CITY PAPER, ... COUNTRY PAPER, ...

"Truth is omnipotent, and Public Justice certain."

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,

HENRY CLAY.

(Subject to the decision of the American People.)

NEW-ORLEANS:

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 29, 1842.

THIRTEEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ACADIA.

The steamship Acadia, Capt. Ryrie, arrived at Boston on the 17th inst., having made her passage to Halifax in ten days and a half, and to Boston in twelve days and a half—a most extraordinary passage for the season. She brought 52 passengers to Halifax and 46 to Boston.

The accounts by this arrival are of minor interest. Mercantile matters seem to remain in a miserably depressed state, with the exception of cotton, in which a temporary advance of ⅛d. per lb. was established at Philadelphia. The house of Coventry & Hunter, in London, had failed for £100,000; and the accounts from the South of France bring an appalling list of corn houses failing in Marseilles. Money was abundant in England.

The steamship British Queen arrived at Southampton on the 3d inst., after a passage of 27 days. Great apprehension for her safety had been entertained.

Queen Victoria was about visiting the Duke of Wellington, at Walmer Castle, near Dover.

The works for raising the Télemaque from the ground where she has so long lain, off Quillebœuf, are going on slowly but surely. The amount of treasure contained in her is variously estimated from 30,000,000 to 80,000,000 francs. Among it, is supposed to be the almost priceless necklace of Marie Antoinette.

Mr. Everett, our Minister at the British Court, was at Paris at the last accounts.

Wadsworth, the poet, has received a pension from the Government of £300.

A new work by Dickens is announced to be commenced on the 1st of January next, to be continued monthly.

Among the deaths of celebrated persons, we notice those of Prince Galitzin, at Paris; Sergeant Spencie, the eminent London barrister; and Sir William McRae, Lord Advocate for Scotland.

The London Herald renews the rumor of Louis Philippe's meditated abdication of the throne in favor of the Duke de Nemours—as Regent, of course.

The death of Dr. Herschell, the celebrated Jewish Rabbi, at the age of 81, is mentioned in the papers.—His funeral was marked by impressive ceremonies.

CONSPIRACY OF THE CHARTISTS TO BREAK OPEN STAFFORD GAOL.

On Wednesday the greatest excitement prevailed among the authorities of the county of Stafford, and the persons in charge of the gaol, in consequence of the deep laid and well concocted plan of the rioters confined in it to effect their escape. At an early hour a letter said to have been written by a prisoner named O'Neil, who is under sentence, was put into the Governor's hands. This letter disclosed the plan of the prisoners, and informed the Governor of the time when the plan was to be carried into execution.

It is said that Henry Ellis, who is under sentence of transportation for the burning of the Rev. Dr. Vale's house, was the leader of the conspiracy, and on him was found the plan of action adopted by him and his fellow prisoners. They were to have seized the wardsman as soon as they were allowed to go into the day room. Having seized him, they would secure him in some safe place, and take from him a key which led to an adjoining room, in which were sixty stand of arms. They were to possess themselves of those arms, and, thus prepared for any opposition that might present itself, they intended to make prisoners the persons in charge of the gaol, and liberate all the chartists who are at present in custody. They would then fight their own way from the town, if they could not escape from detection.—What would have been the ulterior mode of action is a secret.

The Governor has sent off an express to the Secretary of State, detailing the whole conspiracy, and requesting that immediate instructions may be forwarded.

At this moment the jail is in a state of seige, and is guarded on all sides, so that any attempt to escape on the part of the rioters will be promptly and effectually met. There are four pieces of cannon within the jail, and all the sentries within the walls are doubled, and constantly visited by the Governor. It is supposed that the detection of this conspiracy will hasten the departure of the convicts sentenced to transportation.—London paper.

AN AMERICAN SHIP DESTROYED BY FIRE.—The Bordeaux journals give an account of the total destruction by fire of the American ship Havre, of 470 tons, Capt. McKowen, lately arrived in that port from New Orleans, and intending to return immediately in ballast. It appears that the flames broke out at two o'clock in the morning. The most prompt exertions were made by the firemen of the town and the troops of the garrison to extinguish them, but all in vain; for no sooner were they mastered at one point, than they broke out with increased violence at another. This is attributed to the effect of the water acting upon her cargo, which was chiefly rosin.

