Dr. Mott's CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An experiment and Scientific preparation of IRON, refined of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen, Sanctioned by the highest medical authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in the practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and sallow or sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every inconceivable case. Immediate in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Hysteria, Chronic Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic headache, Rheumatism, Intermittent fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the fault of most disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, material of this preparation has proved unconditional. Great which no description nor written attestation could render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have steadily recovered in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, associated victims of apparent marasmus, nervous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for seasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overbearing; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being cathartic purgative, or inflicting adhesive sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes a remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy in worse, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which ormes them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHÆ, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians in a severer gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, the medicated iron has had ample trial, and the fact of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine without any other well known disabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine which exerts such prompt, happy and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing fifty pills, price 50c. per box; for sale by druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the price. Allitators, orders, etc., should be addressed to

LAWS OF HEALTH.

LORD BYRON has expressed, in a few words the most attractive and innate desire of mankind. He says: "Man's first desire is health; he then wishes for long life." The habits and customs of society, and but too many occupations and pursuits are unfortunately opposed to health, which requires a life conditions, regular habits of exercise, both of the mind and the body, regular hours of rest and repose, fresh air, wholesome food and pure water. Of course these great blessing, so only be enjoyed by a small portion of the human family, and of that portion too many neglect to turn their golden opportunity to account. In the absence of such opportunities, it becomes necessary to strengthen the system by the use of such hygienic preparations as harmonize with its condition and its requirements.

This fact the inhabitants of unhealthy regions of our country have long since discovered. The only question is, however, "What shall we use?" To be best suited, we look for the means of escaping sickness and extending to its natural limit the lease of life!

It is certified by hundreds of witnesses of the highest standing and respectability in the United States South and Central America, Mexico, the Empire of Brazil, Islands of the Pacific, and other countries where HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are sold, that they are invaluable as a safeguard against the epidemics and endemics of every climate a specific for weakness and general debility—a swift and certain cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and every species of indigestion—an unfailing remedy for intermittent Fever, Fever and Ague, and all kinds of periodical disorders—a means of immediate relief in Flux, Colics and Choleric maladies—a cure for Costiveness, a mild and salutary laxative and corroborant for delicate females—a good, anti-bilious alterative and tonic preparation for ordinary family purposes—a powerful excipient after the frame has been reduced and attenuated by sickness—an excellent aperitive as well as a strengthener of the digestive forces—a depurative of the blood and other fluids, and a general household remedy, including within its a corrective and mild cathartic, and an agreeable and wholesome stimulant.

DYSPEPSIA.

IN CHRONIC INDIGESTION, is the most painful and it most difficult to cure. It originates in a loss of tone in the stomach, or rather in the fibrous muscular lining of that organ, which becomes irritable and feeble, and cannot secrete in sufficient quantity the gastric juices, which should dissolve the food. Dyspepsia is usually accompanied with more or less inflammation of the membrane which coats the interior of the stomach, and always with a diseased irritability of the whole digestive operations.

Constipation or Costiveness

is not unfrequently a concomitant of Dyspepsia, although it sometimes exists independently of any serious derangement of the digestive functions. It is generally accompanied by headache or feeling of fullness in the head and a partial obscuration of the memory, and of the mental perceptions generally. As indigestion proceeds from a want of tone in the stomach, so Costiveness, in many cases, proceeds from a lack of sensitiveness in the mucous membrane which lines the intestines. The moderate cathartic action of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is just what is required under such circumstances, and it is believed that any cases of Diarrhœa or habitual Constipation may be readily and radically cured by a bottle or two of the Bitters; or if taken occasionally by persons of costive habit, they will prevent the recurrence of the old and annoying complaint.

LIVER COMPLAINTS

and bilious disease proceed either from want of activity in the liver, by which the flow of bile is reduced below the quality required by nature to guide the blood, or from inflammation, causing an overflow of the bilious secretion into the stomach and bowels, or from a sympathetic derangement of the liver, consequent upon some disorder of the stomach.

In ordinary Liver Complaint the sufferer has an intermittent appetite, a coated tongue, costiveness, and again loosing the sight of food; is drowsy, languid, disinclined to business, melancholy, and experiences a sensation of weariness and laziness, accompanied by violent palpitation of the heart, after the manner of trifling exertion. The irritation created by suppressed bile also frequently causes a hard, dry cough, known as the Liver Cough, together with nausea and vomiting. Space will not permit us to go into all the symptoms of Liver Complaint. Our object here is to point out the true preventive and remedy. Let persons who are of bilious habit, or who reside where bilious complaints are common, fortify their system, in advance, with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, which, acting through the stomach upon the liver, will surely preserve that important organ in vigorous health.

are been divided into two classes, malarious and contagious; but there can be little doubt that all epidemic fevers are caused and propagated by miasma or foul air, lishes been denied that Typhus and Scarlet fevers are malarious diseases, but that is a mere assumption, unsupported by proof. All the epidemic fevers unquestionably proceed from miasma or gaseous poisons generated by the same from rotten vegetable matter and foul water. It is a well known fact that whenever the air is slightly tainted the primal fever, Fever and Ague and bilious remittent fevers are sure to get into the "clearing." The reason is obvious. The vegetable deposits of ages are suddenly unveiled to the sun, and from decomposed leaves and rotten wood a rich compost for the farmer's crops, but a poor soil for the health of his family—there goes up a noisome exhalation pregnant with disease and death.

The best evidence of the popularity of

and their successful introduction everywhere, is the disposition frequently manifested to produce counterfeits. This has occasioned the proprietors much trouble and inconvenience, and to protect themselves they have been compelled to employ a traveling agent, whose exclusive business it is to see out injunctions against, and to prosecute parties engaged in the counterfeiting of the Bitters. Notwithstanding all means of protection to the public, the proprietors have gone to the expense of procuring a fine steel-engraved label, to which is appended a note of hand, in order to enable them to prosecute for a felony the further manufacture of the counterfeit. Their only remedy, with the old label, was to obtain an injunction, which in some instances proved ineffectual in preventing the counterfeiting of it; but with their new label they will doubtless be more successful in protecting the public as well as themselves. Both the old and new label are now used—the old in order that former customers may feel secure, and at the same time fully understand the object of the adoption of the new one.

Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.

A specific for Dyspepsia, Diarrhea, Dysentery, General Debility, Chills and Fever, Liver Complaint, Bilious Remittent Fevers, and the pains and weaknesses which creep upon us in old age. For these ailments we quietly invited a trial and a verdict. The trial has come and the verdict has been rendered, and the Bitters are to-day the most popular remedy, for the time they have been in existence, in the country. Its success is a fact that continues to thrive and increase in popularity with unrelenting vigor, simply because the world wants it, will have it, cannot do without it. The dyspeptic demands it as his only help; the victim of diarrhea or dysentery believes in it; the bilious sufferer dare not let one bottle run out before he gets another. Both sexes, all ages, all classes agree it as the most wonderful invigorant ever ... the enormous demand.
