NEW YORK.

The election for Governor, members of Congress, and the State Legislature, will commence on Menday morning and close on Vodeseday evening a xt, in thy State of N. York. Party ex itomout is running extremely high, and anthough it is much to be desired, it is accuracly possible, under a view of all the circumstances, to hope that the election will be conducted without great violence, and privage of bloodshed. The practice which prevails in that State of keeping the polls upon for three days in succession, as one which is calculated, in times of high party excitement, to produce excesses. The minds of mea are NEW YORK. at, to produce excesses. The minds of men are citement, to produce excesses. The minds of mea are kept so leag upon the stratch that they are likely to be arged to desperation. Many may be induced to spend the intervening nights in a manner very different from that of taking their ordinary rev, and which may have the effect to inflame the passions and prepare them for the commissions of acts of outrage; and if, under ordinary circumstances, they are restrained and kept within bounds of moderation, it is quite as much as can be experted among a great mass of prapile, made up, as the population of New York, is of such different materials of temper, disposition, sentiment and feeling. The course too which has been pursued by the oppression, of taiking about a revalution, bloodless as yet, and intimating that it will not remain so; of branding it is quite as much as can be expected among a great mass of propie, made up, as the population of New York, is of such different materials of temper, disposition, sentiment, and feeling. The course too which has been pursued by the oppression, of taking about a revalution, bloodlers as yet, and intimating that it will not remain so; of branding the President of the people's choice with the epithets of ty-rant, despot, and violator of the constitution and laws of his committee of churs ne him with he in sontrolled him. rant, deepot, and valuation of the constitutions and name of this responsible and enworthy aren in the management of our national aftering of any prove of his measure; of threatening laboring men with the loss of employment and bread for refusing to act contrary to their own convictions of right, and, in seme instances, attempted to carry the threat into execution; of talking of marching armed men to Warkington to put down the executive and the majority of the representative of the people by force, or compel them to acquises in the demands of the irresponsible, dangerous and corrupt men any power, has Leen calculated to rouse the focilings of men anxious for the preservation of their rights, for the perpetuation of the first institutions of the complety, and for the support of measures of which their judgments approve the support of measures of which their judgments approve the support of measures of which their judgments approve perpetastion of the free institutions of the country, and for the support of measures of which their judgments approve and their conseinment seaction, to the ingless pitch of ex-asperation add abhavance, and drive them to despe at on against the men who have displayed a disportion to op-press and ene see them. And the course which is now pursued by the same men as seen a natural undersy; to increase the excitement, and was it as to deeds of dis-cord and violence.
