By D. E. Murphy, at 11 o'clock, at 47 Magazine street, brogans and gaiters.

By the Sheriff, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers' Exchange, the house of No. 34 Bourbon street.

McCerren & Landry will sell a fine assortment of furniture at 11 o'clock, A. M., this day, at the Masonic Hall, corner St. Charles and Perdido street.

SALE CONTINUED.—The sale of the contents of hardware store No. 26 Magazine street, will be resumed to-day, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

D. E. Murphy, auctioneer, sells this day, at 11 o'clock, A. M., in store No. 47 Magazine street, 20 cases shoes. See advertisement.

A fine opportunity is offered to enterprising individuals by D. E. Murphy, auctioneer, who will sell in the Merchants' Exchange on Saturday, May 21, 1864, at 4 o'clock M., the steamboat Black Hawk. See his auction advertisement.

The Sheriff sells at auction this day at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers' Exchange, Royal street, the unexpired term of the lease of the premises No. 74 Bourbon street, between Bienville and Conti streets, Second District. For particulars see advertisement.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—No single ill Remedies are doing more in so difficult diseases to relieve, as from their active influence in the human body in stimulating, purifying, regulating, and invigorating the system, they are without a parallel in the daily life and sure remedies for their subjects. Sold everywhere.

Mr. C. C. Row, clerk of the steamer Lancaster No. 4, has politely obliged us with a copy of the Natchez Courier of the 17th inst.

STEAMERS FROM NEW YORK.—In the New York papers of the 11th the morning Star is advertised to leave for New Orleans, direct, on the 14th, and the Matanzas, also direct, on the 14th.

EXPULSION OF AN EDITOR.—The Courrier Français, of the city, announced yesterday morning that one of its editors, Mr. Placide Canonge, in obedience to order, left this city on Tuesday evening, by stage coach, to the schooner Alligator, for Pensacola. At the same time a letter from Mr. Canonge appears in the Courrier, informing the public that on the 17th of May his editorial connection with that paper ceases.

CONTERFEIT CITY CURRENCY.—A gentleman of the City Treasury Department has brought to the notice of a contemporary a counterfeit of the city currency, of the denomination of 50 cents. It is the opinion of the gentleman that a number of such bills have been put in circulation. The counterfeit can be easily detected. The paper of the bill printed in green is much darker than in the genuine, the shading of the letters heavier and the paper stiffer. Holders of genuine 50 cents bills are requested to present them at the City Treasury for exchange.

A SUMMER SEASON AT THE ACADEMY.—It will be seen that the enterprising and prudent management of the Academy of Music is about to inaugurate a summer season, beginning on Saturday next. This is a considerate step, and will undoubtedly continue to relieve the tedium of summer, for a large class of the population, will no doubt reward the management and the artists of the Academy for their efforts to afford attractive, elegant and innocent entertainment and diversion.

Special care has been taken to secure coolness and comfort by plenty of ventilation—an indispensable desideratum in the warm period just at hand.

Constitutional Convention.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 18, 1864.

After the introduction of several unimportant resolutions relative to tardy members, and adjournment, Mr. Flanders is called up his resolution of yesterday, to repeal the act of the Twenty thousand dollars to the various charitable institutions of the State.

A motion was made to table the resolution which failed, but subsequently, it was lifted by an unanimous adding to the Fireman's Charitable Association five thousand dollars.

Mr. Foley opposed the resolution, declaring that members of the Convention who intended going to Washington, and the Widows Convention shall receive, and the Chair tabled by a vote of 36 to 30.

The Convention then resumed the consideration of the Legislative Department.

On motion of Mr. Purcell that portion of the report defining as a qualification of voters that they shall be able to read and write, was stricken out by a vote of 71 yeas to 8 nays.

Pending discussion on the apportionment of members, the Convention adjourned.

Items from Natchez.

THE Natchez Courier, of the 17th, has the following:

THE GREAT FIRE OF SATURDAY MORNING.—Our city has again suffered severely by fire, probably the work of an incendiary.

On Saturday last, some after 12 o'clock we discovered in the Tremont House, on the corner of Maine and Wall street, which swept away that corner and the large building of John Hyde, crossing the street, to burn the Physicians Drug Store, and from there again to Wall street. All the buildings were destroyed consisting of some ten or twelve stores and dwellings.

