The Demonstrations Last Night.

BRILLIANT PROCESSIONS, BANNER PRESENTATIONS, ETC.

The Pendleton Guards—Rough and Ready Club The Innocents—Second District German Club—Third District Hibernian Club Seymour Guides—Hancock Club—Fossil Guards Liberty Colored Guards, Etc.

THE PENDLETON GUARDS.—The fact that so many clubs were to have processions and banner presentations at different places last night, produced no ordinary flutter in the streets, and at an early hour the several places appointed for the ceremonies of the presentation were crowded with spectators, mostly ladies, while the pavements and the balconies along the various streets through which the processions were to pass were thronged with thousands of citizens of all classes. Indeed the people seem never to tire of these patriotic demonstrations, which in point of display and earnestness, as well as number of the participants have perhaps never been equalled in any previous campaign.

Not the least brilliant, doubtless of all the demonstrations last night, was that of the Pendleton Guards, of the Second District. The entire front of the Opera House was at an early hour filled with beautiful ladies awaiting the banner presentation of the Club, the other circles being crowded with men. The Pendletonians in their comfortable uniform of white shirts and black pants occupied some 250 or more of the front seats of the parquette, while the Sixth Ward Rough and Ready Club and delegations of other Clubs were ranged in their rear. The honorary members, invited guests, and officers of the Pendletonians, of the "Innocents" and of a number of other Clubs occupied the stage. Jaeger's band dispensed stirring music for the occasion.

The banner was presented on behalf of the ladies by Hon W. P. Blackman, of the State Senate, who was introduced to the audience by Mr Joseph Hernandez, President of the Club, and declinedgraceful thanks assigned him in a brief and eloquent speech, which was received with applause. He was responded to on behalf of the Club by Hon E. Bermudez, who spoke at some length upon the effects of Radical morals and women's interest and mission in the great struggle now pending between the Democratic and Republican parties. How well Mr. Hernudez struck the popular feeling, or expressed their hopes or apprehensions, may be judged from the fact that he was frequently interrupted with rapturous applause. The speaker was remarkably felicitous in his historical allusions.

The banner is an elegant one and tastily designed. The front is of fine white silk bearing a picture of Mr. Pendleton, finely white are inscribed the words, "The Patriot of the West." The other side is of crimson silk, bearing the appropriate inscription and motto, "The People's Choice," and the name and date of the organization of the Club. The banner is scalloped on the lower border with gold, tassels pendant, and gold fringe ornamenting the whole.

The banner was next crowned with a beautiful wreath, the handiwork of the ladies, of which was donor of the banner and wreath, and who was seated in one of the side boxes of the Theatre. The ceremony was greeted with applause, after which Jaeger's band played a spirited air, closing the ceremonies of the presentation on the part of the Pendletonians.

ROUGH AND READY CLUB.—After the banner presentation to the Pendleton Club, the audience remained in the Opera House, and stepped forward and in behalf of the ladies presented to the Rough and Ready Club of the Sixth Ward, numbering about 200 members present, another beautiful banner, making a brief and highly appropriate address, which was handsomely applauded and replied to on behalf of the Club by their President, Capt. S. W. Scott, who received it in very handsome terms, which likewise elicited applause. The front of the banner is of fine blue and the other side of white silk, silver color lapping over the lower border is bifurcated and the whole ornamented with silver cord and fringe of gold, the whole very unique in design. The front is inscribed "Sixth Ward Rough and Ready Club." The other side is inscribed "Union, Justice and Confidence."

The banner, which was the immediate gift, we learn, of Mrs Frederic, was gracefully crowned with a wreath of laurel by Miss Vatinel, the ceremonies naturally eliciting applause from the audience.

After Capt Scott concluded there were repeated calls for Gen Steedman who finally responded, delighting the audience for some time to his usual candid and forcible style, frequently eliciting the approbiation of laughter or applause. When he concluded three cheers were given him, the audience dispersed and the Pendletonians and the Rough and Ready Club joined together in a procession and to the march strains of Mr Villavaso, Mr L. E. Lamothe and Mr Levy, serenaded that we were compelled to leave them while pushing in order to pay some attention to the other demonstrations of the evening. Subsequently we honored the Bee with cheers and a serenade.