No hopes of saving the hull remained, and all endeavors were necessarily confined to clearing away as much of the rigging and other moveable articles as possible. At twelve o'clock in the day, the foremast fell into the river, and was soon followed by the others. At three o'clock the vessel was still burning, and formed a spectacle which attracted thousands of beholders. At 6 o'clock, her remains were completely submerged by the flood tide.

Reports were circulated that the crew had got drunk, and set fire to the ship in four places at once, and afterwards abandoned her, carrying with them all they could lay hands on; but, as a judicial inquiry has been instituted, the truth or falsehood of this imputation will no doubt be known. Three negroes belonging to the Havre have been taken into custody.

[The ship Havre sailed from the port of Boston for New Orleans, about three months since.]

The English papers give disastrous accounts of the ravages of the storm about the end of October.—A large number of vessels were wrecked; several greatly injured, or driven ashore. The loss of life in some instances was terrible. Many vessels, whose names are unknown, sunk with all their crews on board.

FRANCE.

The principal subjects of discussion in the papers are the proposed commercial treaty with Belgium, the usual complaint in regard to the course of England, and the removal of General Pajol from the command of the first military division, by order of Marshall Soult. Gen'l. Pajol had done the State some service in the July revolution, and was regarded with great respect and reverence. His dismissal is severely censured by the opposition papers. Gen'l. Tiburce Sebastiani is appointed his successor.

The following appears in one of the London papers, but in another we see its statements denied.

The cabinet of the Tuileries has proposed to the British government the abrogation of the treaties of 1831 and 1833, by which the mutual right of search for the prevention of the slave trade was established, and the adoption, instead of it, of the system agreed upon between England and America, that each country should maintain an equal naval force on the west coast of Africa as a check on malpractices under its own flag.

As an inducement to this, M. Guizot expresses his perfect willingness at once to enter on the discussion of a commercial treaty between France and England. Lord Aberdeen has evaded any definite answer to the first proposal, by merely stating that no change can be made in the existing relations as to the right of search till the expiry of the period for which French letters of marque were granted to English cruisers. This will be next year. With respect to the treaty of commerce his lordship is anxious to meet the French government half way.

SPAIN.

From Spain there is nothing of interest. All apprehensions of a change or modification of the Ministry have ceased. Zurbano is appointed Inspector of Customs by land and sea, in the province of Catalonia.

The Gazette contains a decree providing for the establishment of a lazaretto at Vigo, and suppressing the temporary lazarettos opened at Santander, Bilbos, and Corunna, for the accommodation of vessels arriving from the West India Islands and the Mexican Gulf, and which are only to remain open until the 1st of June, 1843. Vessels arriving from those seas will hereafter perform quarantine at Vigo, Mahon, or Santa Cruze de Teneise.

The Minister of Finance was said to have already prepared the budget of 1843, in which the deficit was only estimated at 20 millions reals ($200,000.) Senor Calatrava was still anxious to obtain from the Cortes an extraordinary contribution of 300 million reals, which he intended applying to the payment of the contractors, without drawing on the receipts of the State.

PORTUGAL.

The Portuguese commissioners appointed to negotiate a mutual reduction of customhouse duties between Portugal and Great Britain, have at length given in their ultimatum, which it is thought will not be accepted by the latter in consequence of the partial and inequitable character of the proposed reduction.

From the Cape of Good Hope, accounts have been received of the termination of the insurrection at Port Natal, and the return of part of the expedition under Colonel Clote. A free pardon was granted, the rebels having made a solemn declaration of their submission to the Queen.

BELGIUM.

The Belgian government, it seems, has resolved to make reprisals for the port charges exacted here on the British Queen. According to the Moniteur Belge the following ordinance has been decreed:—

"The vessels of the United States will in future be subjected in Belgian ports to the tonnage and pilotage dues chargeable according to the regulations in force. The reimbursement of the tolls of the Scheldt is provisionally suspended as regards the vessels of the United States."

