NOTICE to persons desirous of acquiring in a short time, and at a trifling expense, the indispensable art of a beautiful hand writing,
Mr. DUCHESNE DUVERNAY, professor of Calligraphy, lately arrived from Paris, begs leave to inform his friends, and the public, that he will engage to correct in 25 or 30 lessons, the most bad hand writing, provided the pupil will second his efforts.
The great superiority of his method, over the ancient manner of writing consists in the continual movement of the wrist with the arm, this joint labour vigorously engaged accelerates the progress of the pupil. A more correct idea of the easy and beauty of his system may be formed by calling at his room.
In three days a fine hand writing, is indispensable to every man, from which he often derives a living, this manner of acquiring in a short time a fine hand is not to be neglected. In this there is no surprise to be feared of a fallacious quackery, no vain promises, nothing but what is punctually executed. The professor, strongly his numerous experiences, guarantees a full success.
He has two classes, one from 10 in the morning till 2 in the evening, the second from 5 till 8 in the evening, the first will be devoted for ladies the second for gentlemen. He will attend private lessons, and at private schools.
N. B. The price of 30 lessons is $15.
His residency is in St. Peter street, No. 154, between Drapier and Burgundy streets. oct 19
