FIRST MUNICIPALITY COUNCIL.—The official report of the meeting of the Council appears to-day.

THE UNION MEETING

Last, composed men seem little disposed to [illegible] the Whigs and Democrats who are making preparations for a powerful demonstration in favor of the Union. Why such reluctance should be evinced is to us a mystery. It is true that the opponents of the Peace Party are chiefly Democrats, dislike [illegible] with Whigs, even upon a question which is purely independent of party, and for all above it. The reasons assigned do not seem to us very satisfactory. Some appear to argue as if it be that the "platform" of the anti-compromise men, [illegible] not suit them if they are averse to the expression of attachment to the Union and a determination to acquiesce in the compromises. But, as they declare, the resolutions are entirely willing to recommend to the legislation of Congress justice to slavery, and disposed to evince love of the Union, we take it for granted there will be nothing in the "platform" to [illegible] refined sensibilities from acting in concert with us.

It is hard to suspect the motives of any patriot at the community. [illegible] at least some of the leaders, [illegible] to array themselves against the Union. They strive to create an impression that the Democrats that the meeting is called to disorganize the party, produce dissatisfaction amongst [illegible] and to excite a feeling against the Whigs. Such [illegible] is intended to enure to the benefit of that party. These [illegible] easily preferred than [illegible] by impertinence and [illegible]. The gentlemen who are at the Union movement [illegible] to be [illegible] to [illegible] the Union, and to [illegible] the Union, and to [illegible] the Union, and
