NEW-ORLEANS.

TUESDAY, (MORNING,) FEBRUARY 15, 1831.

All the mails of late seem to be entirely occupied with the transportation of old papers—arrears of some weeks past. We approve of this, as it affords assurance that we shall ere long have done with that sort of trash, and commence receiving something that will be more available in our line.

"The Christian party in Politics."—We have no knowledge of any such political party as that pretended to be designated by the terms above quoted. No party, to our knowledge, has assumed any such title, or advanced any pretensions that might be considered tantamount. Nor do we believe that there exists in these United States, any body of men or class of citizens, that would desire to blend the political and religious institutions of the country together. We do believe, however,—and the certainty of it is almost daily demonstrated before our eyes—that there exists a very numerous party, a great part of which is identified with a certain political party, that might fairly be designated as Anti-christian; and which really is so, in theory and in practice. A party which is opposed to every thing liberal and beneficial in the operations of government; which would set at naught good order and wholesome society; which aims to degrade and proscribe our most enlightened, virtuous and patriotic citizens, and to fill the offices and employments of the government with men, the whole tenor of whose lives has been bad and vicious; and which alas! has been but too successful in its exertions:—which is so exclusively selfish, that its charities not only begin at home, but always end there; which is not content with neglecting to do any thing itself, for the cause of suffering humanity, but by its scoffing and sneers would prevent all others from performing their benevolent intentions.

Such are a few of the characteristics of the Anti-christian party, which we have had too much reason to know does exist in this country. The liberal and the benevolent meet its opposition at the threshold of every undertaking. At one time they have to encounter "constitutional scruples;" at another, "policy and expediency" are interposed; and as a last resource, some other object of paramount claims is resorted to and pressed, but always abandoned by its supporters as soon as the first can be defeated. Look abroad throughout the land, and see what men, and what sections of the country, have done most for the establishment of literary, charitable and religious institutions—every thing in fine, that can meliorate the condition of man upon earth. They are precisely those men, and those sections of the country that are eternally reviled by others that have never done any thing.

To conclude the amusements of the Carnival, there will be given this evening, (Shrove-Tuesday,) at the Orleans Ball Room, a splendid dress and masquerade ball: and in order to contribute to the satisfaction of all who may attend, and afford the most ample room and accommodations, the great hall of the Theatre will be thrown open for the reception of company. The performances at the Theatre will commence at half past 6 o'clock precisely, and conclude before eleven o'clock, or less than half an hour afterwards; all the arrangements and preparations will be made to receive company in the hall. We are informed that great pains will be taken to perfect the arrangements, and that the two halls will be decorated in a style truly rich and magnificent.

Criminal Court February 14th.

The State, vs. James Fleming. } Assault with intent to commit the crime of murder.—The defendant was tried by a Jury and found guilty of assault and battery. He was this day brought before the court and sentenced to an imprisonment of two years, to pay a fine of three hundred dollars, the costs of the prosecution; and stand committed till the fine and costs be paid.

James Brown (alias Jack of Clubs) accused of having murdered one Bordep, on the 26th January last, near the blue stores on the Levee, was tried on Saturday last and the Jury after receiving the charge of the Court, withdrew, and in less than 10 minutes returned with a verdict of guilty of murder. The prisoner was remanded to prison to await the sentence of the law.

It is now said that the armistice between Messrs. Calhoun and Van Buren, does not embrace the President. The rupture between the P. and V. P. is alledged to be incurable. The Philadelphia Enquirer says there will be three candidates for President in the field. President Jackson, through the Globe, in an article which we shall review to morrow, signifies his willingness to serve again if elected.—Serve again! aye—he will serve just as long as the good people will elect him, were it for forty years.—No man of his complexion, ever relinquished power voluntarily. This the reader will remember, we have predicted all along. If we want to put the government of the U. States once more into intelligent hands—if we hope to get rid of the combination of imbecility, ignorance and tyranny, which now rules it the people must do it for themselves. These men will never lay down their power voluntarily.—Richmond Whig.