Many families are sufferers and much merchandise was burnt. We could not obtain the amount of loss.

Time was have had another of the best portion of our city for business, and few, very few, are there among the owners of lands able to rebuild thereon.

MAJOR-GENERAL CONST PASSES DOWN.—The dispatch boat T. F. Wilson, having on board Major-General Canby, the new commander of the Southwest Department, passed down last Saturday morning.

MAJOR-GEN. SLOCUM, AND HIS ORDER FOR INTERMEDDLING GOVERNMENT AGENTS OUT OF THE PROPERTY OF THE DISLOYAL.

General Orders No. 6.

Headquarters District of Vicksburg,
VICKSBURG, MISS., May 12, 1864.

1. The U. S. Government having adopted the policy of leasing abandoned plantations and giving employment to Freedman, it is the duty of the military authorities to give protection as far as possible to the lessee and laborer. This protection can only be given by holding responsible the owners in whom the bands of guerrillas, who are constantly committing depredations upon them, are organized and encouraged.

II. It is therefore ordered, that hereafter in every instance where a Government lessee is robbed of his property, the Commanding Officer of the nearest Military Post, shall send a sufficient force to the place of robbery with instructions to arrest from disloyal citizens of the property adjacent to the robbery the lessees, which property will be sold at public auction and the proceeds paid to the injured parties. In the event that the lessees are destroyed or in any manner injured, crops of the same kind will be seized from the nearest disloyal plantation and treated for the benefit of the injured party. If any lessee be killed by guerrillas, an assessment of ten thousand dollars will come to be levied upon the disloyal people residing within thirty miles of the place where the offence was committed. Property of any kind will be seized and sold for this purpose. If a special assessment will be appropriated for the benefit of the family of the lessee. Full report of all seizures and sales of property under this order will in all cases be forwarded direct to these Headquarters.

III. In assessing upon the classes of persons who are to be assessed, it should not be forgotten that the cause of allegiance is not an infallible test of loyalty. If a citizen has relatives and friends among these outlaws, if he harbors or protects them, or if, having the means to do so, he fail to inform the lessee of their approach, he must be held accountable. Men must be judged by their acts, and not by the cause they have taken.

By command of Major-Gen. H. W. SLOCUM.
H. C. KOBURN,
Assistant Adjutant General.

From Virginia via Mobile.

Last evening a Tri-Daily has the following:

From a Mobile paper of the 14th instant, we receive intelligence that General Lee has fallen back to his intrenchments at Richmond.

This disposes of the Richmond statement, so freely made upon the street yesterday. Strictly right-loners, that General Grant has been forced beyond the Rapidan by Lee and his cohorts.

A Soldier Murderer's Memorse.

During the battle of Gettysburg, Mr. Jeremiah Dupoy, of Company D, Seventh Connecticut Volunteers, was shot in the back of the head and killed, evidently by some one in our own ranks. And suspicion fell upon a substitute for a drafted man, named John Rowley, of the same company, who had had a quarrel with Dupoy and been slapped by him. Servant Bross charged Rowley with the crime, which he confessed it, and is reported to have made the following statement:

Well, Sergeant, I did kill Dupoy, he slobbed me at St. Helena. I swore if I ever got a chance I'd kill him. I had one at Gettysburg and I killed him. Nor is he the only one I have killed or caused to die. I cut the throats of a sailor on a gunboat, since the war began, and I killed, by stabbing, a man in New York, which caused me to leave my family and go as a substitute for a drafted man last fall. But the ghost of Dupoy is the only one that ever troubled me. Since the battle I have dreamed the night, for they are horrible nights. When on picket, I always see Dupoy stand a little way in front, his face all blood, and the bullet hole in his forehead. At night, when I am dreaming, he stands at the entrance. I awake, he is there, pale and bloody. I keep this terrible secret to myself. Sometimes I think I must tell it or die. I swear I will tell it no more, so I see him. I guess I shall be shot for it.

He was of course tortured and then shot, he confessed his crime, and it will be published by death. It is said that both the men were very bad men.

A dandy, while being interested for a pair of Lorie, observed, "Make them cover the calf." "However," exclaimed the wearied cutler, surveying his customer from head to foot, "I have not leather enough."

