PRINTED DAILY, BY P. DELAUNOY,
 St. Peter Street, between Bourbon & Royal.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 26, 1828.

STATE LEGISLATURE,
 HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.
 Sitting on Monday, Nov. 24, 1828.

The Speaker laid before the House a letter from the State Treasurer, accompanied with a statement of his accounts from the 1st February to the 15th of November.
 Mr. Burthe, reported that these documents be referred to a committee of three members of the House and of the Senate, Messrs. Burthe, Turner and Shepherd were nominated on the part of the House.

Mr. Burthe gave notice that he would shortly introduce three bills; one supplementary to an act authorising the Mayor, Aldermen &c. to establish a powder magazine; one authorising the Mayor &c. of this city to lay a tax on certain carts, waggons, &c. in the city of New-Orleans.
 And the third, a bill concerning the levees in the limits of the city of New-Orleans.

A favorable report was given by the committee named on the petition of Nancy Bankston's second reading tomorrow.
 The Speaker announced his intention to lay before the House the documents concerning the contested election of Mr. Richardson. This communication was laid on the table.

The speaker communicated a proposition concerning the election of Mr. Morehouse. This communication was laid on the table indefinitely.
 The Member from Rapides gave notice that he would shortly introducing the following bills:

- 1st. An act to establish an explicit fee bill.
- 2d. An act to amend the several acts enacted for the punishment of crimes and misdemeanors committed by free persons.

ORDER OF THE DAY.
 The bill to dispense Nathaniel Evans with the time prescribed for obtaining the age of majority, was read for the 3d time and adopted.
 The bill for the relief of the widow and heirs of Nathaniel Evans, was read for the third time and adopted.
 The third reading of the bill relative to the introduction of slaves into this State was, by motion of Mr. Waggoner, postponed till a future time, for the purpose of making some additions to it.

A message from the Senate announced its concurrence in the resolution to place the examination of the Treasurer's accounts in the hands of a committee named by the two branches of the Legislature; and has appointed two Members to form the committee.
 The Senate also informs that they have appointed Members for the different committees to examine the resolution which relates to certain parts of the Governor's message taken into consideration.

The House adopted a resolution presented by a member from Feliciana, having for object the naming of a committee to be called the Judiciary Committee, whose duty it shall be to make a report on the existing laws, and to recommend such amendments as may be thought necessary.
 On motion, the House adjourned until tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

The Washington papers contain a law promulgated by the government of Haiti, and communicated to our Department of State, declaring the policy to be hereafter observed relative to persons arriving at or departing from that island. These papers contain the declaration of the peace, stating the intention either to reject or to pass through merely to pass through it as a mere formality, the justice they intend to exercise. The justice will furnish them with a certificate on a stamp of five centimes, to be exhibited when required by the foreigner, with specific exceptions, are required to make the declaration; and all persons not complying with this regulation, as well as those who harbor them, shall be subject to a fine of $30.—Persons other than Diplomatic or Consular Agents, shall, if engaged in commerce, or exercising a trade, make declaration of their intended departure from the island; and masters of vessels receiving persons without a present showing such declaration, are liable to a fine of $300 for every such person, to be assessed by the Correctional Tribunal of the place.—Balt. Amer.

A treaty of offensive and defensive alliance between Austria and Bavaria is said, in a Frankfort article, inserted in the Moniteur, to be on the point of being concluded; the execution of which is to be altogether dependent upon the future circumstances in which the Germanic Confederation may be placed by the determination of Austria to take an active part in the occurrences in the East. Londan Courier.

PROCLAMATION TO THE PORTUGUESE NATION.

Portuguese!—It is not as your King that I am now addressing you, as my abdication has been completed, but as the father of your legitimate Queen, Donna Maria II, and as her guardian.
 The compulsion under which my brother, the Infant Don Miguel, the Regent of the kingdom labors, is, in every point of view, clear and manifest: To entertain a contrary opinion would be an offence against his honor, which I deem untainted; it would amount to considering him a traitor to the assurances or protestations he made to me, whilst I was his King, and reputing him perjured in his oath, which he so freely and spontaneously took at Vienna in Austria, and ratified at Lisbon before the nation legally represented in conformity with the Constitutional Charter, which was offered and granted by me to you, and accepted by himself and by you, and freely and solemnly sworn to.