The Globe—the Telegraph—and THE Hero.

The U. States Telegraph has almost given up the ghost, in anticipation of that catastrophe which is generally supposed to be at hand—it will succession namely, by the "Globe"—a paper established since the meeting of Congress, without prospectus, or previous subscriber (we presume)—a strange fact, which speaks volumes and denotes the reliance of its founders upon power and its promises. As the Globe goes up the Telegraph goes down. Its columns have presented during this winter, the most remarkable contrast with its becoming and dumineering character it exhibited during the days of its "palmy state." Duff—the amiable and voluble Duff—has no longer a word to throw at a dog. The Cuckoo note of the "Coalition"—the slang of "bargain, intrigue and corruption"—the praises of Hero—and (strangest of all!) even abuse of Henry Clay, have ceased to adorn its columns, and moderate the zeal of Jacksonism. The harp of this sweet bard of scurility, mendacity and Old Western Jacksonism, (for its could never have circulation to any extent, in Virginia,) is hung upon the willows. The Globe is now the organ for, that combine Jacksonism with Van Burenism—and through the Globe, the Hero is now supposed to intimate his wishes, or declare his will—(supposed by many people, to be one and the same thing.)

Whatever the cause, it is plain that the Telegraph is no longer in power—whether because its vulgarities and indecency have become intolerable to its own friends—or that it suffers the depression which pertains to whatever is Calhoun, under the new admitted ascendancy of the northern planet—or from both united—we know not the cause, but the effect is obvious and palpable. The Telegraph born of patron age, must sink in the Washington Republican in its almost foreign grave; and this seems to be foreseen and premeditated, as manifested in the attempt and [illegible] making, of providing for Duff a post, that will enable him to live at the rack and manger of the Treasury, when the head of the Telegraph itself, (world catastrophe!) is snuffed out, forever.

The "Globe" we say, is now the go. That paper assumes the defence of the Ministry in all things, speaks for the Republican Party in all cases, and is generally viewed at Washington as the true organ of the sentiments and wishes of Government.—Ibid.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 26.—On Monday night, Mortimer Cunningham, the post master at Abingdon, Harford County, in this State, was committed to the jail of this city, under, as we believe, the following circumstances; For some weeks past it has been obvious that that the mails of Washington, Baltimore, Elkton, Wilmington, and some offices in Delaware, were detained and pillered by some person entrusted with them on the line of communication between these places. Measures were concerted between the postmasters of Wilmington, Elkton, Havre de Grace and Baltimore, which soon established the conclusion that the robberies were perpetrated at some point between Elkton and Baltimore,—and resulted in such a manner as warranted Judge Glenn in issuing process against Cunningham on Monday morning, under which he was apprehended and committed as above stated. We understand further, that the warrant of apprehension was issued on the oath of Mr. Grub, of the Wilmington post office, acting as the Agent of the Department, who deserves much credit for the activity and address which he displayed on the occasion. It was not without obstinate resistance that Cunningham was taken. American.

From the annual report of the operations of the U. S. Mint, we learn that of the amount of gold coined within the last year, about $125,000 were derived from Mexico, South America and the West Indies; 19,000 from Africa; 466,000 from the gold region of the United States, and about 33,000 from sources not ascertained. Of the gold of the United States above mentioned $24,000 may be stated to have been received from Virginia, 204,000 from North Carolina, 26,000 from South Carolina and 212,000 from Georgia. It is singular that previous to the past year no specimen of gold had been presented at the mint from Georgia.—C. City Gaz.

It appears by a statement in the Utica Intelligencer, that there are fifteen cotton factories in the country of Oneida (three of which are not in operation); which have 25,192 spindles, and employ 120 men and 853 boys and girls. The quantity of cotton annually manufactured, is 1,250,000 lbs which at an average cost of 12 1-2 cents, amounts to $125,000, leaving a balance for labor and interest of investments, of $38,750 The present value of the twelve factories in operation, is estimated at $255,000, the original cost of which was $750,000.

