$4 HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.

RUNAWAY, from the Exchange Hall, in New Orleans, on Sunday morning, the 7th inst. a negro man named Jim Williams, about 30 years of age, the property of the subscriber. Said boy is aged about nineteen years, 5 feet 8 or 4 inches high, and of a common size; has a scar on the left side of his head near the hair, one on his left knee and also one on the top of one of his feet; his hair is cut short—he has a down look and set of features, and the left a good small colored coat with gilt buttons, white hat and dark gray pantaloons—took with him a carpet bag containing a change of clothing. Said boy named Samuel (or as he is generally called Sam) has a pleasant countenance, and when spoken to is apt to stare and say but little.

Said boy was purchased him, from Mr. Thomas Norris, of Nashville, Virginia, in New Orleans, on the 16th November, 1837. He is now probably lurking about the city or may have been carried off to some of the free states

The above reward will be given to any person, who may deliver said negro at the Exchange, at St. Francisville or to A. Ledoux, Esq. New Orleans, or who may lodge him in any jail so that I may get him.
