The meeting of the Taylor men on the Public Square last Sarurday evening, was one of those extraordinary displays of numbers and enthusiasm which throws into the shade all previous demonstrations, and proves with what tenacity the citizens of Louisians have grapped Zachaky Taylor to their hearts. It was their forlows and disconsolar visages too, clearly indicate. They are besten in advance and many of them candidly "acknowledge the troops what the rest of the fall yearly Court of Proprieties of the Court of Proprieties of the Campaign, not the company of the campaign in the condition of the campaign in the condition of the cond
