WAR AND NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Circular—The government has received information that, in the United States of North America, meetings are called fer the avowed purpose of getting up and fitting out expeditions against the Republic of Mexico, in order to send assistance to the rebels, toeter the civil war, and inflict upon our country all the caleminist by which it is followed. In the United States, our ancient ally, expeditions are now organized similar to that headed by the traitor Jose Antonio Majia, and some have even set out for Texas. They have been furnished with every kind of animunition, by means of which the revolted colonists are enabled to resist and fight the nation from which they never have received but immerise benefits. The government is also positively informed that these acts, condemned by the wisdem of the laws of the United States, are also reported by the general government, with which the best intelligence and the greatest harmony still prevail. However, as these adventurers and speculators have succeeded in escaping the penalties inflicted by the laws of their own country, it becomes necessary to selopt measures for their punishment. His excellency the president ad interim, anxious to repress these aggressions which constitute noonly an effence to the sovereignty of the Mexican nation, but also to an evident violation of international have as they are generally adopted, has ordered the following decrees to be enforced.

Ist. Foreigners landing on the coast of the republic or invading its territory by land, armed and with the intention of attacking our country, will be deemed pirates and dealt with the such being citizens of no nation presently at war with the republic, and fighting under no recognised flag.

3nd. All foreigners would import either by sea erland, in the placers would by the rebels, either sums or animunition of any kind for the use of them will be deemed pirates and punished as such.

Is end you these decrees, that you may cause them to be fully executed.

MEETING OF THE NEW ORLEANS

TYPOGRAPHICAL ASSOCIATION. At a meeting of the members of the New Orleans Typographical Association, held at the Assembly Room, Camp street, on Monday evening, the 22d inst. pursuant to previous notice, A. H. WETH-ERBY, Prosident, in the Chair, and James G. Fanwing, Secretary.

The object of the meeting having been stated by

'these:—it seems that the editors of the Chrosicle' being scared of printers" (to use their own language,) wrote to New Orleans for the purpose of procuring as many journeymen as they desired; accordingly "three very genteel young men presented themselves at [their] office, to claim the benefit of the engagement entered into at New Orleans." So far so good. It so happened, however, that these "three very genteel young men" had been guilty of the consummate folly (to call it by no harsher term) of and for so doing, were branded by the honorable part of the profession, as mea unworthy the countenance and support of those who desire to uphold and place upon a respectable basis, the "art preservative of all arta." The introduction of these "three very general" the introduction of these three very general arts. The introduction of these three very general with the Chronicle office produced its effect, as very naturally might have been expected. When a man commits an off-nce against the laws of his country, is tried by his peers, and found guilty, he expiates the crime by according its magnitude, and forever after is discarded tothe virtuous part of the community. When a traitor, (for instance Judas Iscariot, or Benedict Arnold) betrays his God, or his country, for pelf, or for any other consideration, riot, or Benedict Arnold) betrays his God, or his country, for pelf, or for any other consideration, there may be lound some who love the treason, but a large majority of the world would despise the traitor. When a member of any fraternity is guilty of misconduct, and is expelled without the pale of such fraternity, are there any so "poor as to do him reverence?" We opine not. And should it not be so with regard to the typographical art?—Most assuredly it ought.

with regard to the typographical art?—Most assuredly it ought.

Such being the true state of the case, those journeymen employed in the "Chronicle" effice, and who considered themselves of good standing and repute among their typographical brethren, did not wish to be contaminated by striving with men who had the mark of the beast indelibly inserbed apon their front. Of course they struck—and call it "rebellion," or any other name, had they done otherwise their diagrace would have been complete. As it is they stand "redeemed, regenerated, erect?"

The Editors of the Chronicle appear to manifest a degree of holy horror at the appellation "RATS!" and seem, as if by perversity, so to comprehen the true meaning of the term; hence, in their eag-ruess to "explain the origin" of the word, they have resorted to the mere ipse disrit of the "three control." RATS themselves!!!—and accordvery genteel. RATS themselves!!!-and according to their version, and that of the Editors, its date may be traceback to the formation of the "Trades Union," the turn out in the "New York Journal of Committee" and the "other respectable papers in

After pourin." out the phists of their wrath upon the "Trades Union," and making assertions in regard thereto, which are not only false, but which are destitute of the shadow or substance of truth, the worthy pinks of the "Chronicle" turn their quill of gall towards New Orleans, and let fly the followins inkling of its hitterness:

of gall towards New Orleans, and let fly the following inking of its bitterness:

"These societies have been formed in most of the "cities of this Union, and we understand that there "is one in New Orleans, which prohibits any mem"ber from working in the same office with those "men who had honesty and firmness enough to "maintain their rights and resist the tyranny sought to be fired upon them."