HIBERNIA CLUB.—Arriving at Carroll Hall, corner of Gravier and Elysian Fields streets, just previous to the arrival of the Clubs we found that spacious room already crowded with the feminine beauty of the old Third, whose reputation in that peculiar staple has become world wide. Conspicuous among the assembled fair were thirty seven beautiful little girls clad in white, fit emblem of purity and innocence, adorned with ribbands of red and white, each of whom represented one of the States of the Federal Union as it will certainly stand after the 3d of November next.

The Hibernians, chief actors upon the occasion, soon marched into the hall under the escort of the Seymour Videttes of the Ninth Ward and the "Spirit of '76" of the Eighth, all three being out in full force, and proving that the gallant Third is fully awake, and all alive.

The ceremonies at the Hall consisted of the presentation of a beautiful banner to the Club by Miss Maggie Cochran, in the name of her father, one of the old and highly esteemed residents of the District, Ed. Cochran, Esq. Miss Maggie, a young lady little more than seven summers, with the natural grace of childhood combined with the foreshadowing of maturer intellectual development in her form but expressive following words, gave the banner, which was of Irish Green, bearing in its centre the Eagle of America bidding the Harp of Erin, and inscribed:

"The United States of America.—Our Adopted Country forever. above and below, We are true Americans, with the names of the presidential candidates of the Democratic party, and the name and location of the Club.

Organization of the Hibernian Democratic Club—It with pleasure we state that present with this banner, hoping you will be victorious in electing the people's chosen candidates—Seymour and Blair." The effort of the little fairy was received with loud applause, and the banner was received on the part of the Club by the President, W. J. Kelley, in a very eloquent and appropriate speech, full of promise as to what the Club would do in defense of the banner thus presented. After the presentation various huge baskets containing a profusion of delicious punch were disposed of under the immediate supervision of Mr Carroll, who, by the way, entertains at his saloon on the corner of Carroll and Poydras streets, has all the necessary accommodations for the transaction of business, with the exception of the item of gas, free of expense.

From the Hibernia Club with its escort paraded the several principal streets of the Third District, receiving at the residence of Capt. A. Kelleher, in Julia street, from Miss Kelley, through the hands of Mr. W. J. Lancaster, a beautiful National flag. Mr. Lancaster made a most pertinent and pointed speech upon the occasion which were very loudly cheered by the assembled crowd. This flag was received on the part of the Club by P. D. O'Brien, the prince of orators, to whom the Hibernians have found a jewel, and to whom the members of the press are under obligations for many courtesies, in that by-gone manner which proved his ancestral right to impromptu wit and eloquence.

Afterwards we were entertained sumptuously at the residence of Mr. J. H. Willingham on Poydras street, where a fine display of fireworks were made, and at the house of Mr. G. Sporl on Carondelet street, where we had to leave during closing with a serenade to Mr. Cochran the giver of their fine banner.

We certainly never met a more enthusiastic and earnest set of Democrats than the Hibernians, the true spirit of old Erin seeming to thoroughly animate them, and did not the crowded state of our columns preclude the possibility, we should be glad to give them a much more deserving notice. There is one thing sure, however, they may be depended on for yeoman service next November.

THE LIBERTY GUARDS.—This Club of colored voters, numbering about 60 men, and formed under the auspices of the Fossil Guards, were out about 40 strong last night, and after being escorted by the Lafayette Square by the Fossils and Fossils, Jr., the Hancock Club and Minute Men of '68, of the Third Ward, were the recipients of a fine banner, presented by the honorary members of the Fossil Guards. The banner was presented through Capt. J. G. Fleming, and received by Judge G. H. Brought, both parties making appropriate speeches, which were received with great approbation. The colored speaker, Willis Rollins then addressed the large crowd which had assembled on the occasion, after which the several Clubs marched through a number of the streets Rollins was arrested before the speaking on a charge trumped up by the Radical police to prevent his speaking, but was dismissed.