Intelligence had been received at Constantinople, according to the Augsburgh Gazette, that the Shah of Persia had accepted the mediation of Great Britain to arrange the differences between him and the Ottoman Porte.

The new Russian and Turkish tariff will come into operation on the 19th of July next, by which Russia continues to secure the advantage of 3 per cent. paid by other nations.

The election of Prince Alexander [illegible] ... the Porte, and messengers have been despatched to invest him with his dignity.

The King of the French arrived in Paris ... and presided at a Cabinet Council.

A letter from St. Petersburgh of the 11th October says—"We have this moment received information that the greater part of the city of Pekin has been destroyed by fire."

At Constantinople a courier had arrived from Bagdad with private accounts, which assert that a British force, commanded by Gen. Pollock, had reached Cabul and invested it. They add that Gen. Pollock had offered conditions to the inhabitants, which, if they rejected, he was determined to carry the town by storm.

From the London Standard of Nov. 3.

MARKET AND CITY INTELLIGENCE.

Two o'clock.—The accounts received from the cotton manufacturing districts this week are a shade more favorable. Some of the provincial papers make a merit of the discovery that purchasers have become satisfied that prices have reached the lowest point, and that the manufacturers are, in consequence, refusing orders at the present rates. This is, unfortunately, however, a discovery without possessing the charm of novelty. From the change which has come over the spirit of the dreams of the Americans, which has put an end to their castle-building on a foundation of inconvertible bank paper, the price of the raw material of the cotton manufacture has gradually been reduced to the level of affording no more than the average rate of profit on production. As far, therefore, as it forms an element in the price of the manufactured article, there is no rational ground of expecting lower prices.

Public securities are firmer this morning. Consols have been done at 93 7-8, for money, whilst the highest quotation for account has been 93¾, constituting what in Stock Exchange phraseology is denominated a backadation. Exchequer bills continue at 57 59 p. m.

FOUR O'CLOCK.

Consols for account closed at 93 7-8. Spanish Bonds, 17 3-4.

From the Morning Chronicle, Nov. 3.

STATE OF THE MONEY MARKET.—It is stated in the accounts lately received from the U. States, that men of all parties and classes are beginning to occupy themselves seriously in the consideration of plans for restorating of State credit, as the best means of restoring the general prosperity. We hail this movement as the dawning of better days, both for America and for England, and we rejoice that it should come from the people generally, the source of all power in the States. It will render the measures adopted more certain in their effects, and more honorable to the Federal Republic. The credit of America being restored, and our corn laws placed on the proper footing, the two countries may begin together a long career of prosperity.

FROM TEXAS.

By the politeness of Mr. WADE, clerk of the steam ship Neptune, from Galveston, we have been furnished with files of papers to the 26th inst.

By late advices from Houston, the army had taken up its line of march to the Medina, preparatory to a general movement on the Rio Grande. Their number is variously estimated at from 1300 to 1800 men. They were abundantly supplied with every article of food except coffee and tobacco. The march was to begin on the 9th or 10th inst. Some of the soldiers were sadly in want of shoes and blankets. Other letters mention that great dissatisfaction existed among the drafted troops, most of whom were anxious of returning to their families. The volunteers, however, to a man are determined to go to the Rio Grande.—The whole force of the Mexicans east of the mountains does not exceed 3000. The Houston Telegraph says: "The forces now under Gen. Woll at Lampasos, making only 1500 men, and the five hundred at Matamoros, are probably all the effective troops that can be raised to oppose our army. If, therefore, we should once reach the Rio Grande, and learn the true weakness of the enemy, there would scarcely be an obstacle interposed to the conquest of these provinces."

Mr. Napoleon B. Garner was killed in San Augustine a fortnight ago by Gen. J. Pinckney Henderson. Garner was a perfect desperado, and had threatened to shoot Gen. Henderson. He was in the act of carrying his menace into effect, when the latter stepped into a house, obtained a gun and anticipated his enemy by killing him on the spot.

