.

For Drawing (including paper and pencils,) $4 per month.

Music, $4 per month.

During the course of the year, no student is permitted to leave for any time the College, except in case of sickness or for some important reason; and no deduction is made for an absence of less than a month.

Clothing and Furniture.

Each student, on entering the College is required to bring with him the following articles:

2 pair of Sheets; 1 Mosquito-bar; 2 pair of Blankets; 1 Coverlet; 1 Pillow (of feathers long); 12 changes of Linen; 12 pair Stockings; 4 pair Drawers; 6 Cravats; 12 Pocket Handkerchiefs; 1 Black Hat; 1 Cap; 4 Napkins; 6 Towels; 1 silver Spoon; 1 do Cup; 1 steel Fork; 1 table Knife.

Uniform.

In addition to the above, every one must have the undescribed uniform, which will only be used on Sundays and festivals, consisting of:

A deep blue cloth Coat with black velvet collar and shining brass buttons; white Pantaloons for summer and deep blue cloth for winter; black silk Waistcoat; black Cravat.

All these clothes should be marked with the number assigned to each student.

Parents, except in and from parents or guardians, are subject to the inspection of the President. Those assigned to the President or scholars must be post paid.

Application for admission and further information to be made at New Orleans, to Mr. Bouny's house; at St. Michael, to Rev. M. Bouny or Donaldson; to Rev. M. Rossi at Natchitoches, to Rev. M. Dabezies ...

N. B.—1st. The opening of the classes will take place the 15th of January next, for 24 pupils only, as number of whom is already made. A larger number cannot be received until Easter, at which time the buildings will be finished.
