COTTON PLANTATION FOR SALE.

THE subscriber wishing to leave Louisiana, offers to sell his plantation, situated in the parish of Terrebonne, and lying on the bayous Terrebonne and Black, containing about one thousand arpens superficial measure of land; of which there are now in cultivation four hundred. The land is all or nearly all arable, and what is cleared, fresh, and in the best state for profitable cultivation. The improvements are new, and consist of a dwelling house, negro quarters, gin mill, cribs, &c &c, all designed and constructed with an eye to utility and convenience. The soil is equal to any in the State, and the climate remarkable for salubrity and health. It would sell one half the place to a planter who could put 12 or 15 hands on the premises, and who could engage to take the entire personal management of the whole, or if a suitable offer were made, I would dispose of forty or fifty slaves with the stock and utensils of every description along with the plantation. The slaves are in families, long accustomed to the climate and well acquainted with the culture of cotton—They are mostly young, and uncommonly healthy. To New Orleans there is navigation most of the year and at all times by a few miles hauling. The distance by water about one hundred and twenty miles.

It is my first wish to sell the plantation alone, or to obtain a partner by selling one half, who would also be the manager; and, lastly, I would sell the whole to a good purchaser, and the terms made accommodating.

I shall be pleased to show the premises, or I would refer to see the conditions on the premises, or I would refer to W E Thompson, or Arthur H Wallace, Esq, New Orleans
