THE VICE-PRESIDENCY. The following spicy eard was published in the Globe a few days after the locofoco convention had djourned without making a nomination for the Vice Providency. Mr. FORSYTH has ill disguised his resentment at the neglect of the Convention to " make way" with Colonel Johnson. The glossy surface o the canvass is remarkable more for its racy irritability vision of locofocoism.

We opine, teo, that the Honorable Secretary has had some forecast of the November elections, and would be glad of an opportunity to throw himself into the popular current. The political horoscope of Mr.
Van Bunen is not prophetic of lon; sevity; and Mr.
Forsyth has no partiality for asthmatic dynasties. The Hon. Secretary has contracted a mortal aversion for the officer cum dignitate of retired life, and it is ore than probable that the shouts of the whir myriads

Query 1 will Colonel Johnson remain in the field The position of the old soldier is a false one. He has in glory's name, eas now, lead the ran, and Van should not as this time lead him. The Colonel is the only man of the party spokes of for the office of Vice-Presides that has any chim upon the country or any real popularity. He has served that state both as a soldier and a citizen. Though we abhor his politics, we have never withhelf from him the moved of praise for his public services. When he ran for the Vice-Presidency on VA Buszn's ticket im 1836, the Pre-sident reminded us of a dandy tied on to a sword, as the old colonel gave to the nominatio n its only strength and popularity. We are curious to know if he will permit his name to be used in the elaction, to sawiif those who have endeavored to the net him aside so

A GUN PROM PENNSYLVANIA Tanagement wing ours.—The special election held Beilford county, for a representative in the legisleers, to supply the vacancy occasioned by the expension of Mr. McElwee, (I. f.), has resulted in the choice a whig, after an animated struggle, by SIX HUN-DRED and fifty-five majority. At the last election McElwee had these hundred majority, thus showing otes, in a single county. As Mr. McElwee was not condidate, no personal feeling against him was mix d up with the election.

We regard this contest as a most important indica-tion of the political scatiments of the Key Stone state. If, in the remaining counties, the change be at all in proportion to that in Bedford, Harrison will carry Pennsylvania by a larger majority than she gave namesake in Tennessre, and cast away locofuced

From the Lexington (Ky.) Intelligencer Signature of the following extracts of two original documents now in our possession, which were found among the papers of the late Governor Scott of Kentucky, and politicly handed us by a highly respectable gentleman of this city, who is connected to our late gallant governor by marriage. Those who have seen the Declaration of Independence, (and what American has not?) will instantly recognize the handwriting of Benjamin Harrison, Esq. one of the signers of that sacred instrument, affired to his letter to Gen. Scott, which we now copy. This letter proves a fact, of which we were not before apprised, that Gen. Wm. H. Harrison first entered the service of his country as a private soldier.

H. Harrison first entered the service of his country as a princia soldier.

Extract of a letter from Benjamin Harrison, Esq. to Mojor General Chas. Scott, dated.

Dear Sir—And now, before I take my leave, permit me to tell you, my son, a youth of niectern years of age, I have sent forward in the character of a private soldier under Captain Rollims. His youth and inex perience, I make no doubt, will stand in need of your friendship, therefore, I pray you, teach Aim she duties of his station, and if any accellent should happon him, pay some attention to him.

Your obedient and humbles serv't.

Can any man doubt what will be the state of exchange when that takes place? or can any one doubt its necessary effect on the price of produce?

"Sir, I venture to predict that the longer gentlemen pursue the experiment which they have devised, of collecting the public revenue by state banks, the more perfectly will they be satisfied that it cannot succeed."

"If I rightly apprehend him, this experiment is an attempt to return to an exclusive specie currency, first by being able, through the agency of the state banks, to dispense with any bonk of the Enisted States, and the to supersede the use of the state banks themestives."

"And now, sir, is it possible—is it possible, that twelve millions of intelligent people can be expected voluntarily to subject themselves to severe distress, of unknown duration, for the purpuse of making trial of an experiment like this?"

"I see imminent danger that more or feacer of the state banks will stay spects payments. The late measure of the secretary, and the infatuation with which it seems to be supported, tend directly and strongly to that result. Under pretence, then, of a design to return currency which shall be all specie, we are likely to have a currency in which there shall be no specie at all.
