FOR PRESIDENT M. VAN BUREN. FOR VICE PRESIDENT RICHARD M. JOHNSON. Our columns are always open to a proper reply to Our solumns are always open to a proper reply to any remarks wheth we may make on any subject.—
This we have repeatedly stated, and always enforced: for we believe that the legitimate liberty of the press consists in this liberality. We never knowingly somemit an error, altho we may have occasionally perpentited a mistakes—which (according to Talleyrand) is the mistakes—which (according to Talleyrand) is the greater fault; but priding ourselves in this liberality and integrity, it is engenerous in any to resort to personal or legal attacks on the editor—althe fer either he is atways prepared, being physically and legally responsible for whatever he writes.

When therefore are penned one or two queries regarding Mr.J. Wileoz, we believed that we were inflicting a species of retributive justice on him, in consequence of the alleged course pursued by him relative to the printer for the central municipality. If we were misinformed, we regret what was written: for we have no personal flowill towards the gentleman. But the bass viol of Cassolani, have made favorable and almost indelible impressions on the auditory nerves, of the frequenters of that theatre. We regret to hear that many of these will be lost to our community next season.

His dramatic company cannot be complimented as masse as efficient; and he seemed as well aware of this that he was obliged to rely on the starry system for support.—Many of these intinerants he has enriched at his own risk and lose; aithough some of them deserved the support he gave them.—

His Italian company will be reengaged and rein, forced next season. We cannot say that we were pleased with any of them except Pedrotti and Montreesor, The Jady has a strong and powerful voice; full of expression and wheet, but sometimes carried

The theatre of Rassell did not succeed very well at the commencement of the season, because he relied on the stars for success, which he certainly could not have secured by the efforts of Eston and Co. But when he thought proper to rely on the strength and capabilities of his own stock company, by exhibiting them in good dramas, he succeeded beyond his expectations. The affair is one strictly regarding our consumerce; and as such merits the serious attention of every citizen: for all are interested in preserving the flag and trade of the country. The theatrical season of our theatres has been brought to a close, with a colorable his 'run of business.'

The French theatre under Mr Davis fortanately for himself is conducted our theorem of most of the European theatres—baving a good stock company without stars, and producing good or new drames: he has therefore successed as usual in netting a pretty sum. His performers are respectable, althou not superior, if we except Madame St Clair. Her voice is mellificated and the strong; that of Madamoiselle Dupuis is not so pleasing, on account of her physical debility, and the dental hissing which invariably accompanies its utterance: but they both deserve the approbation they receive.

Bailly has a splendid base veice; but either has it under imperfact control, or is not intimate with messic as a science. There is a very striking contrast between his veice and that of Heymann: the former has a good natural voice uncontrolled; the latter has a miserable voice naturally, but has acquired a pleasing artificial voice.

Caidwell's new theatre has not been so auccessful as expected, or as it deserved. Many causes contributed to this—probably-fich increased price of entry, and perhaps many of our conscientious citizens were relucted to time-probably-fich increased price of entry, and perhaps many of our conscientious citizens were relucted to this—probably-fich increased price of entry, and perhaps many of our conscientious citizens were relucted to this—probably-fich increased price of entry, and perhaps many of our conscientious citizens were relucted to this—probably-fich increased price of entry, and perhaps many of our conscientious citizens were relucted to this—probably-fich increased price of entry, and perhaps many of our conscientious citizens were relucted to the entry of the strong and developed the strength of the strong and developed Mesers. Thouse and Stringer being named tellers, it appeared at the opening of the ballot box that out of twenty votes, Mr. Fasende had obtained 16; that there were 2 blank votes and 2 votes lost.

Connequently Mr. Morière Fazende was declared duly placted keeper of the powder mugazine.

A letter was read from Mr. Crebassol, candidate for the office, of Printer.

Baid letter was laid on the table, subject to the call of the council.

On motion of Mr. Pédesclaux, the council proceeded to the election by ballot of a Printer for the 1st municipality.

On motion of Mr. Pédesclaux, the council proceeded to the election by ballot of a Printer for the lat municipality.

Massra Armas and Pitot being named tellers, it appeared at the opening of the ballot box that out of 22 votes, Mr. St. Romes had obtained Mr. Mr. Crelassol 4.

There being no definitive result, and the council having proceeded to a second ballot, it appeared that out of 22 votes, Mr. Bayon had obtained 11, Mr. St. Romes 8 and Mr. Crebassel, 3.

There being yet no definitive result, and the council having proceeded to a third ballot, it appeared that out of 32 votes Mr. Bayon had obtained 12 and Mr. St. Romes, 10.

Consequently Mr. Jerome Bayon was d-clared duly elected Printer for the 1st municipality.

On motion of Mr. Lesseps, the council proceeded to the election of an attorney for the 1st municipality.

Messra. Cougot and Roselius being appointed telers, it appeared on the spaning of the ballot box that out of 32 votes, Mr. Pierre Soulé had obtained 15, Mr. James Sterret, 5 and that there was a blank.

Consequently Mr. Pierre Soulé was declared duly elected attorney for the 1st municipality.

Mr. Armas presented a resolution to open Orleane street through Circus square, and another resolution relative to the future disposition of the two sections of said Circus square, with would be left.

On motion of Mr. Busson, said resolutions were referred to a special committee.
