THE BELL

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1828.

CONGRESS—Thursday. In the Senate, the bill to regulate commercial intercourse between the United States and the islands of Guadalupe and Martinique...

The Tariff Bill, says the National Intelligencer of Thursday, continues under discussion in the House of Representatives...

On Saturday last, in Boston, an examination took place before Judge Davis, of Captain Alex. Drew, of Nantucket, charged with the murder of his second mate, Charles H. Clark...

The Earl of Eldon, late Chancellor in England, being asked, on the recent dissolution of the Ministry...

Haiti.—The editors of the Baltimore American have been politely favoured with Port-au-Prince papers to the 9th of March...

"On the 4th inst. some evil disposed persons, endeavoured to disturb the tranquility of the community near L'Anse-a-Veau. But it is as difficult to seduce Hayti from the paths of honor...

Franklin Clifton, the youngest child but one of De Witt Clinton, has received a shipman's warrant.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2. Captain Petit, of the schooner Ingenuity, from Baltimore, (arrived at this port yesterday) jumped overboard in the River Delaware...

BOSTON, April 1. Commerce of Boston.—We understand the revenue of foreign merchandise, imported into this place during the last twenty days, is more than half a million of dollars...

From the New-York American. The character, habits, and habits of the celestial empire are, notwithstanding some half dozen European embassies, and the quasi-diplomatics thereof, in a popular sense...

From Canton.—Our Boston correspondent has received by the ship London Packet, the second and third numbers of the Canton Register...

State of China.—The military operations in Western Tartary, or Turkistan, commonly called Little Bucharia are discontinued, and the Imperial army recalled...

The natives complain of increasing poverty among the mass of the people, and consequently the increase of banditti, some of whom, even in the northern parts of Canton, betake themselves by thousands to the hills and valleys defended by narrow passes...

The Chinese who take a liking to each other, or one with money who wishes the aid of another in power, or vice versa, very often bind themselves to a fraternal relation by exchanging cords. They are then called Hwan tee-heung to "exchange card, senior and junior brothers."

The secret of rendering docile and handling with impunity the most venomous serpents, which has so long been in the possession of the inhabitants of Western India, is not unknown in China. It is observed that the native snakecatcher in Canton rub their hands previously to taking hold of the snake, with an antidote supposed of pounded herbs...

There is an opinion among the natives from the frequent natural calamities of drought, or deluge, that something unprosperous is hanging over the Empire.

Peking, Aug. 22. His Imperial Majesty has directed the military council of the empire, to write to the Governor of the capital, requiring him to go in person to various temples dedicated to the "black dragon deep, the white dragon deep, the dragon God hah," &c., to ascertain whether these places required repairs, or not. For his majesty is deeply penetrated with a feeling of gratitude to the presiding divinity, who had, in consequence of his supplications, granted rain to the thirty fields of Peking province.

We are authorized to state that Mr. Panna Danawry is a candidate for the office of Governor at the next election.

We are authorized to state that Mr. E. Warren is a candidate for the House of Representatives, in Congress, at the election in July next.

Entrance to the Circus is Orleans street, to the Parquet in Royal street. April 30.

PANORAMA EXHIBITION.

THE great Panoramic picture of the City of Paris, is now exhibiting in the building on the public square of Rampart street.

The view is taken from the roof of the south end of the palace of the Tuilleries; the spectator must therefore imagine himself placed on this elevated situation, which commands an extensive prospect over the whole city.

Immediately under the eye of the spectator in a northern direction, is the roof of the King's apartments, and on the right that of the long picture gallery stretching eastward as far as the Louvre.

When we consider that Paris has been the theatre of so many great political events which have convulsed Europe for the last thirty years, few, if any subjects of equal interest for a picture could be offered to the public.

Admission.—50 cents. New-Orleans, April 30, 1828.
