FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,
HENRY CLAY,
OF KENTUCKY.
Subject to the decision of a National Convention.

NEW ORLEANS:
MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 16, 1839.

THE STATE RIGHTS PARTY AND THE ADMINISTRATION.

An unconscionable in the conduct of the opposition of the south who profess to support Mr. Van Buren's administration because it is the southern administration, would puzzle the ingenuity of a casuist to reconcile anything. It is this Mr. Calhoun and his friends of the party in question, goes on to denounce the treasury that is, for the independent treasury, which is the specific clause. In his opinion there is no difference between this system and a national bank. The special, or general deposit system is far more objectionable than a national bank. But the most objectionable of all features in the system he holds up to be the independent treasury, or the specie clause.

Which has been final project cause before the congress session was made to strike out the clause enabling for the collection, disbursement and transfer of the public moneys in specie only. This motion was at violently opposed by Mr. Calhoun. At a late hour of the night he was greatly agitated, and in separate conversation friends of the bill to pass and finish the session, urging, he pronounced the bill, direct in violation of a solemn pledge, averred that it was a compromise between the government and the Whigs, and indubitably as before, and after a long speech, he declared his intention of voting against the bill in case the rescission of the specie clause stricken out. The clause was stricken out by a majority of democratic votes, Benton, Allen, Hill, Morris, and some half a dozen of the violent administration opposing its restriction." Which clause came upon the final passage of the bill, Mr. Calhoun voted against it. We may add that despite the patient wish for the dissolution of the connection between the fiscal concerns of the government and banks, he has never voted for the substitutionary at any time proposed so to do, and recommended by the administration. Last year, the utmost that could be obtained from him was a determination neither to support nor oppose the bill before the senate. He said in substance, that he was a minor, who at gave him some little long administration would ultimately follow the course dictated by him.

It is evident, therefore, to the state rights Van Buren men of the south, that the divorce bill of the administration does not meet the views of their champion. Mr. Calhoun, he says, is against the bill, and once reduced to a vote, will remain attached to an administration which pursues a policy seems to consist in a determination to keep the country in promiscuous breaking.

VERMONT ELECTION.—Intelligence has been received from a portion of the Vermont Brattleboro county the locofocos have made considerable gain. In Chittenden and other counties there is a strong loss. There appears to be doubt about the election of Guy Jennison the Whig candidate.

The Legislature will not take place last Monday in October, as the Whig candidate for governor—the present governor—the locofoco candidate for re-election.

[illegible] BRIG.—A schooner arrived at New York on the morning of the 8th, having on board the crew of the ship Norway, which was burned in the Chesapeake during the late gale.

[illegible] A fatal affray took place in Mobile, between Mr. Murray, principal in the late affair and Mr. H. Stone, junior partner of the house, both armed with rifles, the latter received a piece of wood, which, however, was not effect upon his antagonist, causing his death.

[illegible] Yesterday morning, at half past 10 o'clock, Mr. Victorin Fatin. His friends are invited to attend to his funeral, which will take place this afternoon, at 4 o'clock precisely. His body is exposed at No. 175, St. Peter street, from which place the funeral will depart.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE,

Franklin was, we believe, the first to discover the fact that the north-easterly gales which sweep the American coast in the autumn always begin at the south-west. The gale of last week, which appears to have been one of extreme violence, was an illustration of this curious fact, as will be seen by the following memorandum of the periods of its passage from place to place, at various points on the coast, that from Charleston and Portland. They are from the New York Herald.

GROVELING CROP.—We continue to place before our readers all the notices we find in the papers from the interior—remarking that private advices fully sustain the public accounts.—Mobile Price Current.

(From the Huntsville Democrat.)

The drought, which has so long prevailed in this part of the state has cut short the cotton crops to an alarming extent. For nearly eight weeks the weather was continued dry, without sufficient rain to lay the dust, except in particular and detached neighborhoods. The flattering prospects of the cotton planter, so generally noticed in the early part of the season—have thus been disappointed; and it is believed the crop in North Alabama will not greatly exceed the short one of the previous year. Accounts from other sections of the cotton-growing country are equally gloomy, and indicate that the great feeling by Mr. Joseph G. Landry, the degree of A. B. was conferred on him, and that of A. M. on Mr. A Rosier. Then followed the distribution of premiums, in the following order:—
