Latent Intelligence from Europe. The packet ship John Jay, at New Yord, brings London dates to the 7th of April, inclusive. The various, particulars of intelligence, rumont and conjecture, our readers will find in succeeding columns. One point only seems to be established; that of the positive determination of Russia to commence hostilities against Turkey. A note of the same tenour as that com municated three weeks before, to the courts of London and Paris, announcing the formal decision of Nicholas to force the Porte to terms, has been deli- to the editors of the Evening Post, vered to Prince Metternich by the Ru- Commercial Advertiser, and Journal of sian Embassador at Vienna. What Commerce, for the annexed extracts from course Turkey will finally take, is not London papers to the 7th and Liverpool better known than heretofore. The to the 8th of April, and Lloyd's and shipcommission which she has sent to the ping lists to the 5th inclusive. Morea, offering the Greeks peace, a "Clouds and darkness" still rest upon ut de quatre mille piastres sera payé en réémplete amnesty, " several considerable advantages," and a suspension of hostilities for there months, indicates no concessions adequate to the requisitions of the Allies, much less of Russia. If this measure could be construed as the first step of the Porte in a course of conciliation with the Greeks, it might be deemed of some moment.

After the remontrances of the Sultan against foreign interference with his domestic concerns, it is only with his own subjects that he could confer respecting the terms of pacification. No thing of this temper is discernible, howthing of this temper is discernible, how-ever, in the present offer to the Greeks. while, in the mean time, his defensive preparations appear to be proceeding. lic might be induced to believe that every It is worthy of notice, that these seem to contemplate rather the making a stand in the interior of the country, and the protection of Constantinople, than any effective operations on the Danube, where however, it is to be supposed, the pay Russia a certain sum of money concerned shew cause in open Court on or beformesses have been sufficiently gar risoned and provisioned. The Russian army of the South is stated at two hundred thousand men.

No more light is thrown, either, on the course which will be taken by the European powers. The manifesto of Russia, which is still delayed, will decourts of London and Paris."-If the policy and intentions of the Powers were as clear and definite as some London journals would have us suppose, the mois, sur la Levec, entre les Emperor, one would think might be able to fashion his manifesto before hand. The view is taken from the roof of the south end of the paince of the Tuilleries; the spectator must therefore immagine himself pleaced on this elevated situation which commands an extensive prospect over the whole city.

Immediately under the eye of the spectator in a northern direction, is the roof of the King's appartments, and on the right that of the long picture gallery There is no truth in these assertions. The fore the 9th day of June next, 1828, why the stretching eastward as far as the Louvre; -This gallery bounds the place de Carousel on the gouth side and the new gallery on the north, in the centre of this square is seen the triumshaf arch. On this square Banaparte was wont to review his butallious previous to their departure for their respective destinations, and here oft the walls resounded with the clang of muitid music. On the west side of the palace, the spectre tor looks down on the Garden of the Tuelcries, and beyond shot in the illstance is seen the palace of the Garde de Meubles, and the woods of the Champ Elysees in the distance.
