NEW ORLEANS, WEDNESDAY EVENING, Dec. 10, 1840.

We continue to publish a steady demand for Cotton at the close prices of yesterday, with sales to-day of 1,500 bales, at 10¼ a 10¾c for ordinary to middling. Sales also of 1,000 bbls Flour at $5 12½ a $5 25 for common to good brands. The news made by the English steamer, which arrived at New York on Saturday, will be found in another column. The most important feature of the intelligence is the failure of the Bank of England to raise the rate of discount, which had been expected by all parties. The money market was in consequence relieved from the pressure which had been apprehended, and the funds rose ½ per cent. The Bank of England, however, still maintains the rate of discount at 5 per cent. The Bank of France has also declined to raise the rate of discount, which remains at 4 per cent. The Bank of Amsterdam has reduced the rate of discount from 3 to 2½ per cent. The Bank of Hamburg has reduced the rate of discount from 4 to 3½ per cent.
