FOR PRESIDENT M. VAN BUREN.

THESDAY MORNING, MAY 3, 1836

FOR VICE PRESIDENT CONTRICHARD M. JOHNSON.

A CAPTURE. Not long since the Texian armed schooner Invincible, captain Brown commander, hailed the American brig Pocket bound for Matamoras, with provisions and munitions of war for the Mexican army thation, provided he and the supplets were paid to Commodore Dallas at Pensacola, that the vessel had been seized on open seas as a prize; and charged the Texians with piracy. Dollas sent out the sloop of war port here. When taken the captain was not on board and as many of the crew had mutinied, there were only 5 seamen at first taken. The others were however aub-

Yesterday a gentleman arrived from Attakapas in this State, and he asserts that two persons had been at St Martinville immediately before his departure, who stated as a positive fact, within their own cognizance, that an engagement had taken place between part of of the Texian and Mexican army. The latter had been separated into two bodies, divided by the river Brassos, whose sudden rise prevented their junction. The larger body consisted of about 1300 or 1400 men, who being attacked by General Houston, set fire to the town of Harrisburgh and retreated; but Houston succeeding in overtaking them about 7 miles from that place, compelled them to a pitched battle, in which 700 of the Mexicans were killed, and 500 taken prisoners—among whom was General Cos, whose parele & konseur will serve him on this occasion! The enemy was completely routed, and the loss of the Texians was very inconsiderable. Gen Houston immediately was very inconsiderable. Gen Houston immediately marched in pursuit of the other body, and may have

A change was to take place in the Spanish ministry, Isiuriz or the Duke de Rivas to be app inted premier, and Mendizabal, minister of the interior. The public funds had been improved, and the bonds for the national debt advanced one half for east.

Washington, April 19th, 1836.

The general appropriation bill always produces some discussion, from the number of amendments proposed from time to time, both in the committee of the whole and in the House. What I should call a singular motion, was stade by Mr C. Johnson in the committee. ion, was made by Mr C Johnson in the committee, which was to strike out an appropriation for the docu-mentary history of the American Revolution, by Clark & Force, of $30,000. This resolution prevailed, to the astonishment of every one. A regular contract had been entered into in 1833, between the compilers and the government, for the publication of this documentary history, which was to embrace a mass of historical information relating to this country, that had never seen the light, or that historians had neglected.
The expense in making the preliminary arrangements was very great. Agents had been employed to copy from the archives of almost all the states, such matters as were both important and interesting in the hiswas very great. Agents had been employed to copy from the archives of almost all the states, such matters as wore of almost all the states, such matters as wore one), most of the States, for the purpose of accertaining what facts were in existence that could illustrate the history of the country, and not only the fair investigation, but the acquisition of the details and facts exagit for, was strained with great expense—One volume of this work is nearly completed, and the second is in progress. The appropriation referred to, was required to enable the compilers to complete their arrangements when the committee thought proper to strike the tiem out of the bill. The House, however, the next stay, gater a long debate, restored it, and thus awd the faith of the astion. The bill is still before the House. The present British ministers at Washington Mr Fox, is said to be the son of Lord Holland, and its perfect eddity in his appearance. According to the repert of the secretary of the treas arry, made to the seenate yeared so, the receipts into the treasury during the last quarter, ending Size March, were $10,725,700 from all sources, and that the whole amount of public money now in the treasury, was $31,835,155. This document shows the receipt during the first quarter of near eleven millions of dollars, from which we may infer that there will be at the end of the year, with the present surplue, about sixty-three millions.

The treasures of a nation, like the rains of hea-ven, should full back apon those from whom it has been derived. By the steamboat Levant which arrived lest evening, the accounts are confirmed of Houston's victory over the Mexi'an army. Having conquered the first division us deswhere reisted by a stateched the second division under Santa Anna himself—the result of which was as hastily communicated in the following circular from the Texan secretary of war to the people of Nacogoloches.

MAYON'S OFFICE, 2d March, 1636.
To the President and members of the Municipal councils, in general assembly convened:
Gentlemen—By the custom till mow established in the administration which has lately ceased, as well as the necessity of giving information to the newly elected aldermen, on the wants and financial resources of the corporation, it was the Mayor's duty to submit to each new council, on the day of their installation, a statement of the receipts and probable expenses for the ensuing year.

I would have wished to act agreeably to that custom at the opening session of the three Municipal Councils, who succeed from this day, to the late City Council; and also to submit to their consideration ex-

Council; and also to submit to their consideration exact information of the means they can use to fulfil the object for which they were created.

However, you will understand that the complete reorganization effected by the law of 8th March leat, puts it out of my power to ground upon the future prospects which it prepares for us, any facts to be considered as positive.

organization election with the law of the hard has, puts it out of my power to ground upon the future prospects which it prepares for us, any facts to be considered as positive.

The three municipalities being invested not only with the same privileges and immunities which were attributed to the corporation of New Orleans, with the only exception of those rights reserved to the General Council, and each of the municipalities enjoying the faculty of drawing to itself a large portion of the revenue accruing to the city, no man can new foresee with any degree of certainty in what proportions this same revenue will be divided, and what portions this same revenue will be divided, and what portions this same revenue will be divided, and what portion will fail to each sunnicipality.

The tax on real proporty and slaves, and the tax paid by retailers of spuritous liquore, are the only gosuitee sources on which calculations may be grounded; but the wharves, the hawkers and pediars; the drays and carriages, the markets themselves, which by the slause separating the several parts of the city, will be rendered more or less productive, are as many sources of revenue which the three constituted bodies will dispose of at once, without there being any possibility of ascertaining the amount which each will collect.