"maintain their rights and resist the tyranny sought to be fixed upon them."
"Honesig and firmness!" Areyou there old truepenny! We should like to know when these "RATS" displayed any "firmness"—and when they ever attempted to "resist the tyranny sought to be fixed upon them?" What "tyranny" was it? And in what did it consist? About their "honesty" the least said the better. The truth of the matter is this: These same "three very genteel young men" by a system of low, servile, cringing sycophancy, which no printer of any standing would be guilty of, permitted themselves to be made mere cat's-pows in the hands of the sions Editors of the New York the hands of the pious Editors of the New York which his printer of any standing would be gunly of, permitted themselves to be made mere cat's-perse in the hands of the pions Editors of the New York Journal of Commerce, (a print, which, if it is not greatly helied, ARTHUR TAPPAN'S money brought into existence, which has labored to suppress the transportation of the mail on Sunday, and which is strongly suspected of being tinetured with Abolitionism,) and did every thing in their power against the rights, interests, and welfare of the profession: for doing this they have been denounced and proscribed at New York and Washington, and shall they now be cherished and succoured in New Orleans, at Mobile, or elsewhere? Forbid it justice! forbid it Heaven!

Regular journeymen printers who have served a regular apprenticeship in order to obtain a therough knowledge of the printing business, deemed it their duty as unquestionably it was their right, to establish a regular scale of prices, in order that individuals who have only servedhalf of their time, and who are ignorant for the most part of the details of that business, or are otherwise unworthy, should not encroach on their just rights and privileges. In this they have been upheld and sustained by a large, a very large majority of the employers in other sections of the country, and if reason and common sense are not yet extinct, their success in this quarter is equally certain. Societies which have received the sanction of such men as Samuel Harrison Smith, Joseph Gales, Sen. and Jun. John C. Rives, F. P. Blair, Hezekiah Niles, Matthew Carry, Matthew L. Davis, Wm. L. Stone, John Lang, Azariah Flagg, Benjamin Russell, Isaac Hill, and a host of other eminent citizens, have nothing to apprehend from the open denunciations of the puissant scribes of the Mobile Moraing Chronicle, whose "ignorance" of Benjamin Russell, Isaac Hill, and a host of other eminent citizens, have nothing to apprehend from the open denunciations of the puissant scribes of the Mobile Moraing Chronicls, whose "ignorance" of the business ought to crown their aristocratic impudence with the mantle of shame! shaine!!

Let it be distinctly borns in mind, however, that we have nothing to do with the "Trades Union;" nor does the action of that body control us in the remotest degree: we act upon our own responsibility; and these acts, placing them upon the "reserved ights" of the Association, we too will "maintain at all hexards." But in order that the object of the "NewOrleans Typographical Association" (which has been especially denounced) may be properly understood, we deem it appropriate to let the preamble speak for itself—and therefore insert it. Here it is:—

"From time the most remote up to a not far dis-ant period, two-thirds of the human species have labored for thesupport and maintenance, in afflu-ence, luxury and idlenoss, of a remaining third; themselves compelled to be content if allowed a miserable moiety of the comforts their own indus-try had produced, as a reward for years of sweating toil and groaning servitude, subjected to "The oppressor's wrong—the proof man's contumely!"

The object of the meeting having been stated by the chair, it was on motion the consisting of five perfect. That committee consisting of five perfect. The committee consisting of the perfect of the 15th inst. and reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were severally read, and unanimously adopted:

The mannbers of the New Orleans Typographical Association, have been and read with no other emotions than those of surprise and regret, an editorial article in the "Mobile Mortage Chronicle" of the 15th inst. purporting to give an account of a "very curious secure" which transpired in that office, but which, taken altogether, is, in fact, a car-lumnious statek upon the Typographical profession generally, and of the Association of which we are members, particularly—an attack unprovoked, uncalled for, and itliberal as it is unjust. A due regard for the profession, a regard for self-respect, and a regard for our rights as citizens of a free country, impel us to bestow an attention upon this subject, which understaken, and we appeal to the good same of the community at 1s-rege, for a justification of the motives which govern us on this occasion.

The suprisent editors of the Chronicle, profess to be "ignorant of the phraseology of printers," and admitted the community and their ignorance, "&c. the "writelded full full formations of their justification of the motivation of the prographical exist." The same the necessity of the same of their intervention of the motive which govern use of "war of words" with this Society, they labor under a melancholy delusion. They may writhe and wriggle as much as they please; they may flounder and flare up at will; they may demounce this Association as often as they choose; but they shall abide by the consequences—and if these consequences fall heavily on their heads, they will attribute the cause to an officious intermedding with an Association they know nothing about, and which in no wise concerns them. They may make common cause with "rats," runaway apprentices, shingle printers birds of passage, abolitionists, disunionists, and diorganizers of social order and good feeling among men, hug them close to their bosoms, and "maintain them at all hazards;" but if they expect hossemble printers to follow in their train, they must be possessed of futtle or no perception, and utterly "ignorant" of a spirit of independence, patriotism, and righteousness!

Resolved, That if the editors of the Mobile Morning Chronicle, do not dispense with the services of the "three very genteel." RATS in their employ, at a reasonable period, that their office be denounced and placed upon the RAT list, that honorable men may shun it as a contagion.

Resolved, That in a desire to do good and to extend the influence of its counsels, this Association will not yield an iota, or abate one single jot or tittle, in consequence of the anathemas of the Editors of the Mobile Morning Chronicle; and while it will ask for "nothing but what is clearly right," it will take care to "submit to nothing that is wrong," Resolved, That the honorable part of the craft, now residing in Mobile, be requested and strenuously urged, to form a typographical association in said city, to further the interests of the profession generally, and more especially to frustrate the serinkled views of such editors who are so good as to denounce their formation in advance. denounce their formation in advance.
