LATEST DATES. Lavespool March 24 aw York April 19 ... 19 Londoa 💂 Paris 🛬. Washington Charleston The proceedings of the last ression of the city council ar necessarily postponed. A resolution was past in accordance with the suggestion of the mayor, to grant to the general covernment, the use of Jackson square to build thereon, the branch mint; but to retain the use if said mint be not there bailt; and recover it should the mint cease operation. The proprietor of this journal regrets the appearance an article on Saturday, reflecting on the city police, and :

special committee of the council. To those who know hi private opinions and read the remarks which he has himsel often made on the French side, it is not necessary to say tha that article was completely at variance with them. For the council, he entertains the highest respect: and he believes that the officers and others of the city police ment the esteem

The writer of the article also confesses that his remarks were hasty; and not founded on personal knowledge.

We have not yet received the information requested from the directors of the Mariners' Church. Why is it withheld?

OUTRAGE -On last Saturday afternoon, when returning home to his residence in the fautourg St Marigny, Mr Direau haw in one of the passages to his house, a negro assaulting one of his young slaves. The fellow being a powerful beded man, Mr Direnut being shout 70 years of age and feeble, the latter was obliged to request the interference of a fampo, inter. In contending with the lamplighter, the villain drew out a large knife, with which he made several thrusts suc cessfully partied; but in their struggles being forced towards the old gentlersan, the negro plunged his knife in him, on the left side as far as the breast. On examination the physicome despaired his life. The assassin has been arrested and augustored; and has been formerly committed for theft. He one of the s'aves of Mr Casimir Lacoate.

The Secretary of the Society for the Relief of Destitute Orphan Boys, acknowledges with gratitude the receipt yesterday, through the Post Office, of an anonymous letter, enclosing the sum of Sixty Dollars as a contribution for the benefit of the Male Orphan Asylum, from a few young mer "Lillow boarders."

FOREIGN NEWS. The mail of Saturday brought later intel igence from Eu rose, Leverpool to the 24 h of March, and London, 23 t. The due de Broglie seems resolved to be actually as wel as a singularly the premier. The ministry hold their cabinet e muchs at his house, not as formerly in the palaces or chato use of Louis Philip. It will be remembered that the treaty of indemnity was ratified under his auspices; that he has always supported the integrity of our claims-and it is asserted that he is now resolved that a law will be passed under his patronage making the necessary appropriations By that law he and the who'e ministry are resolved to abide and it is expected that a very large majority will be in its fa or. The time of tantalizing compromise is past.

The French ministry have been empowered to revive Loui. The French ministry have been empowered to revive Louis the people—A government which ever since it has been Philip's favorite plan of fortifying Paris—that is of building a at the helm of the State has never committed an act it of forts around it. If this is enforced, their unpepularity will be determined at once. Besides, epposition the most decided is expected in the chamber of deputies on the amnesty question, or the trials arising from the political offences which the amnesty would and should have obliviated.

The Peel ministry is gaining more decided favor in th. cyes of the people. A bill has been introduced in the house of commons, relative to the marriages of dissenters, which is more comprehensive and complete than might have been presented or passed under a Whig ministry. A resolution has also been introduced relative to tithes in Ireland, to compel the middleman (or medium between the landowner and occupying tenant) to pay the tithe. On hoth of these queshons, the ministers obtained a majority.

It appears that editors of newspapers here are not prive eged to express their opinions when inculpatory or condem natury of any appearing before the public. On Saturday we hazarded some remarks on Mrs Stone; but on her soicly as an actress, not as a woman-in her character before the public on the stage; but no more. If our opinions were mcorrect, still they were ours, and we had a right to entertain and express them. Others have equally the right to express there in contradiction. But that we should be required to apolicy ze for publicly expressing our candid opinion on the public conduct of these who present themselves for public praise or censure, is certainly a stretch of arregance to which we will never subjinit. No one has the right to demand sa only climate they are used to. histaction or explanation in such a case; and no gentleman would assume the power. When our remarks are incorrect

But we said that Mrs Stone 'from country or craft had unteered her services' for the benefit of the orphan asylum We are now pleased to learn that it was from real charity as well as ceurtesy; as evidently appears by her letter declining any reward for those services; and requesting the sum ten dered would be considered as 'the widow's mite' for the orthins. Had we received that letter, we would then have cheerfully published it; but as that courtesy was not shown the error was not our fault.