The Legislature had assembled, but as yet was without a quorum.

The Lipan tribe of Indians have split into two parties—one led on by John Castro, and the other by Flacco. The latter remains faithful to the interests of Texas. The former proceeded westward, and have possibly joined the Mexicans.

[FROM OUR NEW-YORK CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 19, 1842.

This day has been one of the most exciting ever witnessed in New York, and that is saying a good deal. It was fixed for the execution of John C. Colt, for the murder of Samuel Adams, in September of last year. I need not refer to the particulars of it, as they are no doubt fresh in the memory of your readers, he having done business in New Orleans, and lectured there and along the valley of the Mississippi. All attempts to delay the execution of the sentence, and all appeals to the clemency of the Executive having failed, an immense mob collected early in the morning around the city prison, commonly termed "The Tombs," a large massy building, in a strange Egyptian style of architecture, erected but a few years since. It is surmounted by a large cupola of wood at least seventy feet high. The long time which has elapsed since the sentence of condemnation was passed on Colt and the unceasing efforts made to obtain his pardon, had induced among the mob a belief that he would not be executed, and that mercy would be shown to him in consequence of his connexions and his command of money. This caused a great deal of exasperation out of doors, and loud threats were heard from the assembled multitude that if he was spared, they would break open the doors and execute him themselves. The sheriff, at Colt's request, delayed the execution till the last moment the law allowed. A few minutes before 4 o'clock, and at mid-day, the strange scene was enacted in his cell of marrying him to Caroline Henshaw, the female with whom he had cohabited for some years, and by whom he had a son. His brothers, counsel and friends were passing in and out, and taking leave of him till about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when strange to say, he was left alone at his desire by every one. The arrangements for his execution in the interior of the prison were all completed, the spectators were ranged in rows, allowing a path for him to pass to the gallows, constables with staffs in large numbers were keeping order, and as 4 o'clock approached, the scene was one of painful interest. At ten minutes before that hour, when all eyes were turned to the door expecting the criminal to appear, a deputy sheriff rushed in and announced that he had killed himself. In the midst of the confusion that followed, and not two minutes afterwards, a cry of fire arose, and flames were seen issuing from the large cupola of the building I have before described.—The moment was awful. The crowd looked on terror struck, but soon recovering themselves, a belief ran through them that the strange scene before them was all a contrivance to save Colt. To satisfy them, as many as possible were admitted to view the body. He was found lying on his cot with a Spanish knife plunged into his heart, and so deliberately had he proceeded that he had at first cut a hole through his waistcoat, shirt, and under waistcoat, to admit its passage. A Coroner's Inquest was held on the body, but nothing was elicited. The cupola burned brightly for about an hour, and was then extinguished, the engines preventing it spreading to the body of the building. It was evidently caused by accident, the keeper who is stationed there having left it to see the execution, he had previously made a large fire in the stove, which becoming very much heated, communicated to the wood work.

The mob is still very large about the jail—9 o'clock at night—but I hope no disturbance will ensue. Culpable negligence there has been in the sheriff, no doubt, as Colt's person had not even been searched, and such is the exasperation in consequence, that the respectable papers have been requested to be silent on the subject.

I sent you this morning a file of English papers, received by the steamer of the 4th. Political news they are entirely devoid of. The Liverpool Cotton Market is, it is true, a little better, but business is still horribly depressed.

FROM FLORIDA.—The Savannah papers contain late intelligence from Florida. Gen'l Worth had arrived at Tampa Bay, and all remained quiet there.—About one half of the Creeks remaining in Florida, had come in at Tampa; the remainder were daily expected. The war is, for the last time, we hope, definitively closed.

☞ The property of Nicholas Biddle was bought in by Mr. Biddle for the sum of $8,000. It cost $130,000. The sale is disputed, and the Sheriff of Bucks county has declined delivering the title deeds until the case is settled by law.

THE MIDNIGHT CRY.—A paper has been started in New York, bearing the above ominous title and intended to support the doctrines of Mr. MILLER, and to urge the reasons in favor of his belief in the second coming of Christ in 1843.

