The New Orleans Bee.

NO. 109 CHARTRES STREET. NEW ORLEANS, FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 19, 1855. {Vol. XVI.—NEW SERIES. {Vol. XXIX.—Whole No. 7974

THE DAILY BEE.,

Friday Morning, October 19th, 1855.

☞ The office of the "Bee" is removed to 109 Chartres street, between Conti and St. Louis streets.

☞ The Northern Mail brought two of the Boston papers yesterday. Two are still due.

AN HONEST AVOWAL.

On the evening of the 9th instant, a meeting of the Republican, or Fusion party was held in the city of New York, among the persons who addressed the meeting was the notorious Senator from Massachusetts. In the course of his remarks, this sometime member of Congress, and furious Abolitionist, gave a recent political gyration of the Americans in the most violent and venomous terms. Leaving out that portion of his speech which relates to the subject, as it illustrates only the position invariably assumed by the advocates of the American party, their doctrines are necessarily strongly hostile to anti-slavery. Said Mr. Wilson:

"Last year and a half a new party came into existence and, aided by the Nebraska sentiment of the country, it has sent many to Congress fairly or unfairly opposed to the extension of slavery. But the South demanded that the American party should be a pro-slavery organization. I saw last winter, in Washington, that it was to be made to force the entire party to bow down in absolute submission to the slave power, and I then made it a member of that organization, and I now say it is a pro-slavery organization, and if I had the power, shiver it to atoms and fragments. (Great applause.) I have not conceived to do what I could to save the American party from becoming a slavery organization. Early in May last, I made a speech in the Senate, in which I said that, in all candor, that there are men of the country ought to remember that whenever the Americans shall rise behind upon the anti-slavery sentiment of the country, in that day it should be all in June last, we went to Philadelphia. The slave party came there, and defeated the American party should associate pro-slavery legislation of the country, in that day it should be all in June last, we went to Philadelphia. The slave party came there, and defeated the American party should associate pro-slavery legislation of the country. Sir, I have been in the Senate of the United States, and I have seen the slave power, and I then made it a member of that organization, and I now say it is a pro-slavery organization, and if I had the power, shiver it to atoms and fragments. (Great applause.) I have not conceived to do what I could to save the American party from becoming a slavery organization. Early in May last, I made a speech in the Senate, in which I said that, in all candor, that there are men of the country ought to remember that whenever the Americans shall rise behind upon the anti-slavery sentiment of the country, in that day it should be all in June last, we went to Philadelphia. The slave party came there, and defeated the American party should associate pro-slavery legislation