Yesterday we ascertained that she had volunteered he services before she received an engagement at the theatre This also proves her sincerity of benevolent purpose; but this we could not assert before we were so informed.

If then we have in the slightest degree wounded the feel ings of Mrs Stone, we tender her our sincers regret. Si may remember that we alone noticed her before last week during her present engagement. She may probably be aware that the writer of this had for some time been intimate with her late husband; had written several reviews of ha it imas in Philadelphia; was favored with his confidence relative to unproduced plays; and had respected him while Ly ng, and honored when dead.

· From that intimacy we were fully apprized of the estimable qualities of Mrs Stone as a wife and mother. It canno therefore be supposed for a moment, that our remarks were intended to be personal. They were called forth solely by her hasty panegyrists. who had censured as for wilful ne gleet of ner extraordinary professional inerits. We are aware that as an actress the possesses qualifications of a reputa ble grade; and if it be permitted, we believe that from wha we have been informed here and elsewhere, she is amable as a woman, affections : as a mother, and pleasing as a friend.

Some of the Grecian wages had so saturnine an idea o what is fermed friendship, or took so satirical a view of the sterested intimacies of life, as to advise that men should live ish their friends, as apprehending their enimity hereafter; and with their enemies as if they would one day become their friends. Many in their chagrin are tempted to adopt this maxim, from the ingratitudes they experience. We would add an additional aphorism on this topic. The friendship that is lost for a triffe, is but worth that triffe.

VIRGINIA ELECTIONS.—As far as returns have yet been re-coved, the result is, for the House of Delegates, 25 Admi-percation, and 16 Opposition. The Richmond Enquirer says that the Administration party are carrying all before them in the Western part of the Slate.

God, Liberty and Confederation, Texas, 23d Moreh 1835, ettempts again to pinings us into that dreadful abyes from the steep many of the appears again impelies the happity emerged Heappears again impelies a Brigadier General D/ Jose Mania Foundation. Independance seems destined to control all the acts of his public life. The cames to reestablish the reign of terror, stamped indebally on the minds of all the friends of humanity. In spite of the prosperous state which the republic now enjoys; in scorn of the peace and harmony which revive industry, and which are the most ardent wishes of all good citizens, this evil genus, this same instigator of all exercising their functions.

Art. 1. The right of General D. Antonie Lopes de Santa Annato givern the republic, as its President, is not recognized, until the shall have justified himself before competent for having prevented the sphere of the influence of his same, instigator of all exercising their functions.

Art. 2. The ambusing vive industry, and which are the most ardent wishes of all good citizens, this evil genrus, this same instigator of all those insurrections which created anarchy, appears again proclaiming principles subversive of the public welfare.

Nothing but the most arruly passions, the blindness of a narrow party spirit, and the unquenchable thist of criminal ambition, have induced him, (at this time of internal pasce) to unfurl again the bloody stendards of civil war. And what does he proclaim! The good sense of the nation, the acutness which has always distinguished the Mexican people, will justify the government for drawing, but in laded colors, the horid picture of all the evils which this infamous shieftin is ab ut to inflict on the republic. ermment called by the poole's voice to watch over its destines, should swerve from those principles.

Twelve months have not elapsed since the republic was threatened with complete destruction; all the so-nat ties were rean saunder and public sympathy destroyed. The eternal basis on which rest the public morals, the source of tiberal legislation and even of those principles which govern the most uncertified savages, religion had disappeared from among us. Science and virtue were proscribed in these fatal times. The patriot was at into dung cons, or exiled, or condemned to share the fate of the vilest criminals. Private property was forcibly plundered under ty opposite to the self appointed government. The jails, the barracks, the celfs of the inquisition, of that mons rouses and executed institution, were crowded with fathers of families form the work private of the requisition.

