LATEST FROM EUROPE.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 26.

By the Turkey mail, which arrived on Tuesday, letters have been received from Constantinople and Smyrna, bearing the dates of the 25th ultimo from the capital, and the 18th from the latter place. They bring the important intelligence, that the Porte had agreed to recognize the intervention of England and France in the affairs of Greece, according to the principle laid down in the treaty of the 6th July. With regard to Russia, however, the Turkish Government has positively declined consenting to its interference with the question, unless that power withdraw its armies beyond the Pruth and renounce all the claims, independently of the Greek treaty, set forth in the Emperor's manifesto. The answer of the Porte, to this effect, had been sent down to Smyrna, from whence the British sloop of war Philomel, which had been waiting for it, sailed with the despatches on the 14th for the Morea. It was generally expected, that this formal intimation of the Sultan's inclination to yield to the wishes of England and France, however qualified by the exception regarding Russia, would bring back the Ambassadors of the two former powers to Constantinople, in a short time.

This circumstance sufficiently shows that the uncompromising spirit of hostility against Russia individually, which has some time prevailed in the Turkish councils, continues unabated; but a still more evident proof of the Sultan's determination to prosecute the war with the utmost vigour, is the well known fact, that he had made preparations of proceeding in person to the seat of war—and, in fact, commenced, on the 15th ult. his journey to Adrianople for that purpose. The march of a Mahomedan Sovereign of the present times does not equal, in celerity, the rapid motions of a Russian Autocrat, so that Mahmoud's head quarters, on the 15th, had not advanced beyond Rasgrad-Chifflick, a village distant only 60 miles from Constantinople, on the Adrianople road.

"Odessa, Sept. 22.—We learn from our camp before Varna, that the Captain Pacha, after most of the houses and a great part of the fortifications had been destroyed, has asked to leave the town unmolested. This proposal was rejected by Count Worowzow. Further accounts are impatiently expected. The news from Asia continues to be favorable, and the victorious progress of General Paskewitsch has exceeded the most sanguine expectations. After the departure of the Empress and the Count Nesselrode, the official bulletins will no longer be published, but at St. Petersburgh. The diplomatic body is still there, and will return to St. Petersburgh, if his Majesty the Emperor should leave the head-quarters.

"Vienna, Oct. 3d.—The Courier de Smyrna, of the 1st September, contains an article from Constantinople, according to which Schumla is provided with provisions and amunition for six months to come. The same, says the Courier, is the case with every other position in the Balkan, and all the disorder that formerly reigned in the Turkish Commissariat had entirely disappeared. The distribution of provisions takes place in the most regular and punctual manner, and this laudable conduct, on the part of Government, has had a most beneficial effect in preventing desertions. The Grand Vizier is accompanied by one of the Plenipotentiaries who signed the treaty of Ackermann, and he will be joined by Argyropoulo, formerly Dragoman of the Porte, by birth a Greek, a man of distinguished talents, who was lately recalled from exile with another very considerable Greek family. The presence of these persons in the camp gives reason to conjecture, that the Porte had been called upon to be ready to enter into negociations for peace, as soon as the time for fixing the preliminary basis of it shall arrive."

"Hamburgh, Oct. 18.—A letter from Frankfort says, that estafettes, received from Vienna, represented the present campaign of the Russians as completely at an end, and the Emperor as about to return to St. Petersburgh. Count Wittgenstein, it is said, is to suspended in his command, and Gen. Ugarow appointed to succeed him.

"Jassy, Sept. 30.—General Roth has chosen Kirsowa as the point of rendezvous for his corps. The unfavorable result of the combat, of the 15th, near Silistria, was the consequence of a panic, occasioned by the appearance of some Spahis in the rear of the Turkish troops. The operations against Silistria, will probably commence after the arrival of reinforcements.

Accounts received on Monday from Turkey, and are on their return to Colombia. St. Petersburgh and other parts of the Baltic, state that almost at the very [illegible] when the Russian Ambassador was pressing on Lord Aberdeen the expediency of submitting to a blockade of the Dardanelles, to prevent the entrance of warlike stores and ammunition into Constantinople, his own Government was actively engaged in chartering English vessels for early despatch of that nature into the Mediterranean, for the use of the Russian fleet. But a contract with the Russian Government, of a still more remarkable kind, was reported on Monday to have been brought to light. It was said, that a contract was proposed for five hundred barrels of gunpowder, and the great manufacturers of that article, as usual, became competitors for it. One of the most eminent among them put in a tender on terms so low that he made perfectly sure of obtaining the contract; but his surprise was extreme at finding that the Duke of Wellington had tendered still lower, and that the whole of the five hundred barrels are to be supplied, in fact, from the Government mills.

