NO MERCURY NOR VOPAVIA
New Orleans, Nov 14, 1837
ABOUT six months ago I had the misfortune to get a secret disease, for which I have applied to several doctors for a cure, and they did not cure me, so now on the above date I put myself under the care of Dr. Hoet, and I expect him to cure me. Since the time the disease got worse, so as to break out in large ulcers, to the number of six or eight on each leg, and all over my face, and sore throat, and not able to work at the present time on account of the disease large ulcer on the right side of the throat. I am now putting myself confidently under the care of Dr. Hoet, of Paris, hoping to be perfectly cured.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR is the greatest ornament belonging to the human frame. How strikingly the loss of it the greatest calamity, and promotes the loss of it the appearance of age, which causes many a second at being mistaken, and sometimes even to an insult to any such mistake. Many are the cases of persons who, in the prime of life, have consequently spent a retirement. In short, not even the loss of property like the generous locks of youth with that have a striking effect on the loss of his hair. To avert this and other disagreeable consequences, OLDRIDGE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA stops the hair from falling off in the first instance, and a few bottles generally stops it. It leaves no stain on the skin and will effectually prevent the hair from turning grey, makes it grow beautifully, and frees it from scurf. Numerous testimonials of the first respectability in support of the virtues of Oldridge's Balm, are shown by the proprietors.
☞ Price 50 cents per bottle.
ROBERT WHARTON, Esq. the Mayor of Philadelphia, has certified, as may be seen below, to the character of the Balm, in the following terms:
"Philadelphia, Oct. 1, 1837.
"Gentlemen, I have made use of the Balm of Columbia discovered by J Oldridge, and have found it highly serviceable, and recommend it as a preparation that deserves the public attention.

PENMANSHIP.
Practical and Ornamental, Taught at
DELBEAR & BROTHERS' Writing Academy, No 8 Chartres street. The extensive patronage which they have met with in the principal cities of the United States, and the increasing application for instructions in the science, as well as the improvement of Writing, has induced them to establish permanent academies in New York, New Orleans and Mobile, and direct their attention to afford greater facilities for the acquisition of Penmanship, than are afforded by any other institution in the country. Persons entering one of them has the privilege of attending at either of the others without extra charge. The ladies and gentlemen are respectfully invited to call. The rapidity of improvement given by persons from 8 to 50 years of age, who have received lessons in this art may be seen at any hour of the day. Ladies are taught a delicate and rapid epistolary style, also, various styles of ornamental writing, suited to Albums, Notes of Compliment, &c. Gentlemen are taught a free and elegant business hand, and are calculated for facilitating business transactions, by dispensing with the delay incident to deciphering the hieroglyphical scrawl of most present business, and imparting to the clerk a style at once rapid and elegant. Persons visiting the city for only a few days will receive special attention.
The number of Lessons are not limited, but every person who enters is desired to remain till he writes sufficiently well for any kind of business. This is the interest of both teacher and pupil.
Ladies who prefer to receive lessons at their own residences. Ornamental writing executed with elegance.
N. B. Delbear's "Science of Penmanship" particularly designed for private learners and schools, and calculated for persons of all ages, imparting an ease and freedom not attained by any other method. Also, Delbear's new copy book for female amanuenses intended as a supplement to the science of Penmanship, for sale here.