Art. 8. The body of the army, detached and retired officers thall have the enjoyments of their rights, as ju ed wretchedness and moral degradation. In these ever to be lamented times we have seen the rich metropolis of the republic converted in very few days into a large jail con-taining thousards of Mexican coverns; and additionally prined when our unfortunate country was visited by that dreadful scourge, the Asiatic cholern, which was daily carrying off thousands of victims. At the horrid sight of our devoted city the cruelty of the most blood-thirsty tyrants would have relented, but no so with our rulers.... They delighted in the miseries they inflicted; powerful such thirst tyrics to the most all one steps who despressions. auxiliaries to the mortal pesulence which was destroying our population, they strove to fill up the incasure of human

When at length their triumph throughout the republic was complete, it might have been expected that they would endeavour to hear the wounds they had inflicted a of to alleviate the public distresses; but no! again (and if posso e with increased fury) tary commenced their satance work of physical and moral persecution, under cover of the laws passed by a legislature submitted to their wid they concentrated all their attacks on that last consolution of christians. Religion was assailed in its most essential tenets; the Ministers of the Mexican church, who were all celebrated by their exemplary life, and some entitled to the national gratitude for their ardent and enlightened patrions in were all forced from their dioceses; because they would not agree to what was contrary to their duty and their conscience. The properties assigned to the support of establishments endowed by mexican charity, were a prey to those immoral chiefs of ourney demagages. The most ancient and respected customs of the country were treated with scorn and contemp, by the every some men who called themselves our Legislators. And now they have the impudence to pretend again to politic our legislative halls with their presence; to rule over the des inics of the republic.

The actual government established by the free will of would recall; an act not to perfect consonance with its liberal principles; the governmen confiding in the conglitened patriotism of the people cannot for a moment believe that there shell be one single individual who would countenance the revolt planned in the South. Public opinion is enlisted on our side, and we have power and strength enough to enforce the respect due to the laws Moreover this is not a proper time to attempt the subversion of public order, especially with such a plan as the one they have published. The recollection of all the horrors

Reaction against the national plan of Cuernavala Don Juan Aivarez has transmitted to the supre gov rument the documents following. It is long since we first received information descriving credit that the partisens of a carchy were endeavouring to disturb the partisans of a surery were endeavouring to disturb the public peace in the sonthern part of the state of Mexico; exposing Alvaiez, and inducing him to put himself at the head of the revolution. Government knew his evil intentions; and had possession of convincing proofs of the perversity of his principles. But always undeviating from the path of the generous policy it has adopted; and wishing not to afford the least pretence of being accused of persecuting any man, government left that washanny wishing not to afford the least pretence of being accused of persecuting any man, government left that unchappy nan to come to himself, and to meditate upon all the directesses he was about to bring upon his country. Such a generosity he repaid by the blackest perfidy. He again, with the torches of discord, has spread conflagration in the devoted southern part of Mexico.—He has adopted and multipled a plan (which I read you from this persecution). the devoted southern part of Mexico.—He has adopted and published a plan (which I send you from this metropole) a plan which tends to the destruction of all that was instituded by the free will of the people; and to enslave the nation in that degrading bondage once imposed upon it by the d magogues. A plan which tends to the dissolution of our revered rational congress, of the Legislature and state authorities; a plan which tends to hurl from the presidential chair the illustrious General D. Antonio Lopes de Santa Anno, the favorite of the people, and to rett in it the same D Valentin Gomez Parins. ple, and to set in it the same D Valentin Gomez Farins, who used to proscribe and exile our citizens to cast them into dungeons without offences or trials; to oppress innocence; and who would not let the nation enjoy the blessings of internal peals and domestic comforts.

By the plan of Texes, our venerable bishops mus again be exiled; our respected ministers of gospel must again be submitted to the contempt of the unprincipled rabble; the accursed laws on celesia-tical reforms which public opinion has condemned, will again be enforced; and our holy religion, the sheet anchor of all the hopes of Mexican, will forever disappear from the country.