The Morning Journal of Oct. 17, says that Gen. Geismar is declared unable to cope with the Pacha of Widdin, and so far from thinking of acting on the offensive, is fortifying himself in Crajova, against surprise. The army is sadly in want of forage, and the bad water occasions a dreadful mortality.

Affairs of Greece.—Alexandria, Aug. 15.—The famous treaty with the Pacha is at length signed. The Morea will be evacuated by Ibrahim Pacha and his army, but there will remain in the fortresses 1,600 Egyptian soldiers, which united with the Turkish force of 6,500 men, will form a garrison of 8,000 men, who our Pacha will have the privilege of provisioning for fifteen months. There are already thirty five Egyptian transports laden with necessaries, and sixteen European vessels are taken up for the same purpose, and others are being sought for.

Aug. 15.—The convoy of thirty-five transports has sailed for the Morea. The Pacha has sent by this first division not only necessaries, but five hundred thousand hard piastres, of the new money struck at Cairo. This expedition is escorted by the French and English vessels of war. The second expedition will sail in about ten days.

TRIESTE, Oct. 1.—We learn from Otranto that part of the French army is preparing to besiege Morea and Coron; the remainder had marched into the interior of the country. We do not hear whether Ibrahim would voluntary evacuate the Morea, and the most profound silence is observed respecting the three squadrons.

AUSTRIA.—TRIESTE, Oct. 1.—Several Austrian men of war, stationed in the roads, have received orders to join the squadron under Admiral Count Dandolo, to proceed together against Morocco, his Imperial Majesty having resolved to require satisfaction for the insults offered to the Austrian flag, and for the seizure of several merchantmen. Count Dandolo is furnished with all necessary instructions. We have had no direct news from the Archipelago for this week past.

PORTUGAL.—It is reported in London that agents had been despatched from the Queen of Portugal to France and Vienna, with proposals to assist her in regaining the crown. It was added that Great Britain would aid, provided the other powers would agree to it.

ENGLAND.—The Revenue for the quarter just ended exceeds by 117,556*l.* that of the former corresponding quarter of last year—a result the more satisfactory as the receipts of this quarter last year were swelled by the sum of 657,133*l.* produced by the customs duty on foreign corn imported, whereas only 90,000*l.* has been received under that head in the quarter just terminated. Last year's receipts were still further augmented by the repayment of 170,000*l.* on account of the Irish coinage, and of course this is to be taken into consideration in comparing the receipts of 1827 and 1828.—Liverpool Adv.

NEW-YORK, November 22.

LATEST FROM COLOMBIA.

By the brig Bunkerhill, Capt. Everleigh, arrived yesterday from Carthagena, whence she sailed on the 28th ult. we are favored with the latest advices from that port, and from Bogota to the 12th Oct.

Our papers do not appear, on a hasty persual, to contain any important news. Tranquility seems to have been restored since the tragical affair of the 25th Sept. and Bolivar stands more firm, perhaps, in the affections of the people than he has at any former time. Investigations are going on concerning the conspirators, and some names, not recognized by us, have been expelled the country. Private letters have been received, which state that Gen. Padilla has been executed as a chief conspirator. We find no mention made of Santander any where.

In consequence of the treaty entered into between the Bolivians and Peru; the Colombian troops have left the coun- [illegible] St. Martha, and are on their return to Colombia. [illegible] fight, has lately taken place off [illegible] between a Peruvian and [illegible] sloop of war. The Peruvian vessel, it seems, appeared off that port in a menacing manner, and the Colombian was despatched to enquire as to her object, but when she approached, a fire was opened upon her, which was effectually returned, and she was finally compelled to make her escape, having experienced considerable injury, and suffered the loss of some lives.

The Gaceta de Colombia, of the 19th Oct., wears the dress or mourning for the death of the serjeant of the Grenadiers, who stood guard in the palace of Bolivar on the night of the conspiracy, and who had died from wounds received at his post.

A subscription was on foot to reward the fidelity of the soldiers who distinguished themselves on that occasion.

"It is a difficult matter, to ride in a carriage through the streets of New-York on Sunday, because there are chains stretched across in front of the churches to prevent their passage during service. The land of liberty has also its chains!"—Duke of Saxe Weimer.

RIGHT VIEWS OF THINGS.

The witty and convivial Kelly being in his early years much addicted to dissipation, his mother advised him to take example of a gentleman whose constant food was herbs, and his drink water. 'What, madame,' said he, 'would you have me imitate a man who eats like a beast and drinks like a fish.'
