ONE-DAY LATER FROM LONDON

By the Packet Ship Columbia, Capt. Delano, at New-York.

LETTERS FROM CORRESPONDENT OF THE COURIER.

Correspondence of the Courier.

LIVERPOOL, ——, 1833.

We were hastily preparing to leave the ship, when we received a letter from Mr. Bullock, requesting us to defer our departure for a few days, as he had made arrangements for a public dinner to be given to us by the citizens of Liverpool, which would take place on the following day. We accordingly remained on board, and on the next day, Mr. Bullock, accompanied by a number of gentlemen, came on board, and escorted us to the Adelphi Hotel, where a splendid dinner was prepared for the occasion. Among the company were the Mayor, the Recorder, the Members of Parliament for the town, and many other gentlemen of distinction. The dinner was served up in the most elegant manner, and the wines were of the choicest kind. After the cloth was removed, the Mayor rose and proposed the health of the President of the United States, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Van Buren, the Minister to England, which was received with equal enthusiasm. Mr. Bullock then rose and proposed the health of Mr. Dallas, the late Minister to England, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Gallatin, the late Minister to France, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Rush, the present Minister to England, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Livingston, the late Minister to France, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Brown, the late Minister to Spain, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Barbour, the late Minister to England, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Ingham, the late Minister to Russia, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Woodbury, the late Minister to Prussia, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Cass, the late Minister to France, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Wheaton, the late Minister to Denmark, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Hughes, the late Minister to Sweden, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Randolph, the late Minister to Portugal, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Brent, the late Minister to Spain, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Todd, the late Minister to Naples, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Shepard, the late Minister to Sardinia, which was received with three times three. He then proposed the health of Mr. Hall, the late Minister to Tuscany