THE HANCOCK CLUB.—This magnificent club, numbering over 300 members, had about half of their number in procession last night, and after joining the Fossils in escorting the Liberty Guards to Lafayette Square, were the recipients at the residence of Mr. J. H. Philips, on Jackson street, of a most beautiful flag from the fair hands of Miss Katie McIlhenny, the young lady who represented Louisiana in the presentation of the banner to the club recently at the Opera House. The presentation was made in a speech by Mr. Walter E. Jewell and received on the part of the club by their Secretary, Mr. William H. Kilby, both of which addresses we learn were well received, that in terms of high admiration.

The banner was subsequently crowned with a superb wreath by Miss Shinboy, who represented New York at the Opera House.

We are indebted to the Club for the compliment of a serenade to the Bee, and the use of a carriage placed at the disposal of the writer, who regrets that in the multiplicity of the demonstrations last night he could not avail himself of the courtesy so handsomely extended through the Treasurer of the Club, Captain Smith.

ROUSSEAU GUARDS.—This Club held an adjourned meeting last night at Carroll Hall in the Eighth Ward, and received near a hundred new members. They do not intend to be behind to-morrow night, young as their organization is.

SECOND DISTRICT GERMAN CLUB.—This Club, numbering nearly 200 members, were out 150 strong last night and received a beautiful banner at the National Theatre, through Miss Schalk, the banner being received by the President of the Club, Mr. George Nungesser, and by Judge Branagh, who made a beautiful speech in behalf of the Club. Beautiful wreaths were placed upon it by Miss Wendell, Mrs. Hoefner, Mrs. Monk and Mrs. Simon. Stirring speeches were made by Gen. Monk, Mr. E. L. Jewell and F. C. Zacharie, Esq. The speeches and ceremonies elicited the heartiest applause. The Club then marched through a number of the streets, giving the Bee, as they passed, several hearty cheers, for which compliment they have our thanks. The Broom Rangers participated to some extent in the procession.

SEYMOUR GUIDES.—This fine organization of the Second Ward which meets at the corner of Poeyfaré and Magazine streets, was the recipient last night of a beautiful banner and wreath from the fair hands of the ladies of the Second Ward, through their queenly spokesman, Miss M. Lecourt, on Magazine street, and a beautiful wreath from the hands of Miss Julia E. Aylee, on Dryades street. We sincerely regret that the multiplicity of our engagements for the evening forbade our being present in person, but we understood that, as we did not doubt they would, the ceremonies of the evening passed off with honor and satisfaction to both donors and recipients.

EIGHTH WARD GERMAN CLUB.—This Club met at Carroll Hall last night to receive accessions to their roll and make arrangements for to-morrow night. Many new names were added. This Club will not be found wanting when the time for action comes.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

Funeral of Judge Buchanan.—The funeral of the late Judge Buchanan took place yesterday evening, from his residence, on Esplanade street. The remains were deposited in the St Louis street cemetery. A large concourse of our ancient population paid the last tribute of respect to the deceased, and the legal profession was largely represented. The pall bearers were the following: Ex-Chief Justice Merrick, ex-Associate Justice Ogden, ex-Associate Justice Lea, ex-Judge Cameron, Christian Roselius, Esq., Cyprien Dufour, Esq.

Obituary.—The remains of Hon. James Mann, late Democratic member of Congress from Louisiana, were escorted yesterday with high civic and military honors, by the pall bearers Lodge of the U. D., and members of the Constitution Club, the Seymour Legion and the Democratic State and Parish Executive Committees attending. The remains will probably be conveyed to the former home of the deceased—Gorham, Maine.

The funeral of Capt. Wm. H. Folger took place yesterday from the late residence of the deceased, No. 338 Rampart street, between Clio and Erato streets, and were largely attended.

