And it shall be lawful for the banks so assuming the circulation of a bank in liquidation to charge interest at the rate of six per cent. payable in advance—on their respective loans, and to lodge the securities thus received in guarantee of the issues provided for in the fourth section.

And should the Attorney General neglect so to do for fifteen days after the expiration of said 20 days, it shall be the duty of the Governor to consider his place as being vacated de facto, and to appoint another Attorney General in his place, who shall also be considered as having vacated his place if not acting within five days after his appointment.—And the Governor to continue so to act until the full intent of this section shall have been carried into full effect.

Sec. 9. And be it, &c. That it shall be the duty of the Board of Currency so often as they shall ascertain that any one of said revived banks is unable to comply with the conditions of this act, to notify to said bank to enter at once into liquidation on the conditions provided for in this act, and on such bank refusing or neglecting to do so within 20 days after such notification, it shall be the duty of the Board of Currency, under the penalty of $1,000 each member, to apprise the Attorney General of this neglect or refusal.

And it shall be the duty of the Attorney General immediately to sue said bank for a forfeiture of its charter, and should the Attorney General neglect so to do for ten days after said notification to him in writing by the Board of Currency, it shall be the duty of the Governor to consider his place as being vacated, and to act as provided for in the 8th section of this act.

Sec. 10. And be it, &c. That it shall be the duty of each member of the Board of Currency to report to said Board all infractions to this act. That every director of a bank who shall be guilty of such infractions, shall be held personally responsible, and shall be liable besides, to a fine of $500 for each offence, to be sued for by the Attorney General, on the notification of such infraction or infractions, by the board of currency.

Sec. 11. And be it, &c. That thirty days after the promulgation of this act in the state paper, it shall not be lawful for any bank to pay at its respective counters any other money than their own notes, and it shall be their duty on each Saturday in every week to pay, or to require to be paid, as the case may be, their respective balances in specie, and to exchange between themselves each day, on opening their doors, their respective notes.

That the notes of the Banks that shall not operate under this act shall be refused by the other banks in payment of debts due them or otherwise; and the President and Directors of such banks are hereby prohibited from issuing any note or notes not payable on demand, under the penalty of $500 for each and every note on time thus emitted; said penalty to be sued for by the Attorney General on the application of the Board of Currency.

The 12th section which was as follows, was then read:

Sec 12. And be it, &c., That from and after the 30th September, 1842, the protest made by a notary public after the demand and refusal of payment of a bank, unless declared and proved to be a forgery, shall constitute the forfeiture of the charter of such bank, and it shall be the duty of the Board of Currency and Attorney General to proceed forthwith against such bank as provided for by this act.

The following which was the balance of the said 6th section, was read:

1. That said bank shall grant to all debtors applying for the same as their respective debts mature, and on the payment of 10 per cent. cash, an extension of time of 12 months for the balance with the privilege each year of a renewal for one year more on the payment of 20 per cent. on the original debt, it being well understood that in all such cases good and satisfactory security shall be required on real estate by the banks so entering into liquidation.

2. That said bank shall also grant to all debtors applying for renewals on the guarantee of satisfactory personal security, 3, 6, 12 and 18 months by equal instalments, and on the payment of 10 per cent cash. Provided that the debtors of the branches shall be entitled to the privileges granted them by the third section of this act.

That in case of disagreement between the bank in liquidation and any of its debtors as to the sufficiency of the security offered, such disagreement shall be submitted to the Board of Currency, whose decision shall be binding upon both parties.

And it shall be lawful on all such renewals to charge eight per cent. interest, payable in advance.

Mr. Downs moved to amend said sixth section by striking out after the words 'respective debts they mature' and insert the words 'fall due or shall have fallen due heretofore; the same terms, the same conditions and the same restrictions, and the security to be determined in the same manner as laid down in the third section, and shall be entitled to charge the same interest,' and to strike out from the words 'respective debts' to the words 'payable in advance' inclusively.

Mr. Hoa moved to amend said additional section by adding at its end 'and that no dividend shall be made by the banks during the suspension of payment in specie, so long as the movement provided by this act, of the banks, shall not have been restored, under the penalty for each Director voting for the same, to be as above provided.'

TO PLANTERS, FARMERS, &c. &c.—By Her Majesty's Royal Letters Patent—Patent Portable Hand Mill, by which one man can grind and dress one peck of wheat per hour by a single operation.

The above mills are manufactured for grinding wheat, Indian corn, coffee, rice, and almost any dry substance, and will perform considerably more with less labour than any mill yet brought before the public in this country or Europe.

They are made with either metal grinders or stones, and to suit any extent of power; and their easy capability of being attached to thrashing machines, steam-engines, water wheels, horse or ox power, renders them invaluable to agriculturists, heads of families, public institutions, grocers, emigrants, &c.

The mode of applying this power is upon an entirely new principle, enabling more men to work in a given space with less fatigue than any plan now in operation.

Planters farmers and others may be supplied with mills by which one man can grind three bushels of beans per hour, with a peck of barley, or crush one bushel of oats per hour. Also mills of one horse power capable of grinding from 12 to 15 bushels of beans, grinding three bushels of barley, or crushing four bushels of flour. These mills may be easily attached to a thrashing machine.

The simplicity of their arrangement nearly prevents the possibility of their getting out of repair.

They above may be seen at Banks' Arcade. d2
