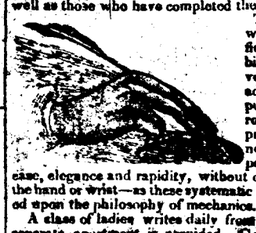
CARSTAIRIAN SYSTEM OF WRITING.

MESSRS. T. P. & R. DOLBEAR, respectfully invites the citizens of New Orleans to call at their writing establishment, No. 48, Canal street, (over Miss Carroll's book store) and examine numerous specimens executed by ladies and gentlemen who are receiving their instruction, as well as those who have completed their lessons.



The movements of the whole arm, fore arm and fingers, with their combinations, which are given by this system, are adapted to the various purposes of accounting, room and factor; and if properly acquired, will never fail to enable any person to write with ease, elegance and rapidity, without cramping, or paining the hand or wrist—as these systematic movements are founded upon the philosophy of mechanics.

A class of ladies writes daily from 10 to 1, for whom a separate apartment is provided. Gentlemen's apartment open from 9 a. m. to 10 1-2 p. m. Private lessons given as usual. Ornamental writing, &c. &c. executed with elegance. Persons visiting the city for a few days can receive a full course of lessons. Persons attending this institution are not restricted to a given number of lessons, but may be desired to acquire a permanent hand before they leave.

From his Excellency Governor Roman.

I have examined, with attention, the system of writing taught by Mr. Dolbear, and it is with pleasure that I can certify to its superiority over any other method, with which I am acquainted. Mr. Dolbear having given private lessons in my family, I consider it but justice to add, that I believe him as much worthy of public patronage on account of the correctness and mildness of his character, as on account of the rapid improvement of those who received his lessons.

New Orleans, July 2d, 1832. A. B. ROMAN.

On the invitation of Mr. Dolbear, a Teacher of Penmanship, in our city, upon the Carstairian system; we have carefully examined specimens of the writings of his pupils, whose ages range from 5 to 50 years, written through an entire course of instruction; and after having done so, it is with the highest satisfaction, that we can testify to there-said if not unparalleled, progress which they have made.

From the specimens seen, and the examination of the system made, we cannot withhold the expression of our concurrent opinion, that the system is greatly superior to any hitherto taught. If to write legibly, elegantly, rapidly, and in good taste, be an accomplishment, useful or desirable, it is upon the principles of this system that it is to be acquired. We therefore anxiously solicit of the public a liberal patronage in favor of an Instructor, whose qualifications are of the highest order, and whose labors promise to be so exceedingly useful to him and other communities.

A. B. Roman, Governor of the State of Louisiana; D. A. Prieur, Mayor of the City of New Orleans; Rev. C. Maybant; Rev. O. L. Nash, A. Grailhe, Esq; Rev. G. Wingate; J. W. Egnew, Esq; Wm C. Pope, Esq; D. Morphey, Esq; L. Bringier, Surveyor General.

From an examination of the system, according to which Mr. Dolbear instructs and from personal observation of the proficiency of many of his pupils, I feel the utmost confidence in recommending him as the ablest teacher of the art of penmanship, with whom I have ever met. His deportment, also, is that of a gentleman.