The "Wide Awakes"—The Eighth Ward Club will have a banner and wreath presentation this evening, at the corner of Spain and Moreau streets, in front of the residence of the patriotic confrère, Mr. Forester, of the editorial staff of that sterling Democratic paper, the German Free Press.

The banners are to be presented at the residence of Mr. John Liambias, corner of Spain and Royal streets, by Miss Estella Liambias, and at 72 Enghein street, by Mrs. Ann C Sassthen. The club numbers 492 members.

The O. C. Yacht Club.—This Club, it is stated, are to have a couple of yachts built to run against the "Harlequin" and "Gladiolo," of of Mobile.

The Germans for Seymour and Blair.—The Republican dwells with so much stress upon the fluttering assertion that the German voters of New Orleans are Radicals, that we have taken the pains to get at facts which show to be as contrary as strong as figures, which never lie, can show anything. The Radical, and only Radical, German Club of this city which meets at the corner of Carroll and Poydras streets, has but 10 members, while in the Fourth Ward we have a German Democratic Club of 150 members, in the Seventh Ward another of 247 members, in the Eighth Ward another of about the same number, and in the Tenth Ward another numbering over 200 members.

Blair Cadets—These young men, or soon to be men, passed our office last night and gave us several cheers.

Brown Rangers, Jr—A meeting of this club will be held this evening at 7½ o'clock, at the hall of the Opera House. All who wish to join the club are requested to apply at this meeting.

Second District Court—Judge Louis Dufourcad.—On the opening of this Court yesterday W. M Kendall, Esq., announced to the Court the death of the late Associate Justice Buchanan, and moved the adjournment of the Court in respect to his memory. Mr. Kendall prefaced the motion by a few brief remarks eulogistic of the deceased Judge, which were responded to appropriately by the Court, according to the motion for adjournment and ordering the same to be spread upon the minutes.

First District Court.—Judge Abell.—This court adjourned yesterday out of respect to the late Judge Buchanan. The case of Mrs. F. A. Morris, charged with killing Raymond Lang, the 25th of July, in the Orleans House, returned a verdict of manslaughter.

Thieves Dozen.—Some thief stole $110 from the coffeehouse No. 23 Royal street, Wednesday night, and left $100 more and a revolver untouched.

The residence No. 398 Felicity street was entered before 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and a complete suit of clothes stolen by some one probably in need of an outfit.

Shot.—A young man named George Rice was shot by an unknown man, who escaped, in an altercation which he had with the man in the Dizzie Saloon, about 11 o'clock Wednesday night.

LOUISIANA LEGISLATURE.

FIFTY-SECOND DAY—AUGUST 27, 1868.

SENATE.—Lieut. Governor Dunn presiding, and 19 Senators present.

Mr Day (Dem) presented a resolution that he be allowed to proceed to Baton Rouge for the purpose of taking testimony in the case of his contested seat—the same privilege exercised by the contestant, Reagan.

The Chair (Republican) stated that, upon a decision of the Supreme Court, he had determined to make items between himself and Rollins. No Treasury or revenue appointments will be made among those accepted by McCulloch.

Washington, August 27.—Revenue Commissioner Rollins has instructed certain detectives employed by him under the new law to perform the duties of Supervisors where circumstances have arisen or arise requiring Supervisors' action.

Washington, August 27.—Perry Fuller to-day gave $100,000 bond as Collector of Customs at New Orleans. He will leave very soon for his post of duty.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Alexandria, Va., August 27.—In a home case pending in the Circuit Court, Judge Thomas, in obedience to Stoneman, entered an order dismissing the petition of habeas corpus. It will be carried up on mandamus to compel Thomas to try the case, thus testing Stoneman's authority.

New York, August 27.—Eight bricklayers indicted for conspiracy, in a test suit to deter mine the right of striking craftsmen to prevent others from working, were convicted.

Atlanta, Aug 27.—The Senate bill postponing the election in the district of Savannah till the 2d Tuesday in December passed by 31 to 7. There was a clause in this bill which increased the number of ballot boxes to three. Campbell, Bingham, opposed the bill in violent speech.