Taxes in France.

The official returns published of the produce of the indirect taxes, in France, for the first three months of the present year, show an augmentation of 5,777,000f. as compared with the corresponding period of last year, and an increase of 59,921,000f. as compared with the first three months of the year 1862. The receipts during the first three months of the year 1862 were 258,731,000f.; 1863, 278,129,000f.; in 1864, 291,622,000f. It has been claimed that a prosperous country like France ought to find the produce of her indirect taxes increase annually by 40,000,000f. In these returns, consequently, not satisfactory.

If we compare these returns with the receipts anticipated for the budget, we shall find a deficiency of 14,153,000f.; but, as the estimates in the budget are calculated for the entire year, it is not impossible that the remaining nine months may supply the deficiency. On analyzing these returns we find a deficiency of 11,085,000f. in the duty paid on the manufactures of the sugar; 5,000,000f. in the duty paid on colonial sugar; 2,000,000f. in the registry duties; 361,000f. under the head of sundry merchandise; 284,000f. in the duty paid on corn, and 80,000f. in the postage on foreign letters. There is an increase of 8,634,000f. in the duty paid on foreign sugar imported; 1,200,000f. in the duty on tobacco; 1,021,000f. on foreign liquors; 614,000f. on salt; 315,000f. on gunpowder; 280,000f. in the Post-Office; 209,000f. in stamp duties, and 60,000f. on navigation duties.

THE RUSSELL-DAVIS CORRESPONDENCE.—Not long since one of the daily papers of this city took from a Mobile paper what purported to be a spicy correspondence between Lord Russell and Jeff Davis on the subject of the rams. There was strong reason at the time to doubt the genuineness of the documents. Doubt, it seems, was fully justified. The Mobile Tribune, adverting to it, says that, noticing Lyons's note, dated April 1, it concluded that the whole affair was an April Fool, and that its belief was strengthened on the second reading of Russell's letter, as it bears strong marks of a hoax or April-fool-ee.

The last sentence of the above is copied by our contemporary from the "Extracts from Southern Papers," published in the New York News of the 7th inst. We cannot see where the "doubt, it seems, was fully justified." The number of the Tribune containing the correspondence did not hint the least "doubt of the genuineness of the documents." Quite contrary. And we are inclined to think that the remark attributed to the Tribune was made by the Columbus (Ga.) Times, from which the New York News copies a synopsis of the correspondence, and to which synopsis the remark is appended. The question of genuineness was referred to in the columns at the time of copying the correspondence, and therefore need not be discussed again.—Free press of yesterday.

The Wrong Man Pouliced.

The following story, which we do not remember to have seen in print, is now circulating on Change. It may be old, but it is received as new and alarming:

At a business water hole, well in the memory of many residents was severely afflicted with a spasm of fastidiousness, which neither gin cock nor water could remove. It was a hot night, and he was in bed. Hot living wife, unwilling to wake her husband, descended to the kitchen and prepared an infused juniper, which she spread in her own handkerchief, and presented with a so her husband fainted. Before leaving him, she left a light dimly burning in the apartment. Let, deeply impressed with anxiety, she was not so careful as she might have been in closing the door of her room.

Guided by a light which she saw shining in a chamber, and which she supposed was the one she had left, she entered, and quietly facing the bed-curtains, laid her warm pillow upon a stranger, but it was not that of her lord.

Half-other. When the man was awakened, she had a sense of blackness and the body and pillow, whereon it rested, stinking out of bed.

The lady recovered and ran her husband rushed from his bed, in the dark, and, in his waters, tumbled and a small scene ensued, more to the amusement of all concerned. The poul tered, and the man had to remain left a light in his room, and it relieved the lady from her pain.

His husband was so amused and excited by the incident that he gave her a fine dress, but left her pants unknown. The pulled man still resides in the backbone, a beautiful cambric with the lady's name on it, which he considers of rare value.—Boston Traveler.

Anecdote of General Lee.

(From the Richmond Daily News, April 23.)

