NEW-ORLEANS

BY BULLOCK, MAGNE & CO.
At 110 Canal Street.

HENRY-CLAY

(Subject to the decision of the American People.)
SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 4, 1860.

THE RECENT ELECTIONS.
In looking at the results of the recent elections, for the most part, apparently disconcerting to the party-party persons give themselves the trouble to extend their investigation beyond the mere results of things. They see that the party-party persons have won the election, and they are content with the simple statement of the fact, they argue that in these States the white are in a decided minority, and predict triumph for our candidate in 1864. This is a very shallow and loose method of reasoning. There are reasons why the party-party persons should not rest upon their merely local success, they should be carefully noted in forming our opinion of their influence upon the future.

COURT

Decided by the Court on the 29th inst.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

EXPORTS.
New York, Nov. 29. The daily export of goods from New York, for the week ending Nov. 29, 1860, was valued at $1,000,000. The principal exports were cotton, sugar, and tobacco.

BRAND ORDER.

PARISH COURT.
The Parish Court of the Parish of Orleans, in the City of New Orleans, has this day rendered the following decision: That the petition of the plaintiff in the case of John Doe vs. Jane Smith is granted.

SALES AT AUCTION.

WILLIAM W. BARKER, Auctioneer.
Will be sold on Monday, Nov. 6, 1860, at 11 o'clock, a lot of goods consigned to him by the late John Doe, consisting of a lot of fine furniture, including a bedstead, a table, and a chair.

Commercial.

NEW-ORLEANS, FRIDAY NIGHT, November 3, 1860.
No perceptible improvement in business has occurred within the past week; the transactions in the produce market being generally on a limited scale, owing to the reduced prices prevailing on the market. The market for sugar is quiet, and the price of the various grades of sugar is about the same as last week.

THE MOBILE ADVERTISER.
The Mobile Advertiser states that the Mobile Bank is perfectly sound, and that the rumors and statements to the contrary, were totally unfounded. We mention this as an act of justice, and to give the friends of the bank the satisfaction of knowing that the bank is in a sound and healthy condition.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

PORT OF NEW-ORLEANS.
ARRIVED.
The ship John Doe, from New York, arrived at New Orleans on Friday, Nov. 3, 1860. The cargo consists of a lot of fine goods, including a lot of sugar, coffee, and tobacco.

CONTI STREET HOTEL.

THE CONTI STREET HOTEL.
The Conti Street Hotel, situated at the corner of Conti Street and Canal Street, New Orleans, is now open for business. The hotel is a fine building, and is well furnished with every comfort and convenience for the traveler.

SALES AT AUCTION.
