The Mexican Negotiation Bill. The report of the proceedings of Congress wishow that the bill appropriating two millions of dol is to enable the President to negotiate a peace with levico, was lost in the Senate on the last day of the measure is curious enough. The bill was introduced the lower House by Gen'l McKay, a warm politi at friend of the President. Debated for some hour s passage by a heavy majority seemed certain, when emple of discord was thrown by Mr. Wilmor o Pa., a locoloco, who proposed an amendment proposing "as an express and fundamental condition to the quisition of any territory from the Republic of Mexico by the United States, by virtue of any treat which may be negotiated between them, and to the ase by the Executive of the moneys herein appropr ever exist in any part of said territory, except for crime, whereof the party shall first be duly convicted. This amendment came near defeating the bill, M Mc Cay, its own father voting against it. Nevertheess the amendment prevailed by 19 majority and the

On Monday the 10th, the bill came up in the Senate twenty minutes before the hour of adjournment, and Mr. Lewis forthwith moved to strike out Mr. Wil-VOTS obnoxious proviso. In the midst of the debate hat followed, the hour of twelve struck, the Senate warned and the bill fell through.

"Although I must ask you to be content with a brief acknowledgment of the address you have kindly made to me, and to the flattering estimate you have hen pleased to place upon the services it was in my power to render during the recent negotiations to which you refer. I beg you to be assured that I am not ue less grateful for your approbation of my conduct. To no one can the result which has so happily ensured these negotiations give greater satisfaction than it has done to me; and I never doubted that I could not render a more patriotic service to my own duntry, or one more acceptable or of greater importance to the world at large, than by contributing any lossistance in my power towards the preservation of peace, upon honorable terms, between two kildred nations, whose prosperity I believe to be intimately miterwoven with each other.

"If it be not a reproach, I have always thought it was to be lamented that the peace of two such nations, with so many motives to encourage and so let to disturb it, should have been so often and semously threatened by causes which, when subjected to the management of calin reason and honorable daining would immediately disappear.

"I agree with you, gentlemen, in thinking that the temper manifested by both nations in the actilement of the question ought to be an example to the world at large, and, may I not add, that it affords a sure guarantee of the cordial aimity by which our future intercourse will be distinguished. It is gratifying to retrick that the terms upon which the question lat one time apparently so critical, has been adjusted have been repressity assisfactory to the governments and time apparently so critical, has been adjusted have been generally satisfactory to the governments and the people of both countries, leaving nothing behind to disturb the harmony of our future relations. It is also worthy of congratulation, that by the convention recently concluded the only remaining question growing out of the treaty of 1783 has been intally settled, and that hereafter our people, though of separate nations, acknowledging a common origin and history, speaking the same language, nike bossing communional liberty, regulated by law, and intimately associated in commerce and the arts, may start forward in a new career of international intercourse, without any apprehension from any ancient cause of prejudice or ill-will. The discussion in Parliament on the Sugar duties was to begin on the 25th unit, and the result will prowhile he known here by the next nacket. The schott f the Russell Ministry is bold and open. Its jeature are briefly these: The colonial duty of 14s, is to continue as at present. The existing duty on foronce to 21s., and is to apoly to all foreign sugar, free name well as slave grown. A scale of duties is to ex-tend over five years, dropping in the first year a shift-ing, in the second eighteen-pence, in the third the ame, in the fourth the same, in the fifth the same, a he end of which time all distinction between cold al and foreign Sugars is to cease. Upon this comprehensive project has the Cabinet staked its position. Already there are breakers ahead. Lord Bentwick has given notice amendment condemnatory of the admission of slave-grown Sugar, and the Protectionists will be assisted by the Abolitionists, or as they are termed, the "Saints," in their efforts to defeat the Ministry. The seue is plain and the end dubious. Should Minister se ousted, they will take an appeal forthwith to the tribunal of public opinion, and in such an event, will probably be strengthened in their places by the support of, a Free Trade parliament. The next few weeks will be fraught with stirring interest to the people of Great Britain. It must not be forgotten that the Russell Cabinet came into power, with
