UNDER THE DIRECTION OF

MADAME PARENT,

Corner of Rampart and Du Maine streets.

THIS Institution occupies one of the best locations in the city with respect to health and many other important advantages. The building is magnificent, the apartments are vast and well ventilated, and are particularly well adapted for classes.

There are four fine dormitories with dressing cabinets; also spacious galleries all through the house; a splendid terrace commanding a most beautiful view of the city as far as the Lake.

The best advantages are offered to parents, as to the moral and intellectual cultivation of the minds of their daughters.

Madame Parent is always present with her pupils; she teaches during the hours of class, and superintends the different divisions. There is an ample number of the best professors employed, besides ladies residing in the institution.

Every branch of a solid and refined education is taught in both languages; all accomplishments, such as Drawing, Painting, Dancing, and Embroidery, &c. The Musical department (including vocal and instrumental) is conducted by four of the most competent and acknowledged talents in the city.

It would be superfluous to say anything respecting the special attention that is paid to the English, it being Madame Parent's native language. The best guarantee that she can give is the public, that the French young ladies who have been educated by her speak it as fluently as their mother tongue.

For terms, apply at the Institution, where prospectuses can be obtained.

YOUNG LADIES residing at a distance in the different Districts, will be conveyed gratis to and from the institution.

DAY AND BOARDING SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES,

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF

MADAM CHARPAUX,

At the corner of Bayou and Claiborne streets.

THIS SEMINARY, whose existence since some years back, has met with a success that proves, beyond all cavil, the capacity of those who have charge of it.

Determined to merit the confidence of parents, Mad. Charpaux will spare no pains to make her seminary equal to the best institutions of the kind in New Orleans, and in order to do this, she has employed the ablest teachers.

Madam Charpaux has purchased a large and airy edifice on one of the highest pieces of ground in the city, and the best connected with the health of her pupils, and the best arrangements of apartments built on purpose for class and sleeping rooms, through which there will be a constant circulation of air from many windows.

Great attention will be paid to the improvement of scholars in the English language. For this purpose, American ladies of acknowledged capacity, as teachers, will constantly reside in the Seminary.

The English, French and Spanish languages, geography, arithmetic, and in short, all the branches of a polite education, will be taught in the Seminary. A religious education will be the foundation of all solid education, it will be carefully attended to by Madam Charpaux, who will conduct to church and preliminary catechisms all her young ladies who are placed under her care.

Music having become a most desirable branch of the education of young ladies, Mme. Charpaux, from the best musical school of Paris, and an artist of the Orleans Theatre, will devote all his time to teaching music. All the Scholars, besides their regular lessons, will practice daily under the eyes of the professor. The study of the piano will precede the performances, which will be encouraged through the execution of the regular keys and notes, and this will be attended with no extra charge.

In order to kindle emulation among the pupils, and improve their singing, on the morning of the last Saturday in every month there will be a musical examination and a distribution of rewards.

Madam Charpaux, in order to complete the education of her scholars, has opened a class where will be taught all the useful and ornamental branches of needle-work.

During the summer the classes will open at 8 o'clock, and close at 2. Re-open at 4 and closed at 6 o'clock, P. M. In winter, they will open at 8½, and close at 3. Re-open at 4½ and close at 5 o'clock, P. M.

St. Louis Institute.

312 Dauphin street, between Ursulines and Hospital.

MRS. DERON tenders her thanks for the confidence reposed by parents in her Institute, which she has found in the same prosperous condition, and she hereby renews the assurance of her zeal and devotion to the welfare of their children. Mrs. Deron has been enabled, by her residence in Paris, to study the new systems in the education of young ladies; she has visited the most renowned Academies, and intends to adopt for her establishment a plan based upon what she has seen.

Mrs. DERON wishes that modest and elegant manners be imparted to her pupils without receiving a solid instruction based upon morality and religion; in a word, a complete education, which will enable them one day to grace their own children. She hopes that her endeavors will be appreciated by intelligent mothers, who prefer profound studies to a brilliant success in a public exhibition. The award of premiums in the St. Louis Institute, following a serious examination, will then always be a family fete, but none but parents feeling an interest in the progress of the pupils will be admitted.

Music, as well as general instruction, (which will not interfere with the latter,) will be carefully and constantly attended to. Mrs. Deron has engaged in France, for her establishment, the services of an Italian lady, who is an excellent professor and most talented singer. The course of solfeggio and singing cannot fail to be admirably conducted by Mrs. TACCANNI TASCA, whose splendid voice will always be sustained by her excellent method. Pupils in the city can be taught by Mrs. Tasca at the Institute.

NOTICE.

Mrs. DERON having often been applied to for private lessons by young ladies who could not follow the regular classes, a French class, on the plan of Messrs. Roiny and Levi, in Paris, will be opened on the 1st of January next, three times a week, in the establishment, and be divided into a primary and superior course. The pupils of the establishment will, of course, be the first admitted to the same, and will doubtless contribute to the progress of the newcomers by exciting a general emulation.

This institution is conducted in a large ... occupying a fine central position, well ventilated, and in other respects admirably adapted ... The range of studies which engage the attention of the pupils, extends over all the branches of learning which are necessary to a useful, polite and finished education; from primary instruction to the more abstruse subjects, which are especially the province of a collegiate course. ... good education, is conducted with solicitude ...
