Ayrean papers to the 16th October, The government schoquer of war Juncal, (formely the Camilla)capt. Que, arrived at Buenos Ayres on the 30th Septenther with a cargo of arms, &c. from on plan Valparaiso, whence she sailed on the 'asso- 23d of Aug. The papers state that A hinetty, armament furnished by this vessel and brought by R. G. Cox, will suffice for the opening of the coming campaign.

A paper of the 2d October, mentions that the privateer sthooner Triumfo Argentino (formely the Montezuma) had put into Salado on the 28th of Sept. to repair damages, received in an action with a Brivillian brig of War on the coast of Diazil.

Arrived at Ensenada 2d October privateer schooner Hongerense. The brig Niger of Baltimore, agri red at B. A. on the 4th October. The brig Ruth, of Philadelphia, capfused by the national schooler Rayo Argentino, arrived at B. A. on the 7th Oct. The American schooner Joseph Mendes arrived at Buenos, Ayres on the 9th October. The Brazillian brig of War 29th August, is reported to have been lost near Colons, and all on board perished except the commander. Wilson and ten men who were saved in a boot.

The brig Tuecaloosa, of New York in coming out the river Salado with cargo of jerked beef, was captured by a Brazilii.in armed boat, without a commission, and taken into Montevido. Owing to the active and decided interference of the American Consul, sho was released.

The ship Hamilton Pelham, arrived at Montevido on the 3d October, in 73 days from Boston. The brig Esterprize, Downing, also arrived at Montevi do on the 27th September, in 73 days from Salem.

Buenos Ayres.—We have received a letter from Buenos Avres, under date of 4th October, which save :- The public funds have fallen to 48 a 50, in consequence of the government having created a new fund of three millions dollars, which was taken up at 42 dollars per 100.—At present there is not the possible to say what may be the consegence. From our file of Buenos Ayres papers to the 16th October, we glean the following items:

The provinces of Cordora and Buenon-Ayres have entered into a treat. for carrying on the war against Brazil It was agreed that each province should appoint deputies to a general convention which was to have assembled on the first of November last. Cordova was to furnish a regiment of 600 effective men, and to have the appointment of all the officers intended to command it; but the government of Buenos Ayres is Finches high, of apprecable feature, has to furnish means for its expenses. From the National Journal

The Jackson paper of this city has furnished us with the records of the ebullitions of fancy which were exhibit ed at the dinner in this city on the 8th of January; and now that they have become public property, they are fit sub ects of public commentary. Our readers are aware that it is customary on these public days to include in the regular tousts, the President of the United States. It is a tribute of respect to the office of President, and is usual among all parties, no matter by whom the Chair is filled. Whoever sits there i by the constitution our first citizenwhoever sits there is by courtesy and custom entitled to be remembered in the hour when festive feeling has, or ought to have, laid political differences to rest. On this occasion, we understand this testimony was deliberately and advisedly omitted. At a previous meeting of the committee, to regulate the set toasts, the President was auggested as one by a liberal friend of Gen Jackson-for there are liberal men among his friends, on a division it appeared that six were in favour of it. and five against it; it was then decided in the negative by the vote of Gen. Van Ness, the President. We notice this to show the spirit of the party by whom this dinner was got up; for had it originated in any other than party feeling, had the celebration been national in its character, there would have been found as many friends of the Administration to have joined in it, as there were friends of Jackson actually pre-

From the Philad. Nutional Journal. In the debate in the House of Representutives at Washington, on the 16th instant, Mr. Randolph moved to lay the Resolution about the six militiamen on the table, adding-

"But I shall withdraw the motion if my friend, or if any adversary—for I trust I have no enemy here—shall request it. It is a case in which I would yield more readily to the request of an adversary than of a friend."