Besides the above, the Oriskany woollen factory has 1,500 spindles, 30 power and 5 hand looms; and manufactures annually $130,000 worth of goods, consuming 100,000 lbs wool, at 50 cents per lb; and employs 47 men and 60 boys and girls.

There are also within the county of Oneida, 3 glass factories, 3 blast furnaces, 3 extensive manufactories of machinery, besides tanneries, distilleries, paper-mills, &c.

THE ANTI TARIFF DOCTRINE.

I happen to have in my collection of old things the reports made 10th Feb. 1802, and the report of the 21st of the same month, 1803—alluded to in the resolution offered by Mr. Howard; and add a brief extract from each, just sufficient to show the scope and bearing of them; and to both are appended the names of the committee by which these reports were made. It will be seen that these extracts cover every inch of ground that I have ever attempted to take. I merely contrast these things now—but if Mr Ritchie accepts my "challenge," he shall have a surfeit on facts as to the constitutionality of a protective Tariff—some derived from Virginia, and perhaps a few from his own infallible judgment; that is, infallible, for so long as the wind does not change.

Extract from the Report of the Committee of Commerce and Manufactures, as made to the United States House of Representatives, February 10, 1802, by Gen. Samuel Smith, the Chairman of the Committee.

"That in the opinion of your Committee such manufactures as are obviously capable of affording to the United States an adequate supply of their several and respective objects, ought to be promoted by the aid of Government. Two modes of administering this aid have presented themselves to your Committee. The one to permit free of duty the importation of such gross articles as are essential to these manufactures. The other, to impose higher duties on such articles (on importation) as can be supplied by our own citizens to advantage. That at the present juncture, our infant manufactures peculiarly demand and merit the PROTECTION of Government. Exempt as the foreign manufactures will now be, from the charges of war freight and war insurance, the manufacturing interest of the United States, will not be capable of entering into a competition with them on equal terms, without the friendly interposition of Government.

The committee of commerce and manufactures, appointed Tuesday, December 8, 1801, were Messrs. Smith of Maryland, Eustis of Mass. Dana of Connecticut, Mitchell of New York, Jones of Pennsylvania, Newton of Va., and Lowndes of South Carolina.

Extract from a Report of the Committee of Commerce and Manufactures, to whom the memorials of certain manufactures were committed as made to the United States' House of Representatives on the 21st February, 1803.

"That justice to the petitioners and sound policy point to the necessity of granting Government aid for the PROTECTION of such manufactures as are obviously capable of affording to the United States, an adequate supply of their several and respective objects either by admitting free of duty the raw article essential to their manufacture, and which cannot be procured in the United States, or by imposing a higher duty than is paid on those articles, to the manufacture whereof our citizens are incompetent.

"The Committee take leave to observe, that the duties now payable on importation do not, in their opinion, operate as protecting duties to our infant manufactures—because that the duties on almost all the articles of consumption being nearly equal, the manufactures of the United States are charged therewith in every thing they consume, and the journeyman being compelled to pay for every thing he consumes, at least 28 per cent more than he would be obliged to pay, if such articles did not exist; he must, of course, be paid in proportion for his labor. Your committee are therefore induced to believe that the present duties on imports operate as an injury rather than a benefit to the manufacturer of the U. States.

The report concludes with a resolution, calling on the Secretary of the Treasury to prepare and lay before Congress at their next session, a plan for the laying new and more specific duties, &c.

Committee for 1802.

Mr. Smith, of Maryland, Mr. Dana of Connecticut, Mr. Mitchell, of New-York, Mr. Newton, of Va., Mr. Wynn, of North Carolina, Mr. Hunt, of New-Hampshire, and Mr. Lieb, of Pennsylvania.
