WHIG PLATFORM.

1. Resolved, That we look upon the Whig party as the great conservative party of the country—whose principles are best adapted to foster domestic industry—to develop the resources of the country by a judicious system of internal improvements, and to a wise and energetic administration of the affairs of the nation to advance its interest abroad.

2. Resolved, That we regard the Compromise as constitutional, honorable and binding—to be founded in an enlarged and patriotic patriotism, and that all efforts to agitate or disturb the salutary influence they spring from the Abolitionists are as unconstitutional and at war with the best interest of the country.

3. Resolved, That the Compromise of 1850 has failed in the great object for which it was created, that it has prevented the development of the resources of the country, that agricultural and commercial interests are hung as an incubus around the energies of the people, and that the Whig party pledge themselves and the country to support no man for next Legislature who is not in favor of the passage of a bill for the immediate calling of a convention to change and remodel the organic law as will unfetter the energies of the people, and enable the State to take her stand among her sister States in wealth and improvements.

4. Resolved, That among those Constitutional and Statutory changes, we recognize—

An elective Judiciary.

An important reduction of the legal fees, particularly in the Court of Chancery, so that the people be relieved of a system which, in fact, the most oppressive and unjust that exists in this country.

A "homestead exemption clause" which shall secure a moderate amount of the property of every family of life and the wages of labor shall be exempt from execution.

A well regulated system of Free Banking, guarded and protected, that while it prospers it shall diffuse the benefits to accompany capital, it shall at the same time afford a safe circulation, that shall be convertible at par at all times and under all circumstances.

The delegation of the necessary power to create and foster a wise and liberal system of railroads, manufactories and such other improvements as will tend to encourage the arts and develop the resources of the state.

The adoption of a more perfect system of Public Education, by which the blessings of knowledge, shall be placed within the reach of all classes of society.

THE NORTHERN MAIL came through yesterday with the latest dates.

OUR SUPPLEMENT.—The pressure on our advertising columns induces us to put forth a supplementary sheet to day. Those interested will find that it contains a large number of important announcements.

BAD— [illegible] bank of Bridgeport, of which Mr. P. T. Barnum is a principal stockholder, has [illegible] on one end, and one of Jenny Lind on the other. Oh, vanity! The bank of the bank will not be payable until they have an Annihilator accompanying Barnum's [illegible]. We recommend a new emission with a [illegible] improvement.

ANOTHER DISASTER AT PLAQUEMINE.—On Tuesday night last, [illegible] Plaquemine Sun [illegible], a cave occurred on Fourth street, commencing at the mouth of the Bayou, and extending down as far as Fenn's alley, a distance of some two hundred and fifty yards. Fortunately, no houses were submerged by the cave, but the space which will be necessary for the construction of a new and substantial levee, will cause many a valuable improvement to be pulled down. Several proprietors have already commenced exterminating their dominions, and we presume, on a more secure spot. The loss by this sad disaster, is computed to be enormously great.

WEATHER — CROPS — The St. Louis Intelligencer Chronicle, says: Dust, Dust! is all. So far this place a few days since, but no relief has been extended to the desirous of our readers for weeks. Our nostrils are daily doomed to be clogged up by an over abundance of roughly pulverized mother-earth, and we are compelled to keep up an eternal sneezing in order to fit our sitsfactories for the duties nature intended they should perform. The cotton crop, will be larger than we had anticipated in this section. The damage sustained by the drought, is not so great as it was thought to be.

NAVAL.—The U. S. frigate St. Lawrence, now fitting out at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, is nearly ready for sea. She is destined for the Pacific, under command of Capt. Henry Ingraham.

The U. S. steam frigate Susquehanna, Capt. Aulick, was reprieving at Rio de Janeiro, on the 26th Aug., and was expected to leave for the East Indies about the 1st inst.

The U. S. sloop of war Jamestown, Lieut. Downing, for Montevideo, was also at R.

The U. S. sloop of war Albany, sailed from Key West on the 10th inst. for Havana.

The U. S. store ship Supply, sailed from San Francisco, on the 30th August for New York via Valparaiso.

ASIATIC EXPECTED.—The New York correspondent of the Washington Union comments very freely upon the Syracuse outrage, and exclaims:

"What an abolition of the fruits of higher law Whiggery, as expounded by the Tribune and its other organs!"

He then attributes this and the Cleveland tragedy to the fact that Whig Governors preside over New York and Pennsylvania, praising out what they ought to do, and ends with saying:

"This is what would be done were they present every Democratic executive; and this is what they will, in any event, be able to do, if they are true to themselves at the coming elections."

Here, we have you! Here we pin you, man! The Mayor of Syracuse, through whose want of vigor, the mob went of heart, to execute the law, this outrage occurred, is Horace Wheaton whose name will be found in every Democratic paper of the State as the Democratic candidate for canal commissioner, for whose success the Washington Union is most anxious, and every other paper of that school in the slaveholding States.

A GIANT.—The Ohio State Journal gives an account of a huge specimen of humanity, a giant, which it says is a giant, and one of the greatest living curiosities extant. He stands about eight feet high, weighing over four hundred pounds, with good proportion, and yet he is a beardless boy, and is still growing. He is 21 years of age, and, as he is now, is able to walk [illegible] without assistance, [illegible] of clothes [illegible] of shoes [illegible] of stockings [illegible] of hat [illegible] of gloves [illegible] of shirts [illegible] of pocket handkerchiefs [illegible] of coats [illegible] of vests [illegible] of pantaloons [illegible] of boots
