J. R. PUTNAM, DENTIST,

RESPECTFULLY informs the public that he has removed to the house recently occupied by Dr. Ker, at the corner of Canal and Royal streets, over the Post Office, (entrance No. 6, Royal street,) where he may be found from 9 o'clock, A. M. until 5 P. M., ready to attend to the duties of his profession, and where he invites those who wish to employ or consult him to call, as it is impossible for him to leave his rooms during those hours, except in cases of indisposition. He has rooms for the accommodation of his visiters, separate and distinct from his family apartments, where they can be entirely private during the performance of an operation, or whilst waiting for his services, should he be at the time engaged. His charges will be such as are sanctioned by the usages of his profession and will not be deviated from except for persons of limited means, or where families are to be attended to, then a reasonable deduction will be made. As he has no assistant in his business, and as it is expected that he will be found always in his rooms, it must be obvious to all, that it is impossible for him to keep books and attend personally to the collection of his bills; he therefore respectfully solicits those who receive his services to make settlement at the time, or attend to it as soon as convenient to themselves, as he has given offence to some by presenting his accounts through another person employed for that purpose. It is expected that punctuality will be strictly observed where positive engagements are made, or an excuse furnished in time, as a neglect to do this may subject others who have made engagements to disappointment and him to loss and inconvenience. Those indebted for services rendered during the last season, will oblige him by calling and paying their bills. nov 29

W. C. DUHERTIS, finishing writing master and teacher of short hand in six lessons, Academy Campe st corner of Gravier street, New Orleans. Sir as you, ladies and gentlemen, who have not hitherto attended, and are desirous of following the good example of many of your fellow citizens, that is, of becoming elegant and finished writers in the short space of six lessons; or 48 hours—are respectfully invited to make early application. Short hand taught in six lessons.

Will an express desire of having my terms come within the reach of almost every person who shall feel anxious to avail themselves of my instruction. I have for that purpose reduced the usual charge of $15 to $8 875 for the remainder of my stay as above stated. Thus it is presumed, that those who are desirous to become fine writers, will regard this as a most favorable opportunity, be such high terms and a repetition of those systems of "Auld Lang Syne," are not to be considered, by any means, as prevailing obstacles in the attainment of splendid penmanship. W. C. D.

Respected Pupils:—The day being now nearly arrived which I have fixed for my departure, I would express the pleasure of appearing among you again but that my intended return to Lexington deprives me of that honor; and thither shall I carry, and ever cherish in my bosom, the deep sense I at present entertain of the gratitude and popularity given me, and every other testimony of respect by a discerning public. For me to express my feelings now on the occasion, would only tend to alloy by an estimate of the manner in which I could describe. In the words of the Psalmist it is said that 'out of the fulness of the heart the mouth speaketh,' but the fulness of the heart under which I labor, only places a seal upon my lips. Meantime, I pray you, ladies and gentlemen, to accept the assurances of my most sincere esteem and respect, and believe me, Your faithful servant,

WM. C. DUHERTIS.

From His Excellency Governor Roman.

I have examined with attention, the system of writing taught by Mr. Dolbear, and it is with pleasure that I certify to its superiority over any other method with which I am acquainted. Mr. Dolbear, having given private lessons in my family, I consider it but justice to add, that I believe him as much so by of public patronage on account of the correctness and neatness of his character, as on account of the rapid improvement of those who receive his lessons.

New Orleans, July 2, 1834. A. B. ROMAN

NEW ORLEANS, 12th May, 1832

On the invitation of Mr Dolbear, a teacher of Penmanship in our city, upon the Carstairian system; we have carefully examined specimens of the writings of his pupils, whose ages range from 8 to 50 years, written through an entire course of instruction; and after having done so, it is with the highest satisfaction that we can testify to the rapid if not unparalled progress which they have made.

From the specimens seen, and the examination of the system made, we cannot withhold the expression of a current opinion, that the system is greatly superior to any hitherto taught. If to write legibly, elegantly, rapidly, and in good taste be an accomplishment useful or desirable, it is upon the principles of this system that it is to be acquired. We therefore earnestly solicit of the public a liberal patronage in favor of an institution, whose qualifications are of the highest order, and whose labors promise to be so exceedingly useful to this and other communities.
