PENMANSHIP.

Practical and Ornamental, Taught at BOLBEAR & BROTHERS' Writing Academy, on a Charters street.—The extensive patronage which the method of Writing has received in various parts of the United States, and the increasing application for instructions in the science, as well as in practice of Writing, has induced them to establish permanent academy in New York, New Orleans, and Mobile, and it is their attention to bestow greater facilities for the acquisition of Penmanship, than are afforded by any other institution in the country. Persons entering one of them has the privilege of attending at either of the others with out extra charge. The ladies and gentlemen are respectfully invited to call. Specimens of rapid improvement given by persons from 8 to 10 years of age, who have received lessons in this city but have seen at any least of the day. Ladies are taught a delicate and rapid epistolary style; also, various styles of ornamental writing, such as Albums, Notes of Compliment, &c. Gentlemen are taught a free and expeditious hand-writing calculated for business transactions, by shortening with the delay incident to deciphering the literally special scrawl of most men of business, and qualifying the pupil to write at a nice rapid and elegant. Persons visiting the city formally a few days will receive special attention.

The number of lessons is not limited, but every pupil, who enters is desired to remain till he writes satisfactorily and for any kind of business. This rule is in the interest of both teacher and pupil.

Ladies who prefer it can receive lessons at their own residences. Ornamental writing executed with elegance.

N. B. Bolbear's "Science of Penmanship" particularly designed for private learners and schools, and calculated for persons of all ages, imparting as much freedom and speed as any other method.