GEORGIA.—A bill has been introduced, by Mr. Smith of Bibb county, into the House of Representatives of Georgia, dividing the state into eight Congressional districts.

☞ We are indebted to the officers of the steamboat Belle Air, for late St. Louis papers.

☞ The clerk of the steamboat Maz[eppa] has our thanks for late Vicksburg and Concordia papers.

SPECIE.—The ship Edouard from Havre, brought $24,000 and 43,960f. in specie.

FIRE.

This morning, at half past one o'clock, a fire broke out in the large three story house No. 16, Exchange Place, occupied on the ground floor by Messrs. Hepburn & Turpin, brokers, and several lawyer's offices in the upper story. The whole building was destroyed.

We are sorry to announce that Mr. Taylor was obliged to throw himself from a window of the third story on the pavement, fracturing his skull and receiving such severe contusions that his life is despaired of.

A painful rumor is circulating that "Old Joe," the bar-keeper of the Merchants' Exchange, who slept in the third story, is missing and must inevitably have perished in the flames.

THEATRE.—We congratulate the citizens of New-Orleans as well as visitors, upon the near completion of the New American, Poydras street. The arrangements of the interior are convenient, and calculated to give the largest number of persons pleasant seats and a good view of the stage. We do not know what engagements have been made to secure a good company; but hope that this department has been attended to with Mr. CALDWELL's usual foresight and judgment.

There can be scarcely a doubt that the new establishment will be well patronized; and if the company is got together with a spirit becoming the enterprise which has, in so short a space of time, erected a commodious and tasteful theatre upon the ruins of the old American, a most brilliant season is before the manager.

By the way we have heard nothing of the Italian opera of late.

M. LE BARON ROGER French Consul for the port of Orleans, arrived in our city yesterday.

STEAMBOAT BURNT.—Steamer Gen. Pratte, which left this port for St. Louis, with a full cargo, 20 cabin and 400 deck passengers, was burnt to the water's edge on the 22d inst., a few miles above Memphis. Fortunately no lives were lost, having been rescued on board of a flat boat which the Gen. Pratte had in tow. The boat, cargo and passenger's baggage were totally lost.

The steamer Patrick Henry, struck a snag and sunk in six feet water, six miles above Memphis. The boat will probably be raised—cargo damaged.

☞ We take pleasure of referring our readers to the advertisement of Mr. HITCHCOCK in our columns to-day. Mr. H. proposes to establish a Seminary for Young Ladies. He brings with him the highest recommendations from Professor Bache, Mr. Chandler of the U. S. Gazette and many others.

SPECIE.—Ship Troy, captain Hill, brought $90,500 in specie.

Per Wagram, from Boston, $2,000.

☞ The letter of our New York Correspondent, containing the particulars of the marriage and suicide of COLT, will be found very interesting.

☞ A memorial is circulating among the citizens for signatures, petitioning the Legislature to establish a Mutual Insurance Company, and setting forth the advantages of such a law.

☞ The statement that the gin-house of Mr. McGehee was destroyed by fire, communicated by the loco motive of the West Feliciana Rail Road, is contradicted by the Enquirer.

☞ Our readers may remember the intense excitement created in New York, about a year ago, by the mysterious disappearance and supposed murder of MARY RODGERS, the beautiful segar girl, as she was called. The Tribune of the 18th, professes to explain this hitherto inscrutable affair, and states that a Mrs. Loss, on her death-bed, confessed that Mary Rodgers called at her house, in company with a young physician, whose name is not given, by whom she was prematurely delivered. While in the hands of the physician, she died. Her body was sunk in the river, and her clothes scattered in the woods, where they were found. This statement, however, is entirely discredited by the declaration of Justice MERRITT, the individual before whom the confession is alledged to have been made, that no such examination took place, and the deranged state of Mrs. Loss's mind precluded the possibility of any coherent statement being furnished.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.—Full returns for governor have been received. They are as follows:—For DAVIS, (whig,) 54,545; for MORTON, (locofoco,) 56,231, scattering, 6,600. No choice. Of the members of Congress, the locos have elected one—WILLIAMS; and the whigs three—ADAMS, WINTHROP and BURNELL; in the six remaining districts, there is no choice. In regard to the Legislature, the Senate, according to one account, stands 10 whigs and 16 locofocos; according to another, 14 whigs and 16 locofocos. The House, if the Atlas be correct, is composed of 130 whigs and 126 locofocos. The Post, (locofoco), makes the House consist of 129 whigs, 139 locofocos, and 1 abolitionist. In many towns there is no choice, and new elections will be held. A great effort will be made by both parties to secure the balance of power, and the result is extremely doubtful. The governor will be chosen by the Legislature, after the vacancies in the Senate are filled.

