FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,

HENRY CLAY.

NEW-ORLEANS:
SATURDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY, 10 1844.

☞ The mail failed yesterday beyond Charleston.

"How often, last summer, was this same compromise set loaded with curses by the Bee, and reproachfully imputed to the locofoco!—Courier.

We last summer spoke of the compromise act as a measure presented by Mr. CLAY, to check rebellion in the first place, and preserve the tariff from bankruptcy and immediate overthrow, in the second, as threatened by the then locofoco majority in Congress.

"It was discovered after the Bee had plunged deep into the slough of objurgation against this act, that Mr. CLAY was the author of it, introduced it into Congress, supported it and carried it through. O then the case was altered; then it was found out that it was not so bad as the Bee wished to make it appear," &c.—Courier.

If the Courier means by this to insinuate that we have ever attempted to create the impression that Mr. CLAY was not the author of the compromise act, or have given contradictory accounts of the origin, history and objects of it, it forgets what is due to candor and the fact. We said last summer, and we say now, that the bill was trained amongst other things, to check the violence of the CALHOUN branch of the Democratic party, which threatened the Union with civil war and disruption and to preserve the tariff from sudden annihilation, as contemplated at the time. If the compromise act was so monstrous a law, the locofocos were in a majority and Congress could have defeated it, and the President might have vetoed it, as he did many other laws.

"The compromise, in the hands of the whigs, assume many different and opposite characters."—Courier.

What is it in yours. Are you for it or against it?

☞ The bill to extend the right of suffrage by the imposition of a poll tax, was every one imagined, consigned to hopeless oblivion by the vote of the House on Thursday last. With such admirable tact did the adversaries of the bill, accidentally in a majority at the time, contrive to smother it beneath all possible parliamentary obstacles, that we had little expectation of its ever emerging into day during the present session. Thanks, however, to the unabated zeal and energy of Messrs. HUNT and BROWER, the firm friends of the right of suffrage, albeit diametrically opposed in politics, the House has once more before it a proposition to extend the franchise and there is a fair probability that a law to this effect will be passed before the adjournment of the Legislature.

Mr. HUNT yesterday moved the re-consideration of Dr. BRASHEAR'S substitute to the original bill, which had been laid upon the table the day previous. The bill itself could not be put, inasmuch as a motion to re-consider had been made and lost immediately after its indefinite postponement. Not so, however, with the substitute. The motion to re-consider was therefore, strictly in order, and the absent members having returned to their posts, the motion prevailed. The substitute was accordingly taken into consideration and referred to a select committee, consisting of Messrs. HUNT, BRASHEAR, B. G. THIBODEAUX & BOUTOUSQUIE, with instructions to report on Monday; the bill being made the special order of the day for Tuesday next.

With regard to Dr. BRASHEAR'S substitute—it does not go to the full length of the original bill, it nevertheless is exceedingly liberal in its provisions and contemplates the endowment with this inestimable right of every individual in the community who professes an occupation, profession, trade or employment. Thus the mechanic, the farmer, the tiller of the soil, the merchants' clerk, the law yer, editor, physician, printer, will all become voters under its provisions. It will doubtless, too, be to embrace all possible classes of citizens who may be considered as residents of the state having one interest in her prosperity and welfare.

FAILURE OF THE MAILS.—The Charleston Courier of the 23 inst., states on the authority of the post master, that the failure of the mails east of that place, has been owing to a tremendous snow storm in North Carolina and Virginia. The Potomac is also frozen over and the ice boat out of repair. The Department, depending on the ice boat, had made no arrangements to have the mails conveyed by land. A vast accumulation of northern mails has taken place in Washington. Mr. WICKLIFFE will have an excellent opportunity of inferring the disappointment of the public, by taking the avoirdupois and cubic dimensions of the mail bags that are stacked up in his office.

MR. WALLACK.—We understand that this distinguished performer intends leaving for Mobile today or to-morrow, where he proposes giving a Dramatic Olio, similar to that of Thursday last. We commend him to our contemporaries of that city. The entertainment they will find to possess is a rich one—of varied but classical ingredients compounded and served up in the most exquisite style. Mr. W. is a gentleman of rare talents and deserves a hospitable reception in a city of choice spirits like Mobile.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE ST. CHARLES THEATRE.—Mr. Macready is announced this evening in Bulwer's celebrated play of "Richelieu. Mr. Ryder will personate the character of Count Baradas.

NATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE.—The gorgeous spectacle of the "Bronze Horse", is to be repeated this evening.

☞ The Criminal Court was not in session yesterday.

ON HIS WAY HOME.—Robert Burns alias Owen, who murdered a Mr. Collier a short time since in the street of Augusta, and whose arrest we mentioned on Saturday last, arrived here yesterday on board the steamer Nashville, in custody of the officers, who had been despatched in pursuit of him, and who was on the scene where the bloody deed was committed, for trial.

RECORDER GENOIS COURT.—John Marshall, arrested as an incorrigible vagabond, was sentenced to three months imprisonment in the work-house.

John Murray and Edward Harry arrested on the same charge, were sentenced to two months imprisonment each.

Benjamin Lynch, arrested for stealing a looking glass and breast pin, was sentenced to thirty days confinement in the work-house.

Wm. Rottenstall, Abel Hall, John Howard and Frederick Thornton, were committed to the work-house for fifteen days, as vagrants.

CORRECTION.—Antonio Lombard, a F. m. c., was yesterday examined before Recorder Baldwin, charged with having in his possession a diamond breast pin of the value of $120 and a gold coin of the value of $10, stolen from S. L. Forgny, between the 15th and 20th of the last month. The accused was employed in a cabaret at the corner of Carondelet and Girod street, and the stolen articles were discovered in his possession by means of a search warrant procured by Mr. Forgny, in consequence of the developments of one of his slaves, who confessed to have stolen the above articles, and had sold them to Lombard: the breast-pin for $1, and the doubloon for four dollars. Lombard was ordered to find bail in the sum of $2,500, for his appearance before the Criminal Court, for trial.

THE ARSON CASE—HONORABLE ACQUITTAL OF THE ACCUSED.

Yesterday morning, Edwin H. and Giles S. Smith, appeared before Recorder Baldwin, to answer to the charge preferred against them in an affidavit filed by Michael Barry, of selling fire to the grocery store occupied by them at the corner of Carondelet and Girod streets, on the night of the 6th instant. Upon Barry who it appears, occupied a part of the same building, being called to the stand, he deposed that on the evening of the 6th instant, at half-past eight o'clock, he heard the Messrs. Smith's close the doors of their store for the evening; shortly afterwards hearing them talking in the store, he looked through a crack in the partition, and saw them kindling up a fire with chips of woods and paper under the counter, which was ignited by a candle by one of them. He thought at the time that the fire was kindled in a furnace, but in about twenty minutes afterwards hearing the alarm of fire, he discovered to be in the store occupied by the Messrs Smiths, and upon the doors being busted open, he found that it originated from under the counter. Upon being cross-examined by T. G. Hunt Esq., counsel for the accused, Barry stated that he had not mentioned the circumstance of his having seen the Messrs Smiths having set fire to the building until the 8th—two days afterwards—when after having had a difficulty with Mr. E. H. Smith, who struck him a severe blow in the face, he repaired to Recorder Baldwin and filed the affidavit, charging them with the crime of Arson. Barry first applied to one of the officers of the day police to get out a warrant against Smith, for assault and battery. Three or four more witnesses on the part of the prosecution were examined, whose testimony merely went to prove as to the hour at which the fire occurred. The Recorder at this stage of the examination informed the accused that as there was no creditable proof before him of their being guilty of the charge preferred against them, he felt in duty bound to discharge them from custody. Mr. Hunt, wished for the sake of his client, to introduce testimony to prove the good standing in the community of his clients, and the notoriously bad character of Barry. The Recorder not wishing to consume any more time in the investigation, of a subject in which every person in the court room felt satisfied, closed the investigation.

The numerous friends of the Messrs. Smiths, who were present, could not restrain their feelings, when the decision of the Recorder was made known, and notwithstanding they were liable for contempt of court, they made the very walls echo with their plaudits, at the result.

(COMMUNICATED.)

THE SLEDGE vs. LOCOFOCOISM.

MESSRS EDITORS—The Berkeye Blacksmith, at the Arcade on Saturday evening, announced that it would afford him much pleasure to meet any of the champions of Locofocoism at a public meeting, for the purpose of discussing the respective principles of the two political parties.

I do not learn that either of our great Locofoco spouters has yet taken up the gauntlet so boldly thrown down by the man who wields the political sledge-hammer with so much dexterity. Our political opponents pretend that the whigs have no principles, and if they believe this to be the case it would surely be an easy matter, to their opinion, to put down the arguments of our Buckeye friend. Why, then, do they more so glorious an opportunity to strengthen their own cause by using up this principle pony.