A disorganising faction laboured constantly in the midst of unhappy Portugal, under pretence of defending the Throne and the Altar, in disregard of all religious, civil and political considerations; it disputed the indubitable and inalienable rights by which your Queen ascended the Throne of her ancestors; it dethroned and lorded it over the Regent; it ruled the kingdom; it dissolved a Chamber of worthy Deputies, distinguished by their deserts and merits; it did not immediately summon another, according to the 5th Title, 1st Chapter, thereby manifestly usurping the Legislative power; it appointed a Junta to issue fresh instructions (precepts of veils) for the election of Deputies whom it called illegal. These are not warranted; but on the contrary, it destroyed the Constitutional Character by a single blow, by calling together the ancient Cortes, an institution already abolished by the oath of this very same Constitution; it prescribed and approved crimes committed against those citizens who were faithful to their oaths. It consented to, and even authorised the troops, who ought to have watched over the public safety, to commit atrocities in the very capital itself, under pretence of defending the Throne and Altar. How far can misfortune carry incursions and weak men! Nor did it stop here. It landed Portuguese soldiers, when committing acts of insubordination against the Chiefs—a just Commanders faithful to their oaths, resting on the two principal anchors, the Throne and the Altar!—What Throne could consent to the committing of such crimes? What Religion could enjoin the execution of such proceedings against decency and the decorum due to respectable and decent families!

“Oh Portuguese! to what a pass is your unfortunate country come, under the dominion of fanaticism, hypocrisy, and despotism! If it were possible, your ancestors would rise from their graves, and suddenly drop down at seeing the cradle of their victories transferred into such horrors.
 “You are worthy of a better fate, as well as your ruin. Fellow citizens, Portuguese; it is given to you a philanthropic and truly constitutional heart.”

“It is time that you should open your eyes, and all unite and stand by the oaths you have taken to the Constitutional Charter, and to the rights of your Queen. By doing this, you will not only save your country; but likewise my brother, by defending the true Throne and the free Roman Catholic and Apostolic Religion. Give not the victory to Portuguese, to the enemies of Constitutional Monarchical Governments who wish to see perjurers placed upon thrones, in order to strengthen their arguments against such forms of government. Far be it from me to call my brother a perjurer or a traitor; he acts no doubt under compulsion, and I consider, and shall consider him in that light, as long as the heads of the disorganising faction do not leave Portugal. Portuguese stand by the Constitutional Charter—it is not of foreign growth—it was granted to you by a Constitution of Kings; and what evils has it brought upon you? Liberty, of which you had only a promise before. Yes, Portuguese bedew the Tree of Liberty with your blood, and you will see how it will flourish amongst you, and bear fruits, in despite of all intrigues and machinations. Do not suffer your country to be assailed by blows of perfidy and treason; that country which is already oppressed by a yoke of the most ferocious despotism. You are a free people—you form and independent nation, what more can you hope for? The governments of Europe support the legitimacy of your Queen. Fight for her, and for the Constitutional Charter, and fear nothing in shape of obstacles. Consider that the cause you are going to defend is the cause of justice, and that you are bound to it by an oath. The truth does not penetrate so far as into the presence of your Regent. Fanatics, hypocrites, demoralized and despotic men have blinded him. The imminent danger in which his life is placed makes him submit to this faction, the like of which has never been seen among the Portuguese people, from the commencement of the Monarchy, as the pages of its history prove. Follow the example of those ancient Portuguese; approach your Regent; speak to him very plainly and respectfully, as those spoke to the King Don Alonso IV. and tell him, “By the road your Highness suffers yourself to be led in, you will inevitably plunge yourself into the deepest abyss; govern us conformably to the Constitutional Charter, which both your Highness and ourselves have sworn to and know that this is the only legitimate course we choose to see adopted.” If you do this you will see that he, finding the Portuguese disposed to support him as a Constitutional Regent, will withdraw himself from the shameful tutorage by which he is now ruled, and which would lead him to the precipice, from whence he can never recede with honor, and that he will throw himself into your arms, and, by governing you according to law, make you happy. Come to his assistance, Portuguese! otherwise he and you will be some the victims of anarchy. My conscience is free from rancor. I explain the truth to you; if you choose to follow it you will be happy; if not you will find the most refined despotism raising its neck amongst you, which you will never be able to crush again.

Rio de Janeiro, the 25th of July, 1822.