LIVERPOOL COTTON-MARKET, OCT. 29.

The demand since our last report has improved, and the transactions, compared with those of several weeks past are much increased, enabling the holders of common qualities of Surat and common to middling fair qualities of American to obtain fully ⅛d. advance on our quotations of Friday; in other kinds there is not any change, but on the whole the market is decidedly steadier, with a more healthy appearance. Speculators have taken 6,000 bales of American and 3,500 bales of Surat, and exporters 860 bales of American. The sales to-day are 5,000 bales, including at least 1,000 on speculation, and the market closes favourably for holders. The import this week is 11,212 bags, and the sales are 27,960;—190 Sea Islands, 9½ @ 18;—4,610 Upland, 3⅞ @ 6½; 9,470 New-Orleans, 4 @ 8;—4,600 Alabama, &c. 4½ @ 7⅛;—250 Pernambuco, 6½ @ 7¾; 810 Bahia, Maceio, 6 @ 6¾;—740 Maranham, 5½ @ 6½.

LIVERPOOL CORN-EXCHANGE, Nov. 1.—A moderate quantity of Irish Flour and Oatmeal, with 6,175 brls. of Canadian, and 606 sacks of Flour from Venice, forms the principal arrivals since this day se'night. Flour of all descriptions continued to move off in tolerable quantities to consumers, at former prices.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—There is every prospect of the duties remaining prohibitory for some time to come.

LIVERPOOL, NOV. 2.

Since the last steamer sailed we have had some increase of demand for Cotton, with some speculative purchases, during which the middling qualities advanced ⅛d ⅜ lb. but there was not much animation or spirit in the market at any time, and in the last few days the speculative buying having ceased the improvement is lost, or nearly so, and the market has again relapsed into a languid, heavy state, with prices about the same as on the 18th and 21st ult. and the fair and good qualities quite as difficult to realize. The business for the week ended 28th ult. amounted to 27,990 bales, of which 4510 were Upland, at 3⅞ @ 5½; with 40 at 6½ @ 6¾; 9470 Orleans at 4 @ 7; with a fancy lot of 20 bales of the new crop at 8¼; 4990 Mobile and Alabama at 4 @ 7½, and 190 Sea Island at 9½ @ 18½ ⅜ lb. About 10,000 bales were on speculation during the week. The business since, say for five days ended this evening, is estimated at 1 ,000 bales, of which about 3000 were taken on speculation, chiefly the two first days. We are not aware of any good grounds for the speculation which so still exist; it has been said that the low prices tempted speculators to operate for the chance of benefit in the event of the American crop being curtailed by the early and severe frosts—and as the last steamer brought no such accounts it has checked the operations.

At Manchester a greater extent of business has been done in yarns the last ten days, but for the most part at prices quite as low as at any previous period of depression. The import into Liverpool since the 1st of January is 1,073,000 bales, against 1,025,000 to same period last season; the supply from the United States is 841,000, being an increase of 47,000 bales. The stock in this port is estimated at 490,000 bales, against 470,000 at same period last year; the stock of American is about 200,000 or 23,000 less than it then was.

The duty on Wheat remains at 18s per quarter, and on flour 10s. 10. ⅜ brl. and flour, duty paid, may be quoted 28s. @ 27s. 6d. ⅜ brl. The value of the article in bond is still uncertain.