Gen. Lee, the able Richmond correspondent of the Mobile Register, in a recent letter tells the following anecdote:

In General Lee's tent most of seten but twice a week, he is a devout and adopting it oftener, because in following indeed he is the model to be emulated in the present straitened condition of the country. His ordinary dinner consists of a few potatoes, called upon boiled in salt water, and a pone of corn bread. In this connection, rather a comic story is told. Having invited a number of gentlemen to dine with him, General Lee, in a fit of extravagance, ordered a sumptuous repast of cabbage and middling. The dinner was served, and behold, a great pile of cabbage, and a big old middling, cut in the shape of a gentleman's dress. The guests, with commendable politeness, unanimously declined meddling and it remained in solitary grandeur. Next day General Lee, remembering the delicate dish which had been so providentially preserved, ordered it to be served. Hung that middling. The man hesitated, scratching his head, and finally owned up. "De lar is, massa Robert, dat pre-mortion was here d-middlin. We all did it had lar a spec, an I thought paid it back to the man what I got it from." General Lee heaved a deep sigh of disappointment, and pitched into his cabbage.

GARIBALDI AND THE CATHOLICS.—The London correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, speaking of the Garibaldi furore in England, says:

Another remarkable thing in connection with this affair is the jealousy it has engendered among the Roman Catholics in England. The recent concessions made to this religious sect have rendered them so I forest-ed, would be the face, more bold in speech, more impudent in their demands. Several communications have appeared, in some of the most respectable journals, calculated to stir up the people of London to repudiate the claim of Garibaldi upon their hospitality, on account of his well known hostility to the Pope. They do not mince the matter in the least. One Writer says, "that the bitter enemy of Him whom we revere most on earth, should be taken in solemn procession through the streets of the metropolis, is unworthy of the English people.

INCREASE OF CRIME.—The Chicago Times thus discourses on the increase of crime there and elsewhere:

Crime is on the ascendant. Outrage follows outrage. Men are murdered in their own homes, women are ravished upon the highway, robberies are committed at no boundary, females abandon virtue and become women of the town, virtue do follows disgrace, and poor, confiding, silly girls are lured from the path of deception made to feel the pangs of disgrace and infamy! While the vicissitudes of war are rife in the country of its youth, the baneful seeds of demoralization and corruption are ripening, and freedom all over the land weep over the disgrace of some one of its members, as well as over those who are in battle.

CITY INTELLIGENCE

Provost Court—Judge Atocha Presiding.—F. E. Marshall, of the 8th U. S. Infantry, was charged with the unmilitarlike act of beating Mary Thompson. This occurred some month's ago. Mr. Marshall, of the Thirteenth Connecticut Volunteers, received the same sentence for beating Chas. Spencer.

Jurvis Brooks was arrested with goods in his shop $2, which he was about to take up to Donaldsonville without a permit. He was fined $50.

U. S. Provisional Court—Hon. Judge Cole Presiding Judge.—The trial of the negro John Lewis, charged with arson, in burning a house and causing the death of Mr. McCormick thereby, as stated yesterday, resulted in a verdict of guilty. Jury charged as an accomplice, is to be tried and judged on the same charge.

Second District Recorder's Court—Chas. Lemmont, Esq. Presiding.—Mich. Kogel, for selling 50 cords of firewood without inspection, was fined $25 for contempt of the city ordinance relative to the inspection of firewood.

Aaron Askins, running a dray without a license had to pay a penalty of $25. John Dorsey, for running a milk wagon, had to pay the same amount of fine.

George Wallace, who was too noisy in the Bienville, was fined $5.

Frazine, colored, was workhoused for 15 days as a suspected thief and vagrant.

First District Recorder's Court—H. T. Venneard, Presiding.—Ellen Dillon was charged by officer Griffin with lewdness, drunkenness and disturbing the peace. Accused denied the charges in toto, she being an honest, hard-work ing woman, with an exemplary character, which she unfortunately lost a few days ago, when she could exhibit it to the Honor in black and white, and then the police transaction in the case she did not deny honest at all. She had duly a dime when the officer accosted her and he wanted a quarter. The Recorder considered her charge worth thirty days in the workhouse and sent her there.

Hiram Newser, who staggered under his load of whisky, was fined $2.50.

Two colored nymphs who said they formerly lived with their guardian, Mrs. Green, were brought up as vagrants although they professed to be industrious washerwomen. They were sent to Col Hanks to be assigned to work.

