OFFICE REMOVED.

THE UNION—IT MUST BE PRESERVED.

TUESDAY MORNING, DEC. 9, 1834.

We received yesterday several bundles of papers, which with those already on hand by Saturday's mail, accumulated our stock to so great an extent as to render it a painful duty to examine into their contents.

We found no later dates and nothing worthy upon which to call the reader's attention.

The mayor has in his wisdom seen fit to veto the resolution authorizing him to subscribe for $600 worth of the capital stock in the gas light company. His reasons will be found in the municipal proceedings of Saturday evening last, which will be found in our columns.

Extract of a letter from a merchant in Mobile, to a respectable house in this city: "An express has reached Montgomery with Liverpool accounts to the 1st of November. The price of Cotton had advanced one farthing higher. There has been large sales of cotton at Augusta for 19 cents.—(Daily News.)

MUNICIPAL PROCEEDINGS.

Sitting of Saturday, 6th Dec. 1834.

Present the Recorder, Messrs. Bermudez, Montegut, Labatut, Caldwell, Magrady, McFarlane, and Mercier.

The secretary having read the proces verbal of the last sitting, together with the following letter from the Mayor:

New Orleans, 6th Dehember, 1834.

To Messrs. the Recorder and Members of the City Council of New Orleans:

GENTLEMEN,

In execution of your ordinance of the 17th of November, 1834, and of the 1st December instant, at 12 o'clock, I put to sale to the highest bidder, the different lots of the city, and the following is the result.

The Meat Market was raised by Mr Joaquin Vioca to the sum of $36,000. This sum being less than the minimum fixed by the Council, the sale by this farm was suspended.

The Vegetable Market was raised to the sum of $17,500 by Mr Louis de la Rua, the last undertaker: as this sum fell short of the minimum fixed upon by you, I suspended the sale of the said market.

The rent of the houses belonging to the city was put up for sale, and No 1 for which Mr Alcorcha offered $100 per month—as well as No. 2, for which $35 per month were offered by Messrs Baldon & Co. were not adjudged to those gentlemen as the price which this would give, did not reach the minimum fixed by you.

The store No 4 was adjudged to Messrs Baldon & Co, the last purchaser, for $25 per month.

The store No 5 was adjudged for the sum of $51 per month to Mr Bartolo & Lado, the former purchasers.

The Market in the fauhourg St Mary, for which Mr Luke Hill, the last purchaser offered the sum of $13,000 was adjudged to him, and he designs to offer for the endorsers of his note, Mr Isaac Phillips and Jean C Ulm.

The levee duties upon small boats, pyrogues, &c, have been adjudged to Mr Auguste Toutsaint, for the sum of $1305, and Mr Jules Leblanc has been offered by the purchaser as his endorser of his notes.

The assent of the Council is necessary for the acceptance which I have to make of the endorsers of the notes presented by the purchasers of the farms which have been sold: I shall not proceed further in regard to these notes until you shall have made known to me your decision thereon.

Now, gentlemen, that it is permitted to me to remark to you that the Meat Market which last year produced to the city the sum of $37,500, and that the Vegetable Market which brought $14,300 appear today to the eyes of an active industry to be worth much less; and that when the augmentation in the population and commerce of New Orleans, would justify an increase in the price of these farms.

These facts seem to prove to me that the ordinance above mentioned has had the effect of diminishing the farms more than is at first thought. It was under this impression, that I expressed the opinion that the minimum fixed by the council was too high.

If gentlemen you keep to the resolution not to diminish the minimum, it will be necessary that the corporation should at its own cost have the collection made of the revenues which the two farms under consideration produce.—Here is new employment to be created, new cares to be undertaken, and her work in the office, and more than all this, an entire of revenue which will be made with difficulty, great expenses to be incurred for small sums, and in this manner that they cannot be employed but very late to aid the corporation in its financial operations, of which it is in need to fulfil its engagements, and to sustain and augment its credit.

I desire gentlemen that you will find in the foregoing the necessity of diminishing the minimum of which we have spoken, from the sale which we will have to effect, the balance of the farms this obstacle, which in my opinion will have an injurious effect, or finally to refer your ordinance upon the police of the markets which may increase the prices to a higher amount than one which have been offered at the last bidding.