In the House there was a long and animated discussion on the eligibility of negro members and the right of negroes to hold office.

Tumlin, (dem) introduced a bill to test a vital importance to both races in Georgia, that they were there consuming the people's money, and that the session of the Legislature was clogged till the question was settled.

Bingham, (rad) offered a motion to consider the minority report—ayes 85, nays 53.

Tumlin, (dem) made a speech be a motion to adopt a substitute declaring all negro members ineligible. He said this Government was founded by Anglo-Saxons, and that the supremacy and ascendancy of the white race had never been denied on this continent.

That the negroes were an ignorant, servile race, that a majority of the colored members could neither read nor write, and did not know what Constitution and laws were. The Supreme Court of the United States, interpreter of the Constitution, and every State of the original thirteen recognized Africans as a separate race, and Washington fought to establish a white man's government. No change of administration can make negro equal, socially or politically. The right to vote and be sued gives no political rights. The emancipation proclamation simply declared negroes free persons of color. I do not deny this but I do deny their right to sit here and make laws for the white race. The laws of Congress not the recognition of negroes give negroes no right to hold office. He read from the speech of ex Governor Brown, who says our Constitution does not confer on the negro the right to hold office, simply the right to vote. In conclusion Mr Tumlin said he believed the Congressional Reconstruction Act conferred on the negro the right to hold office, but conferred no right to hold office.

Adjourned without action.

New Orleans, Aug. 27.—It is confidently expected that the Governors of New England States will be present at the fair to be held in this city next week.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

Paris, August 27.—Marshal Vaillant, Minister of the Emperor's household, was present at the opening of the Council General at Dijon, and made a speech calculated to have a highly tranquilizing effect, coming so soon after that of the Emperor at Troyes. He congratulated the members of Council, and the people of the Department of Cote D'Or on a bountiful harvest. The blessings of an abundant crop, he said, was more readily appreciated by the people as they had suffered from the sad and gloomy events that they would enjoy their prosperity in peace. The marshal made a happy allusion in the speech of the Emperor at Troyes, which he quoted in the spirit of his discourse, and he concluded his remarks with this sentence—abundance in peace, but not maintained at the expense of honor and dignity. This is the summary of the present position of France.

The Pays in an editorial article on the European situation says: France will accept the possibility of war if Prussia refuses to disarm.

London, August 27.—Hong Kong, China, July 15th. Reports have reached here from the North that insurgent rebels have gained a great victory over the army of the Imperial Tien-Tsin rebels before Peking while retiring towards the Mongolian frontier. The Imperial forces—the latter were assisted by European officers and engineers. A great battle was fought in which the rebels were totally defeated and routed. There was great rejoicing in Pekin over the result.

THE ELECTION IN MAINE.—The New York Herald, speculating on the approaching fall elections, says of the election in Maine:

What, then, is the prospect in Maine? In the figures of her State election of 1867, as compared with the election of 1866, the Democrats have some encouragement for a vigorous fight. Here are the figures:

	1866	1867
Republican vote	70,628	57,649
Democratic vote	41,693	46,033
Republican majority	27,935	11,616

Here we have a Republican majority of over twenty-seven thousand reduced to less than twelve thousand in a single year, involving a loss in the Republican vote of some twelve or fifteen thousand votes and a Democratic gain of over four thousand. The Republicans may be mainly attributed to general apathy, but the Democratic gain no doubt includes one deductable accession from the Republican side. The Maine election will come off September 14, and to some extent, great or small, it will be affected by the great revolt in Vermont, whatever that may be; but more directly and decisively Maine will be controlled by the issues pending between Grant and Seymour. If, therefore, in this coming Republican State the Democrats substantially hold the ground which they gained last year, we may assume that the mass general reaction against the policy of the two parties in Ohio and Pennsylvania last year will still prevail.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS.—Large posters are just here announcing an excursion to a well marked ball at Green Briar, White Sulphur Springs, to be given on the 27th of September. As an inducement for the public to attend, the list of managers is printed. Among them are Gen. Lee, Gen. Beauregard, Col. C. Adams, of Mississippi, Alex. H. Stephens, Fitzhugh, of Alabama, Gov. Hickens, of South Carolina, Letcher, of Virginia, and F. B. Stockton, of Tennessee. Stockton is Major and Coward, of the Richmond Dispatch, and others of little less distinction.