Jacob Hampton, a stout black, was sent to the same authority. Colonel Tom, supposed to make a good soldier, was sent to Col Bange.

Sarah Jones, an industrious seamstress, took some oil of clover for her toothach. A sotsman found her stupidly drunk. She was discharged.

Lawrence Flemming charged with having cruelly beaten a mule of Mrs Regan, had to give bail to appear for examination.

Increase of Crime.—Two cases of robbery yesterday evening in a dwelling on First street, between Tchoupitoulas and St. Peter streets. The damage done is estimated at barely $750. The property consisted of a small grocery building occupied by the colored family named Dunbar.

First District Court—Judge Hurstand.—Ch. Smith, a donkey, was convicted of having stolen a pair of pantaloons valued at $2.50. He a week his sentence.

Miscellaneous Items.

"These dear eyes of thine!" as the old gentleman said when he kissed his wife a hand some pair of gold spectacles.

"A lass! a lass!" exclaimed an old bachelor who wanted to marry. "Alas! alas!" he cried, after he had been married awhile.

The Great Clairvoyant,
MADAME LA BLANCH.
THE Greatest Natural Clairvoyant and Spirit Vision Medium in the world, positively consulted by no one should neglect to test Madame La Blanch's power. Her Parlors, the present and the Future are as plain as a picture of life. Her Office and the public are in hour to wind that Madame La Blanch is the only living true, scientific and distinguished FEMALE ASTROLOGER in the known world. Horoscopes or Charts of Life can only be correctly calculated through the agency of Astronomy, viz: Astrology.
All who have been the victims of unprincipled pretenders and impostors should call on Madame La Blanch. She has proved an invaluable reputation as an Astrologer and Clairvoyant, which has induced many disciples of learning to style themselves Clairvoyants and students of Astrology, though ignorant of the sciences they attempt to grasp. Rash and every one are invited to call and test the powers of this highly gifted lady.
N. B.—Horoscopes or Charts of Life perfect in writing, by simply knowing date of birth. Medicines sent to all parts of the country. All letters promptly answered. Consultation fee, $1. Front parlors, $2. Terms for Lodge and Gentlemen, moderate, to suit the times. Parlors, 104 Canal street, corner of Bienville, No. 104 Bienville street, between Bourbon and Dauphine streets, opposite Indian Canal street. may7 1m

A well spring of hope for all can be found in
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.
Be of good cheer! The Sinking may be saved! By the use of
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT
The history of these great Remedies is the most wonderful medical revelation that the world has ever known. It establishes the important fact that wherever and in whatever shape internal disease exists, the Pills, purifying, searching and healing properties of the Pills are fully equal to its suppression and cure, and that, with the Ointment, they are
The Great Ambassadors of Health to all Mankind.
This is not a history written by one man or even derived from the experience of one nation. It consists of a compilation of testimonials from the sick of every country—an unbiased, unanimous record, the like of which never been attempted in favor of any discovery or invention since time began.
Three Mighty Healers, World-known and World-tried, are a Boon to the Sick.
The world of a world's medication to meet the illness and sufferings of the suffering portion of humanity, and to multiply free from misery and other deformities, the Pills have become the universal popular medicine. Their extraordinary powers are known and acknowledged in every quarter of the globe. The Pills have become the universal popular medicine. They purify the blood, the source of life, they regulate the action of the liver, the great laboratory of the system, and from a sluggish liver arises the greater number of the diseases to which the human family are subject. They purify the stomach, and give tone to the digestive organs, they purify the blood, they regulate the action of the liver, they purify the system and give vigor and vitality to the sinking invalid. They are a mild aperient, and a most efficacious purgative. In fact, they are a family medicine, adapted to all ages and conditions, and under all circumstances and climates, they are invaluable as a purgative, they are invaluable as a tonic, they are invaluable as a mild aperient, they are invaluable as a purgative, they are invaluable as a tonic, they are invaluable as a mild aperient, they are invaluable as a purgative, they are invaluable as a tonic, they are invaluable as a mild aperient, they are invaluable as a purgative, they are invaluable as a tonic, they are invaluable as a mild aperient, they are invaluable as a purgative, they are invaluable as a tonic, they are invaluable as a mild aperient, they are invaluable as a purgative, they are
