"Why, madam, I think he's as likely to make a blockhead of any thing."

THE undersigned having purchased the house at the corner of Levee & Rail Road streets immediately at the upper end of the Portchartrain (Rail Road), here left no pains untaken, nor spared any expense, to make his house elegant and comfortable place of resort for the ladies and gentlemen of New Orleans. The lower part is since opened the 1st of July instant as a Coffee House for gentlemen; the upper part is devoted to ladies and family parties, where they will be supplied with iced lemonades, ice creams, confectionary, coffee and every kind of refreshment. The wines and liquors purchased for his establishment are of the first quality, and he has secured such Barkeepers and waiters as he feels assured, will give general satisfaction. The house is so happily situated as to command not only two third of the view of the Rail Road, but the most beautiful and interesting views of the city, river and shipping up and down.

Joseph Gallet and Thomas Coffinet, convicted of Piracy and Murder on the brig Orbic, of this port, were executed at Boston on the 16th June. They were attended to the scaffold by clergymen and met their fate with firmness and composure. After the bodies had hung the usual time they were removed to the Jail yard, where under the direction of Dr. Webster and a great number of scientific gentlemen, the power of the Galvanic Battery was applied with great success.
