ration of the ensuing twelve months to be coded to the states in which they lie. By this plan in a few years ont ibuted to the purchase and expenses of the land rongfully defrauded out of their just rights; while he faith of the nation would be violated towards Vir ginia, from whom empires were obtained upon the Lands at once to the states in which they lie, upon con-datus that they engage to pay one half of the gross proceeds to the general government, and further pro-vides for a graduation in prices as Mr. Barron's bill does. This would make the states agents for the eneral government; and comes with a bad gracerom Mr. Calhoun, who stickles so tenaciously for state severeignty, and whose nullification doctrine prive the general government of all remedy, should e states refuse to pay over the money.

In 1832, Mr. CLAY introduced his land bill which in 1633, nar. CLAY introduced his land buil, which was so just in its provisions, and so conformable to the true interests of the whole union and the piedged faith of the general government, that it passed by large majorities of both houses in congress—bot withanding they were opposed to him in polities and look el with ampicion upon every thing emanating from him—and would have become a law despite the presiet, and thus deprived the members from an opportunity of deciding between the bill and his objections t it. Mr. CLAY's proposition was nothing more that to set apart the proceeds of the public lands, and d vide them among the several states according to fede-ral population—giving to the new states, and those in which the lands were sold a certain per cantage more than to the old buck in anticipation of increased population lation.

This measure placed the whole domain in its position—a "common fund for the use and benefit a parameters—a common turn or the use ann expense as such of the United States as have become, or shall be-come members of the confederation or federal alliance of the states,"—and made the general government the trutter of the states, to dispace of them "faithfully and house 6 to fat that memorated for no other much ous fide for that purpose and for no other purpose whatever."

THE CONVENTION BILL. This important bill has at length become a faw. By a message from the governor the house was yesterday informed that his excellency had approved the bill to take the means. thereare that the exercisery sun appears to the case of the good people of the state as to the propriety and expediency of calling a convention of the people to alter the constitution.

Mr. Cat.covers. appears to night in the character of orr. Calliwell, appears to night in the character of Vagid, there will no doubt be a gathering at the Tem-ple to witness the return of the veteran upon the the-atre of his former conquests. That Mr. Calliwell, desires well of the people of New Orleans, let the results of his enterprise testify; and if in beautifying the city he has lightened his own pure, it is to be become that they will results the artic when he hoped that they will requite the artist when he appeal to them from the proudest meanment of his enthus astis public spirit.