Turpentine dull; the last sales were at 7s. for middling to 7s. 3d. per cwt. for good quality. The demand for Tobacco has increased, and the market is more steady and firm.

HAVRE COTTON-MARKET, OCT. 31.

Cotton—Since our last holders remained firm through the week, and offered very sparingly. On the 28th, owing to intelligence from Liverpool, and a good attendance of buyers, ... 2000 bales at an advance of 1 f and ... The 2000 bales put up at auction ... went off with a good degree of spirit, at current rates.—business upon the whole has assumed a more enlivening aspect. Stock, gradually diminishing. Receipts since the commencement of the month 2030 bales, ...

[illegible]

HAVRE, Nov. 1.

Cotton—The transactions in Cotton, by private contract, in this market, since our last report, have been irregular, as regards quantities daily sold; nevertheless, they have taken place not only at full prices, but latterly, at an advance of 1 centime ... on the low to good ordinary descriptions of U. S. short staple. Besides the public sale of 4,000 bales Louisiana announced in our preceding review, for the 28th, there were several others of the same nature subsequently declared for the same day, consisting of about 1500 bales Louisiana, Mobile and Upland (of which 150 bales ... packed). Of all these cottons, 2081 were sold at prices within the range of our quotations, and the rest were withdrawn. In aggregate the private and public sales of the last eight days, comprise 11,500 bales, as follows:—3660 bales New Orleans at 64 ... 7067 Upland 64 ... 30; 461 Pernambuco ...; 900 Bahia ... 4 bales Cayenne at 180—the whole duty paid. The arrival, within the same period, have been 7254 bales, of which 1106 bales United States and 891 bales various sorts.

HAVRE, Wednesday, Evening Nov. 2.

By the Southampton steamer, we received the Washington ... the Columbia steamer via Liverpool. The contents of which caused no apparent change in our cotton market; the demand, however, within these two days, has been very limited, both for consumption and transit, and buyers evince little disposition to come forward. Our present stock amounts to 160,000 bales ... of which 135,000 are American, against 155,000 last year.

Potash, Rice, Whalebone, Tallow and all other American export articles, remain as before quoted, but are little inquired for, business in general being dull at the present moment.

ANTWERP, Oct. 31.

Cotton languid; sales limited to 400 bales Georgia.

ST. PETERSBURGH, Oct. 11.

Recent sales about 1400 poods half clean hemp at 16 1-2 per berkowetz or 300 lb. English; 700 chetwerts Linseed at 6-7 at ⅜ chetwert; 400 boxes white Havana sugar at 5 3-5 ⅜ pood and the usual conditions.

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.

ÆSCULAPIUS, god of the healing art, was considered by the ancients as the greatest benefactor to the human race, being able as with a magic wand, to alleviate suffering, remove disease and re-establish health. He is called the Father of Medicine, and temples were erected to perpetuate his fame. As the light of science advances, discoveries are made, all of which have a tendency to alleviate the condition of man, and as the inventive powers of genius knows no bounds, what can stay its progress in the pathway of renown? Chemical research has in modern times greatly enriched the science of medicine; and one of the discoveries recently made will be hailed by thousands with emotions of joy. Sands' Sarsaparilla, a new preparation, will arrest and speedily cure the most inveterate class of diseases, such as Scrofula or Kings Evil, Rheumatism and White Swelling, diseases of the joints, Salt Rheum or Tetter, Pimples and Pustules on the face and other eruptions of the skin. It purifies the blood and ... healthy action, invigorates the constitution, and gives stamina to the debilitated frame. By its use diseases vanish and suffering is no more. The magic wand is not needed fresh vigor to restore. Prepared and sold wholesale and retail, and for exportation by A. B. Sands & Co. Granite buildings, 273 Broadway, corner Chamber street, New York.

☞ Sold in New Orleans at the Southern Office, No. 12 St. Charles street, wholesale and retail.

G. OSTRANDER, Jr., Agent.

☞ Price $1 per bottle—Six bottles for $5. n26