Can it be that all the patriotic spouters of Locofocoism are afraid to come in contact with the talented mechanic? Is they much longer neglect to accept his challenge, that will be their moral inference, and the rank and file of the "Democracy" will go in a body to hear the arguments of the sledge hammer man, urged by curiosity to learn what kind of a man he can be from a contest with whom the locofocos so shun.

For one, I should be delighted to listen to the respective arguments of the sledge, and a few pounds of iron, on the stump. Such a treat would be something very novel in this latitude, and the entire city of New Orleans would gem a long, to enjoy it. Where could one find a more intelligent audience than the multitude that would be present on such an occasion? Not in the city. Why, one of our public squares would scarcely accommodate the throng that would crowd to such an exhibition.

Come out like men, ye Messrs. Locofocos, and accept Mr. Bee's challenge, and give us, in these dull times, some rare SPORT.

The Richmond Whig of a late date says—"It is rumored that Gov. DARCY of New York, has avowed himself opposed to Van, and is now in Washington, expecting a cabinet appointment. Col. Benton has declared that no nomination will receive the support of Democratic Senators, where there is the slightest suspicion of bargaining.

The Baltimore Patriot adds:—"The course of Col. Benton, in regard to the nominations made by the Democratic, has, we trust we may now say, been most decided and it what is said of him by the Whig leaders, and we believe it, he deserves praise.

"The rumor that Gov. Marcy has declared against Mr Van Buren is not improbable, but on these days of bargaining politicians it may be that Gov. Marcy had discovered that he has no available materials to offer, and is prepared to sell."

ELECTION OF A SENATOR.—JOHN BROWN FRANCIS has been elected by the Legislature of Rhode Island, to fill the vacancy in the United States Senate, occasioned by the resignation of the Hon. WM. SPRAGUE. Mr FRANCIS received 67 votes—CHRISTOPHER STORES, the locofoco candidate, received 5.

The Senator elect is a whig and a warm supporter of Mr. CLAY.

MORE ATS.—McGILL, GUERIN, (Hughes what a name!) a Norwegian lady, is giving concerts in New York. She is said to be an splendid a performer on the piano as her countryman, OLE BULL is on the violin and to possess musical talent and genius of as high an order.

MAINE.—A special election for a member of Congress was held in the 7th district of Maine, on the 7th ultimo. The Bangor Whig has returns from 25 towns, showing a gain of 141 for Robinson, the whig candidate. The vote is heavy.

☞ The Van Buren locofoco leaders in the city of New York, says the Baltimore Patriot, have refused to permit the friends of Gen. CASS to hold a meeting in Tammany Hall.

☞ We are indebted to the Hon. A. BERRON for public documents of value.

☞ The remains of Commodore PORTER were interred at the navy yard, Philadelphia, on the 2d ult. with great pomp and ceremony.

THINK OF IT.—Herschel estimated the star "Lyra" to be more than 3,000 times larger than the Sun, which fills a sphere of twice its diameter 63,000 times in space. Who can think of what lies beyond the Milky way, in such a thought, is not the mind lost in sublimity and grandeur!

OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9th, 1844.

THE House met pursuant to adjournment. The roll being called thirty-five members were found to be wanting.

Leave of absence for a few days was granted to Mr. Griffin and Mr. Turner, respectively.

The House took up the bill to repeal an act for the appointment of auctioneers and referred it to the Finance Committee.

The bill to increase the revenue of the state and extend the right of suffrage came up as the special order of the day.

Mr. Brewer the author of the bill being absent,

Mr. Ratliff moved to postpone the bill a fortnight. The motion was supported by Mr. Brewer who intimated that the bill has received long enough before the House to enable every one to make up his mind as to its merits. Mr. Bright that sufficient reason had been given for the postponement, at the bill.

Mr. Ratliff said that the bill had been laid upon the table for two days, and subject to be acted upon by a majority. Mr. Brewer had been unavoidably detained, it was expected that he would have been here yesterday. The author of the bill he has entrusted to the courtesy of the House.

Mr. Bonder said he was opposed to the postponement. There were friends among the Democrats who wished to vote for the bill, and yet the very men who wished it, and were seeking solicitous to get it passed. As for the absent Mr. Brewer, there was every reason and motive for his presence. Gentlemen of the Hurry who made a certain month.

Mr. Pipes opposed postponement. The bill was called up