A RADICAL FEELER—A NEW METHOD OF CARRYING THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION—Washington, August 22.—It is said here to day that should the result of the October elections indicate a probability of Democratic success in the Presidential contest, the State Legislatures of the North which have a Radical majority will proceed to disfranchise GERMAN AMERICANS and thus defeat the popular bill. The idea seems to be thrown out as a feeler at present, but it is said that a number of the Radical Senators have given it their approbation.

The late conference between the Republican State committee of Pennsylvania and the Union Confederate Democrats has been followed by a similar conference in Louisiana. The Democratic leaders of Louisiana said that the only way to secure peace was to stop the system of oppressive legislation now in progress; that they expected to accomplish nothing except in case of a reconstruction party and found the Governor would throw himself upon the people that would sustain him, and be resort to force if necessary for the preservation of peace. The Governor, on his side, has stated in behalf of the Republicans that there was nothing in reason that they can do or occupy the ground of a peace harmony, and identifying mere excuses in their desire to secure peace and order. It is much more satisfactory to have of a conference like this, where such sentiments are expressed, than to hear the bellicose language and denunciations which have lately been reaching us from Louisiana. Let us have peace—N. Y. Times.

ANOTHER MILITARY COMMISSION.—We understand that five young gentlemen, citizens of Adams county, reached here by the steamer Uncle Sam, Quitman, Monday evening, for trial before a Military Commission, which is to assemble in this city in a few days. These prisoners were arrested and sent here by his Royal Highness, Colonel N. A. M. Dudley, the small despot who lords it over the people of Natchez. The charge against these young men is, that they turned and freshened a white school teacher out of respect to the feelings of a negro wench; and declared, that she was the equal and lady in the country.—Vicksburg Times.

CHOPS IN CLAIBORNE PARISH.—The Homer Advocate, of the 8th, reports rain in abundance Corn is made, and very abundant. Cotton is the speech of the Emperor at Troyes, which the Advocate is confident that a heavy crop of cotton will be made in the parish. Fruit of all kinds abundant.

CHILDREN OF NATURALIZED CITIZENS.—A correspondent who wishes us to inform him whether he is entitled to vote, states his case thus:

I came to this country when two years old and my father became a naturalized citizen in two years; now, as I have arrived at the age of twenty one, will it be necessary for me to take out any papers to make me a qualified voter.

(By the laws of the United States the natural born citizen of a father naturalized also his minor children, if they remain permanently in this country. Our young friend therefore needs no papers, and has only to get his name registered as a voter at the proper time.

SECRETARY SEWARD ON THE SITUATION.—An interesting and instructive conversation occurred lately quite incidentally between Mr. Seward and a Herald correspondent, which sets forth satisfactorily the present views of the Secretary of State touching the Mexican possibility of great excitement in the campaign. Mr. Seward said: "That is something I can say without any reserve or reference to any opinion, however, that "time would develop." The fact is, or may. As to what the future policy of the Administration will be, that is something "for him to have reserved and not for me to give an answer to the suggestion that a man of his experience and position would be heard with great attention by the people, he gives the lock thought: "Then the people will have to wait, and when I say anything, if I have anything to say, they will have a chance to know what I think and what I mean. When I have anything to say he will say it, and when he says it, it will be his saying, and will be the result of his experience and philosophy, and this no doubt reflects the precise state of the Premier's mind. How instructive the fact that a man of his forty years' active political life and study of parties has not got no other wisdom from his experience than such as teaches him to hold his tongue!—New York Herald.

A line of steamers is to be established between Savannah and Liverpool, says the Savannah Republican, speaking of this new enterprise, says: "Two magnificent steamers, the ones referred to, belonging to Messrs.
