CARSTARIAN SYSTEM OF WRITING.—Messrs Dolbear and Bothers, respectfully give notice that those Ladies who prefer receiving lessons at their residence, should commence before the 1st of May, as no lessons will be given this season, after that time, excepting at their Writing Academy, which will be opened until the 1st of June. Hours of attendance for Ladies at the Academy, no 8 Chartres street, from 12 to 1 o'clock.—Those Gentlemen who would wish to acquire an elegant and rapid business style of writing, and have not time during the day, are informed that they will have evening classes until May. All who attend their establishment have an opportunity to take lessons until they write sufficiently well for any business where rapidity and elegance are required. feb 28

NEW ORLEANS, 12th May, 1834.

On the invitation of Mr Dolbear, a teacher of Penmanship in our city, upon the Carstarian system: we have carefully examined specimens of the writings of his pupils whose ages range from 8 to 50 years, written through a entire course of instruction; and after having done so, it is with the highest satisfaction that we can testify to the RAPID if not UNPARALLELED progress which they have made.

From the specimens seen, and the examination of the system made, we cannot withhold the expression of a current opinion, that the system is greatly superior to any hitherto taught. If to write legibly, elegantly, rapidly and in good taste be an accomplishment, useful or desirable, it is upon the principles of this system that it is to be acquired. We therefore anxiously solicit of the public a liberal patronage in favor of an instructor, whose qualifications are of the highest order, and whose labors promise to be exceedingly useful to this and other communities.