The reasons which I have just set forth in speaking of the sales of the farms seem to me sufficient to justify my return back to you the additional ordinance you have passed to the ordinance concerning the vegetable market, approved the 17th of November, 1834, in proposing to you at least to make the abatement to it, the object of which would be to except the merchandize of commestibles from the general prohibition which your ordinance establishes against those who vend dry-goods, commestibles of the kind which are sold in stores and other objects—in the interior and around the markets. The commestibles which are found in the market are so nearly allied with the kind of objects which all persons who go to the market wish to buy, that the public will see with pain the execution of this part of your ordinance. What a article, the commestibles which can be sold in the market that are not sold in the stores! If there are any they are but few, and thus for the part of your ordinance which you have wished to make special, so as not to oppose your self entirely to an usage well understood, and sustained by the reasons which brings together in the same places all sorts of consumables will become, de-pite of you, general by the nature of thing and you will be further than you wished. I have reason to think likewise that this amendment will encourage sufficiently those persons who desire to buy the farms, so that the prices which they offer will be reasonable and attain the minimum which you have fixed.

You have authorised me, gentlemen, by the 10th resolution passed at your last sitting to subscribe for five hundred shares of the capital stock of the establishment which is to afford the city a gas light. It is painful for me not to be able to cooperate by my approbation to the said resolution, this patriotic act, but I think I should oppose even the interests of the city such as I understand them. You are not ignorant, gentlemen, of the pecunious state in which the treasury is found; payment at present to $600 the capital of its debt with the interest of that sum the expence to which it has to meet every six months seems to me to be an act which it is impossible for me to justify in the eyes of our constituents, in the circumstances in which we are at present. Perhaps may it be said that the dividends to be received for this in shares will suffice to pay the interests upon the bons you may emit; it is probable, but is it probability sufficient to the corporation already weighed down by other measures? May not the dividends be delayed for some time, and, gentlemen, it is not permitted to us to decide, and in the administration of the property of the city, and if the responsibly of tutor does not rest on us, we will not escape the moral responsibility. I shall be told again, and this charge will wound me most painfully, but suppose that which will lead aid M. Caldwell; so, gentlemen, I do not oppose myself—I fulfil my mandate. And I shall observe, that the corporation has aided M. Caldwell, such as it could, in ceding to him the right which it alone had of his furnishing lights for the city, and in loaning him a sum of twenty-nine thousand dollars to make trials. Besides, the experiment which has been made: gives an assurance of success, the entreprise of Mr. Caldwell should succeed, and I am sure that the enterprising spirit of our citizens, and their enlightened patriotism will induce them to furnish in a short time the funds which he is need of. But again once more, this does not suit any others but those who have funds to lure, which are not necessary to their present existence, whose privation will not aid in their ruin in time to come. I have the honor to, be, &c.

DENIS PRIEUR, mayor,

Mr. Montegut moved that the securities offered by Messrs. Lockhill and Toussaint be accepted.

The first part of the Mayor's letter was deferred until the close of the sitting.

Upon the second part of the Mayor's letter Dr. McFarlane said, that when he had presented that resolution it was with the consent of his constituents. He thought therefore that he should ask the council to persist. The opinion of the Mayor was founded in error, for it was certain that the council would not have to pay one-third of the sum. The Mayor was again mistaken when he thought we were here acting upon Mr. Caldwell's interest; Mr. Caldwell had abandoned his privileges to a company, and he was no more than a stockholder. The only quest on was to know whether New-Orleans was to remain behind every civilized country, which had adopted this economical mode of lighting their cities. He therefore moved that this subject be referred to a committee adopted.

Messrs. McFarlane, Mercier and Montegut, were named upon said committee.

A petition was read from certain citizens complaining against certain persons selling goods at the levee on board of keel and other boats.

On motion of Mr. Hyde the said petition was referred to a special committee.

Messrs. Hyde, Dixon and Bermudez were named upon said committee.

A petition from W. J. Berry was read praying for the remission of a fine.

On motion of Mr. McCready, the said petition was referred to the Mayor, with instructions to the Mayor to remit the said fine should he deem it fit.

A petition from Mr. Garland was read and accorded.

Mr. Caldwell presented a report from the committee upon the petition of the association of firemen, concluding with a recommendation that $1500 per annum be accorded to them.

Upon motion of Bermudez the same was made the order of the day for the next sitting.

