MEDICAL

M. W., who has been afflicted with a severe cough for four years, cannot but immortalize another fact in favor of the Rob Boyveau, which has cured him of the last eight months she has enjoyed perfect health.

MARIE MAOUT, Apothecary.

Saint-Malo, Feb. 27, 1849.

A Lady, between 40 and 45 years of age, had been for a long time adicted with a sore tumor below her left breast; all the means employed for her relief had been unavailing, and as the critical period of her life approximated, she was in great fear that the tumor would assume a frightful developement. In this painful situation she was advised to try the Rob Boyveau, which soon cured her completely.

EMILE COET, Apothecary.
Member of the Medical Jury of the Department of the Somme.

Roye, (Somme) March 14, 1840.

M. P., who was afflicted with a sore throat or sore tongue, from which he suffered for a long time, made use of the Rob: three bottles sufficed for his perfect cure.

A young child, the victim of the misconduct of its parents, and who was completely covered with pure pimples, had to be completely purified by the use of the Rob Boyveau, and now enjoys good health.

Madame D., belonging to a respectable class of society, had suffered for many years with the floor albus, which had resisted every remedy she was recommended to try; the Rob, and six bottles made her the total disappearance of the complaint.

BEJIAN, Apothecary at Lisieux.

M. S., attacked with tetters on the legs and stomach has been completely cured by the use of the Rob.

M. B., who had been for a long time tormented by itchy pimples which every year returned at the same period, was also cured by taking five bottles and a half of the Rob Boyveau.

M. F., who had suffered for three years from a clavel which had resisted every kind of treatment, was completely cured by taking six bottles of the Rob. He has not since had the slightest return of the complaint.

REJON, Apothecary.
Thiers, March 17, 1843.

Madame C., who had a tumor in her left side and suffered much from the disorder, by the expending of a thousand remedies to obtain relief; six bottles of the Rob, accompanied by the use of a purifying drink of sarsaparilla prescribed by her medical attendant, effected a perfect cure.

E. FOISSET,
Apothecary.

Montmeze, Jura, had been for many years affected with a tetter, which frequently cause so her face. The use of four bottles effected a cure which appears to have been durable.

COUTANT,
Fontainebleau, Feb. 22, 1849. Apothecary.

M. P., had for many years a kind of tetter on the upper part of the hands and on the arms. After using six quart bottles of the Rob boyveau Lafecteur, he was perfectly cured and has not since felt any return of the complaint.

M. G., a tradesman, suffered for some than from a violent itching on his body, which at times was so intolerable that for months together he could scarcely obtain a minute's sleep. He only took three bottles of the Rob before he was completely cured. He told me a few days since that he was in excellent health and had a good appetite.

LEGROS, Apothecary.
Auton, Nov. 1st, 1849.

M. B. T., attacked with gout and tetters the consequence of which was that he had tried every kind of remedy but without effect. Twenty bottles of the Rob completely cured him of the disease which had very long clinging.

VIE DELAYE, Agent for the sale of the Rob.
Macon, Feb. 12, 1845. Rue Boyvin.

Madame B., who had a tetter-like affection on the right hand, which completely deprived her of the use of it, left entirely cured by the use of six bottles of the Rob, after having three was completely cured.

M. F., residing in the same town, had such an irritation on the left shoulder, that he could not lie down. In consequence of scratching it, he produced extensive ulcers, which for three years, the appearance of a bad wound. After taking five bottles every thing had disappeared, but he continued until the 6th, in order to make his cure more complete.

M. H., had a tetter and warts in the arms; he was completely cured by the Rob.

BIRU,
Montdidier, Feb. 1, 1845. Apothecary.

The wife of a master mason contracted a dartrous complaint, which in a few days spread over all the limbs; it had the bright and extended up as far as the false ribs. This disease was communicated to her by her husband who had during his youth suffered from an obstinate tetter, as it had also a large tetter on the inner part of the scrotum. By the advice of a surgeon of the garrison the R. Boyveau was administered and few bottles effected a complete cure.
