NEW-ORLEANS. THURSDAY, (MORNING,) FRERUARY 3, 1831. We have received from the Hon. J. S. John.

STON, a printed copy of a letter addressed by him to the Secretary of the Tressury, in reply to his circular of the 1st July 1830, relative to the Legislature of the Union? culture of the sugar cane.

The letter with the tables annexed in an appendix, make a pamphlet of twenty-one pages in will be established here in a short time; every pendix, make a pampaiet of twenty-one pages in with the contains a vast amount of highly arrangement necessary to such a purpose . Valence. important and valuable information on this, to made, us, peculiarly interesting subject. It evinces on his part, ample knowledge of the interests of his constituents, and that he is alive to, and efficient in his exertions to promote their welfare. We of it, before our readers to-morrow.

CHRIST REJECTED. - This celebrated Picture will be open for exhibition this morning at the Marinor's Church. We have never yet had an opportunity of seeing it; but giving credence to universal opinion both in Europe and this counrry, we have no hesitation in calling public attention to it. We are informed that the painting co isists of unwards of one hundred figures, the most prominent of which are the Saviour, Pilote the Roman Governor, and Caiphas the Jewish high pri at This magnificent production which icas been pronounced the master piece of modern times, is the work of Benjumin West, - an artist of American birth, who received in England the highest professional honors the king could bestow, and from all Europe, that homage which genius every where commands. As we hope soon to see it, we shall perhaps take another occasion to speak of it more in detail.

The two Browns, (Daniel and James are their christian names,) who were arrested on Satur. day last, for putting in circulation counterf it notes of the Bank of the U. S., underwent an examination yesterday, and were remanded to fail.

It is understood that a proposition was made by one of their counsel to give bail for their appearance at court, on being put in possession of the good money taken from them at the time of their arrest. We are happy to learn that this proposal was not acceeded to: for they lrave the bill. It was justly remarked by Mr. Stanlong engaged in the traffic, and who have repeatedly escaped from justice by forfeiting and paying their bonds, when they have been bound over for trial. They are known to possess considerable property, which has been acquired by their depredations upon the public; and it is not patriotic than selfish motives—will be found at doubted that their late spoils, would enable them to pay a large sum for their enlargement.

Daniel Brown has been known as a counterfeiter for the last twelve or fifteen years; -so adroit and successful in his operations, as not only to elude the arm of justice, but also, par excellence, to gain the appellation of " Counterfeit-which we are unwilling to enco mer. By n cent intelligence from Washington city, we are informed that a renewed attempt against the duty on sugar in the House of Representatives has met with more favor than the previous one; the House has decided to consider the proposition by a majority of 89 to 85. It is remark-by a warm friend of the President. 2dly. That every member of the majority was a friend of the President except three, and these three were from Southern States. 3dly. That not a member from any Southern State voted against the proposition but the mem-bels from Louisiana. This perseverance in a measure which aims a death blow at the prosperity of Louisiana, and of those numerous interests in other bistes, depending upon the successful culture of the sugar cane in this, is deeply to be regretted. The time relected for the proposal indicates but little synpathy in the condition of the inhabitants of Lousiana; since it is brought forward at a moment when, by the failuse of half of the crop of one year, and a material diminution of that of the succeeding year, by premature frosts, the profits of the planter are reduced below what they have b. en at any former period. Why is the State of Louisiana thus threatened with total rain! If she had remained a colemy of any one of the great powers of Europe, (France or even England for example,) with what think, depends the prosperity of the country seduious care would all her interests have been cherished! would they have hesitated for a mo-meat to give a preference to her productions over thro' our land. If the work of destruction of the culture of sugar cane in Louisiana, the inevitable effect of the repeal or reduction of the duty, were accomplished, what would into the duty i tiom of the duty, were accomplished, what would be the consequence to the American consumer of sugar? It is confidently believed he would not be able to purchase the article cheaper, but would probably be obliged to give a higher price. It is now kept down by the competition between the foreign and domestic supply. Let that competition cease, let foreigners acquire the monopoly of supplying the consumption of the people of characters.
