The crizens of the seventh ward are not very well contented with the vote of the city council, passing the account of Mr. Hubert, spadic of the upper beasties. We have seen a menorial signed by about two thirds of the voters of that ward, complaining of his appointment, against their wishes as well as of his administration, and praying his remote. If they half the allegations contained in the memorial can be substantiated, the fittings of that ward have the greatest reasons for complaining of injunice at the hans of the only government. The city council can hardly avoid giving them an impartial investigation.