A young man, named David Abder, who had been entrusted by several New York brokers with a package containing $5,000 to be delivered in Philadelphia, has decamped with the money.—Mer. Chron.

We publish below a short notice of the contemplated convention for ascertaining the manner for building the Mississippi and Pearl River Rail road. The spirit of improvement is abroad in the land and promises the most beneficial results of the different communities acting under its influence. This spirit which seems to be active in every other part of the United States, as yet, has been moderately here. Its general and all pervading influence in the other quarters of the Union is insufficient here.

When will East Feliciana become aroused to her own true and substantial interest? Her solid and permanent interest? When every other part of the country has enjoyed for half a century the benefits of improvements!—Lou. Pi.

SHOCKING MURDERS.

It becomes our unpleasant duty to relate the particulars of a most diabolical outrage which has been committed on the line of the Washington Rail Road, about eighteen miles from this city, involving the murder of three of the deputy Superintendents of construction. We have been at some pains to obtain correct details of this horrid proceeding, and make the following relation of it from sources which may be fully relied on.

It appears that on Tuesday afternoon Mr. Gorman, one of the contractors, was assailed in his own shanty by eight or ten men, supposed to be some of those at work on the Road. Mr. John Watson, a Superintendent, was also in the shanty at the moment, on a casual visit. Both gentlemen were forcibly dragged out, beaten severely, and left in a state of insensibility. They both, however, so far recovered as to be able to give an account of the affair; but Gorman still lies, we learn, in a very critical situation, and great doubts are entertained of his recovery. Mr Watson, upon examination, appeared to have been dangerously wounded, and on Tuesday night there was every prospect that he would survive the injuries inflicted on him. Mr. Gorman, we learn, was also assailed, and treated in the most brutal manner.

The outrages thus perpetrated by these cruel ruffains were not sufficient, it seems to satisfy their blood-thirsty cravings. About midnight on Wednesday, or between that hour and one o'clock yesterday morning, they surrounded the office where Mr. Watson was lying wounded, and after breaking open the door they deliberately murdered him, in a most barbarous and shocking manner, the back of his head being cut open and the brains scattered about. Mr. Wm. Messer, one of Mr. Watson's assistants, and who was present in the office when the attack was made, was dragged out and shot dead! Another of the superintendents, Mr. —— Callon, was also shot dead, his corpse having been found yesterday morning, at a short distance from the office. Several other persons were injured, but none we believe dangerously.

The miscreants, after the murders, proceeded to rob the premises, but we learn were defeated in their main purpose by the presence of mind of Mr. Smith, the clerk, who secured all the money except a small sum in specie, and effected his escape.

Various causes have been assigned for this unparalleled outrage, but we forbear at present to mention them. A robbery was committed a few days on Mr. Gorman, and suspicion certain individuals, who very probably are connected with this bloody transaction.

Mr. Watson, we know, sustained an excellent reputation, and had but recently undertaken a contract for the construction of a considerable line of the Road within the limits of the District.

TRIAL OF THE PIRATES.

TUESDAY, Nov 20.

The first witness called this morning by the counsel for the prisoners was Daniel F. Hale, who stated that he was a passenger in the year 1831 on board the American ship Minerva, from New York to New Orleans. The witness said that the Minerva in the course of her voyage ran aground on Bahama Bank, and would in all probability have been lost, with all her crew and passengers, had it not been for the existence of Bernardo de Soto, the captain of a Spanish brig, which providentially hove in sight, took them on board, and carried them safely into the Havana. They were 72 in all. Believes they could not possibly have been saved had they not been assisted by De Soto; has the Minerva had a cargo of lime which would have taken fire on coming in contact with the water, and the vessel had already sprung aleak.—An American ship, the Chariot, after having ascertained their situation, continued their voyage without attempting to succour them; on her arrival she reported a vessel on the Bahama Bank. De Soto treated them very kindly on board his brig.

Samuel Sandford next called. Witness examined the invoice of the cargo with which the Pando sailed from Havana and valued it at 10,000.

Mr. Child produced a Lloyds List of 12th Aug. '32 which stated that a pyratical schooner having on board thirty men, had been seen in lat. 30, long 22.

Mr. Hillard then rose and commenced his argument for the defence, which occupied the remainder of the day's session.