Again, the expenses caused by the new organization in each section, are still more difficult to ascertain; as the expenses of each administratios, either for salaries or surveying and public works remain yet to be fixed, and that no idea can be formed of the improvements which may originate from this new order of things.

You will perceive that from these considerations, I was obliged to abandon the idea of fixing, even by estimation, the receipits and probable expenditures of the different municipalities for the year. Now that the accounts of the late corporation are to be estiled, I thought it was more useful and practicable to submit you the statement of the debts and credits of the corporation, in order that you rations. This statement which the given:
very soon transmit to you, may be thus given:
exse,738

Juson Comparatory—Alithe returns of the lete election in striction at the prisons, a question which presented it is districted at the former administration, but is now of mphospiles confequence of the intellicency of the the strict in the section that the three numicipalities shall use the prisons or paying an equitable proportion in the expenses for their construction, maintenance and sanget municipalities the obligation of supporting the works principalities the obligation of supporting the works principalities the commissioners of the general sinking fund, who is only charged with liquidining the debie of the conversation, it follows that the sole mode of meeting his difficulty is by submitting it to the action of the free councils separately—an hazardous alternative, which must be imperfect, and produce other inconvergences.

If a have said that the cost of the construction of which must be imperied, and produce other insolved idences.

If a have said that the cost of the construction of the prisons is not the duty of the commissioners of the sinking fand, it is because I believe it impossible to consider as a debt of the former corporation, the expenses of the works whose adjudication has not yet been effected. It is similar with all other than the content of the works whose adjudication has not present a content of the works whose adjudication has not present the content of the works whose adjudication has not present the content of the works whose adjudication has not present the content of the works whose adjudication has not present the content of the works whose adjudication has not present the content of the works whose adjudication has not present the content of the construction of the construction of the construction of the content of the con works ordered by the last council, not yet contracted for.

To these difficulties must be joined that of considering as obligatory all the ord nances of the last council, which order different annual appropriations, whether under the title of charities or as encouragements to certain societies, or for other objects; and if so, how those sums shall be paid.

Such is a succint survey in which the triple administration created by the law 8 March now finds itself; and the obstacles which appear to embarrass its progress; It is chiefly on your action I rely, to aid me to conquer these difficulties: and to expedite the prosperity of our fleurishing capital. By your intelligence and experience this task will be less painful to me; and I shall with courage undertake to faifal the wishes of our fellow citizens.

I am, etc.

LATER FROM PRANCE AND ENGLAND.

The packet ship Silvie de Grasse, Captain Wiederbolt, from Havre, whence she satied on the 4th ultimo, arrived yesterday, bringing us Paris and Havre papers of the day previous.

The intelligence from England and France is of very little importance. Paris, and inddeed the depretments, seem entitled absorbed by the success of a new opers of Mayor Beer, called "the Haguenots. Nothing else is thought of. The special message of the President to Congress, announcing the acceptance of the Meditation of England, was received in Havre, by the Albany, and is published there on the 3d, without comment. It had not yet reached Paris.

The Chamber of Deputies was occanied with the or the Meditation of England, was received in Have yet he Albany, and as published there on the state with the discussion of some laws on the country roads throughout the kingdom, which excited little general interest. The new ministry had not yet tested their strength on any important question, but every thing indicates, we think, M. Thiers is firmly seated in his place, and will be supported by a majority of the Depuice.

Wilking, our Minister to Russis, has arrived in Paris in good health.

The Orange Associations in Ireland have been finally dissolved, a measure which will probably be productive of important results. The Duke of Cumberland—the grand smaster—in obedience to the command of the king, has given formal information of this event to the subordinate lodges, and it would seem they intend to follow the course of conduct, of which he has given them an example.

A select committee of the House of Commons were in assisted in the subject of the money, which Mr. Raphael asserted he had paid Mr. O'Connell, to obtain a return for that place to Parliament. The examination of Mr. Raphael had begun, and thus for nothing more had been elicited than a confirmation of what he stated in his published letters, except one important point, which was that O'Connell in a letter to Raphael asks him. "Will you let me know if you would like to accept of a Baronetcy? I do not make this offer without authority."

The interference of England in the affairs of Spain became the subject of discussion in the House of Commons on the Stch of February. A long debate ensembled the subject of the money is the subject of the money in the affairs of the contract of the product of the contract of the contra pulsion of their folish subjects from Cracow. It is pretcheded that this proteceding is justified by an arricle in the treaty of Vianna; but is superfluous in the invaders to quote authority for their outrage on the powerless victims of their tyranny. They surround the Poles of the little republics on every side, and may destroy the city of Cracow, as Nicholess threatens to destroy Warsaw, whenever it suits thair savage and vindictive policy.

PORTUGAL.

The Queen of Portugal has had some disagreement with her Ministers, who are also unpopular with the Cortes and incapable in the Council: so their speedy downfall is anticipated. Campoe, the Finance Minister, has met with little success in his attempts to procure the necessary supplies of money for carrying on the government; and the talents of Silva Carva ho will probably again be put in requisition. The Queen is much vexed by the refused of the Deputies to asnetion a promise she had made to her husband, hat he should be Commander-in-Chief. Benhur, Barjena. supposed to be a saunch Ministerialist, has moved a resolution, test no such office as Commande-in-Chief should be allowed to exist in time of peace; and it is feared the Chamber will agree to the motion, altho it is known that the Queen has written to her husband assuring him that his appointment is fixed and certain.
