The bill for the abolition of West India star naval officer of his customs, to the furmer of whom the charge of suborning us is more positively affixed, but it has not yet brought any proof to establish this discrimination, and eries given a single masson which could remeter it probable in the limit. Why was this accusation then wantonly made? The subject upon which the Louisiana declared its intention of discussing, was the secrits of the different candidates for the gubernatorial chair. What have they to do with the candidates in of Judge Dawson, more than other citizens? Supposing that the Bes really belonged to them, and that we have sold our independence, (an accusation that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact the fact the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact the fact the fact the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact that "governme" thad and entertained the remotes the fact that "governme" that a declared the fact that "governme" that a declared to the chamber of the public that "governme" that a declared the fact the firsh that she for the firsh thes best to yield something of their plan in order to obscure co operation. In the recent discussion of the Suvery Question, in the se individuals cast a stigma apon a candidato; er can it be shown that Dawson was set up to forward their guesc: personal sade and private views; or that he has consented hypecrites, who, while they talked of the glory of freedom, attiff unblushingly continued the bateful system of shavery stated if nothing like this can be shown, why are there would set the Americans as those political hypecrites, who, while they talked of the glory of freedom, and the stated in the americans an example of true freedom, and gentlemen, we bain ask, so indecorously and wantonly gentlemen, we bain ask, so indecorously and wantonly dragged before the public? If gertain individuals have any and robbery." thing to say against them—let them do so separately from thing to say against them—let them do so separately from all other matters. We have no doubt they will be a ling to the Parliamentary reports, expressed himself swered and triumphintly too: but we again say let the merities of the sandidates for gov. be discussed without reference to the acts or characters of the persons who may support them. We positively will not mix their sames any more with the question under discussion. They have no more to do with it than the man in the moon. Let Dawson and Prieur, and their characters and qualifications for the office to which they aspire, and solving shee, be brought forward. Our candidate is ready to pass through the ordeal of the press; his character, both moral and political, can hear close inswered and triumphently too: but we again say; let the merming to say against him, let them bring it out in plain and are much mistaken if the Louisiana of to-day, does not show more clearly the malignancy of spirit with which it is to be conducted.

Deadtless the Louisians will still insist that it is not sold or bought by this helf way anti-Jackson faction, and that it is not the tool of their private hate and envy. But let the public look again and reflect. Has it not said ten times as much respecting the character of Martin Gordon than of J. B. Dawson? Has it not stirred up and vindicated the supsed wrongs of Slidell and Spotts? And what is that for? Is it to show the unfitness of Dawson that Martin Gordon is vilified, and that Sports and Slidell are praised and pitied? Bah! the matter is too plain to require any further comment. But if any of our readers are yet incredulous, let them go the office of William Y. Lewis, a notary public, and there examine the bill of sale of the half of the Lonisiana Advertiser, to Mr. B. C. Elliott. they cannot remain in doubt afterthat.

In conclusion, we have to say to the Louisians, that our belief respecting the political character of W. H. Overton, s confirmed by the support which it has given him. He cannot be an honest Jackson man, who sides with the faction who endeavor to sow division amongst the republican party. He cannot be a friend to the interests of this state, who appears the Pessident for acting as he did in removing both Slidell and Spotts.

one word to the Louisiana, and we have done. It complained that we called it "turncoat," "Iraitor," and "deserter. This complaint is not just. We warned our opposition that the complaint is not just. We warned our oppositions that the word against us. The Louisiana not regarding this, issuinated at the outstart, without the evidence of the thing, that we were corrupt and bribed. We retorted as we should. We showed that the contrary was the case, and that our accesser himself was guilty. This is but what he stranged for. that our acceser himself was guilty. This is but what he should have expected. Justice to ourselves required it.

The Mercantile has republished nearly the whole at article contained in the Louisiana of the 9th, in reply to adding a few verbose comments which (as usual with us this session when we make an attempt to read any thing down the pen men who to of the editor of the Marcantile,) we had not the patience to the session; and, perene attentively through. However our answer to the Lesisians will serve for both. The fact is we never care about answering the Mercantile, for we know how little larly by giving a vote for repeal at te is read because of its heavy and soporitic style; and what which it generally attempts to pain upon the public the question of slavery has always been a question of diffi-culty and danger. Over and over again it had been the is in better qualified for the office than the candidate whom they support.

The use to which the Lonisiana is to be put by those who control it, is perfectly understood. The support to be given to Donnis Prieur, was only a secondary motive for its purchase. The principal one, is to give public expression to private animosities and rancorolis feelings. We are much mustakes if the Louisiana of to-day, does not

"It is said that his Majesty, as Head of the Church, has addressed a strong letter of remonstrance, through the Archbishop of Canterbury, to the Bench of Bishops, and especially to the six or seven who discinguished themselves by the vote on the Portuguese question, relative to their conduct under the present critical circumstances of the nation, expressing his surprise that they chould expose themselves to the imputation of acting from factions and worldly motives—thus sacrificing all claim of respect of the religious community, and exposing the church to the danger of losing its influence, by their being ultimately driven by the power of public opinion from their seats in Parliament, is their votes as spiritual seers, were not regulated by spot

A letter was received in town yesterday from Mr. O'Connell, from which the subjoined is an extract:
'I know that any rational discussion of the all-important "I know that any rational discussion of the alf-important question of repeal is impossible in this advanced and complicated state of public business. We should have either been deprived of "a House" by members going away, of we should have been treated with contempt and ridiculed by men who are now thinking of nothing else save escaping from London and getting rid of the session. You have no idea of the effects which must be produced in this country, as well'as in Ireland, by the attempts to discussions. It would litterally be equal only to the plant vatering after the war."

FROM PRANCE.

New-York, July 29.—At short two o'clock this morning we received our pasers brought by the packet ship Ruone, capt. Rockett, which sailed from Have on the 19th June. The dates are flust fluster of the 19th, and Farre of the 17th June. The dates are flust fluster of the 18th, and Farre of the 17th June. The material phows they contain has all been anticipated by the davies from England. On the 18th June, we preserve the Missier of War, the Marquis of Dalmatia, and Cotons, de Briequeville, a missible of the Enrice in the pentient murderor. Clough expressed a degree of kapping the latter, affecting the characa in debate. They have all the swords for ten minutes; and were then separatively with swords.
