The New-Orleans Daily Bee.

Official Journal of the City, State, Parish and General Councils, Banks, Insurance and General Companies.

Friday Morning, April 11, 1851.

Number 40 Assembly.

The Assembly of the different Representative Districts of New Orleans and of other Portions of the State, are notified that the Assessment Rolls for the present year, are ready to be delivered, on their receipt at the office of the Bee.

The Northern Mail came through yesterday with the latest dates.

THE INDEPENDENTS.

The position of Mr. Claude Bruchères, one of the Councilmen elect from the Seventh Ward of the Second Municipality, seems to afford matter for much sagacity speculation on the part of our Locofoco friends. The Delta of yesterday refers to a conversation in the Bee of the previous day, in which the new Alderman elected on Monday, and characterized as "Independents," would prove himself worthy of the name; and says that our remark has an air of authority. We did not certainly intend to be authoritative in the expression of our opinion, but we did intend, as is invariably our habit, to say what we think. 'Mr. Bruchères was the Alderman alluded to, and we fully believe that he will display in the Council his freedom from political shackles, and his independence of both parties. Mr. Bruchères was a member of the Council formerly. He had been elected by the Democrats. His construction of Democracy did not justify him in opposing useful measures because they were offered by Whigs. Accordingly, on one or two occasions, he voted with his political opponents, hugely to the dissatisfaction to the "pure steel," though not at all to the disquietude of his own conscience. At the next contest Claude was quietly given the go-by. He wasn't pliable enough for Locofocoism, and was dropped.

At the late election, Mr. Bruchères ran upon an Independent, Reform ticket, in company with another Democrat and Whig. He was nominated by the mass of the Whigs and by a large number of the Democrats, especially upon the ground of his independence, and because they had confidence in his discretion, his honesty, and his impartiality. He was elected, and we have no doubts whatever, that he will justify by his conduct in the Council, the favorable opinion entertained of him by his supporters.

We wish our contemporary to understand that in applying the term "Independent," to Mr. Bruchères, we use it in its rigorous etymological signification. We believe that the Alderman in question will not abide party trammels; that he will not vote uniformly with the Democrats; neither will he go over to the Whigs. We believe that his official conduct will be regulated by an unbiased sense of duty, and by the dictates of an honest judgment. This is what we consider "independence." We should be almost as sorry to see Claude Bruchères turn Whig, as we would be, were he to throw himself body and soul into the arms of the Locofocos. He received our vote and that of hundreds of others, because they, like us, were willing to place our trust in a man whom we knew to be zealous and believed to be honest and fair. Nor have we any apprehension of being disappointed.

A Splendid Vessel.—One of the finest sea-going craft that ever visited the waters of the Mississippi, is the new Clipper bark Salem, Captain Hebart, built at Cincinnati by Mr. Hartwell Woodruff,—one of the most skillful naval architects in our country. That the Salem is a very beautiful vessel, complete and symmetrical in all her proportions, may be easily inferred from the following description:

She has very sharp ends, rounded lines, with an easy and graceful sheer; a beautiful carved gilded dragon ornamente the bow, and the American eagle and scrawl on the stern, which is exceedingly rounded. She registers 350 tons, is 115 feet on deck, 26 feet beam, and 12½ feet hold; copper-fastened and thoroughly copper-bolted, two capstans of mahogany and locust inlaid with brass, and patent windlass. Her cabin is divided into eight state-rooms, all finished, with highly polished mahogany, satin-wood and walnut; gothic panels relieved with enamelled white pilasters, edged with gilding, and neatly carved walnut capitals—the whole furnished in a style to please any old sailor, and reflect credit upon the liberality of the owner and the skill and taste of the joiner, Mr. Hemenway. Her spars are lofty and symmetrical, full rigged by the well-known Messrs. McClemens, of Boston fame. The Salem is owned by Mr. Benjamin Wright, of Cincinnati, and is now offered for freight or charter by Secomb & Voorhies, 15 Tchoupitoulas street.

We refer particularly to this vessel, as an illustration of the fact that the lumber of the West is so abundant and superior; and so infinitely cheaper than the same article in New York, that ship-building is becoming gradually transferred from the banks of the Hudson to those of the Ohio. The Salem is the third or fourth vessel built at Cincinnati, which has come down to New Orleans during the present season; and the advantages of ship-building at the West, on the score of economy, beauty and strength of materials, &c., are becoming so manifest, that in a few years we may expect Cincinnati to be almost as celebrated for her marine architecture, as she is now for her hams, shoulders and sausages.

Public Schools of First Municipality.—We call attention to the announcement of the Superintendent of the Public Schools of the First Municipality, convoking a meeting of the Committee on Teachers, for the purpose of examining candidates for situations in the public Schools.

New Books.—Our friend Morgan, of Exchange Place, has sent us several amusing works of fiction; such as "Pen Owen," a novel by Galt; "Pope Joan," the Female Pontiff, by Reynolds; and Tom Raquette, and This Three Maiden Aunts. The last a remarkably good thing.

☞ The second Monthly Examination of the Pupils of Professor J. H. Smith, at the Commercial Academy, 17 Dauphine street, will take place this evening, at 7 o'clock. The parents and friends of the pupils and public in general are invited to attend, in order to judge impartially of his method of teaching, and more particular attention is requested to the Arithmetical Department, of which he desires the strictest scrutiny, as it is said to be remarkable for expedition and accuracy in the solution of the several problems of interest, discount, commissions, &c.

There will also be Oratorical exercises by the different pupils.

Sailing of the Arctic.—The U. S. Mail Steamship Arctic, Captain Lone, sailed from New York on the 23d inst., for Liverpool, with 131 passengers. Among them we notice the names of Hon. Chas. B. Haddock, United States Charge to Portugal, with his lady; S G Goodrich, Esq., U. S. Consul to Paris, with his family; Rev. Dr. J P O Choules, bearer of dispatches to the Court of St. James; Gen. Hiram Walbridge; Hon. G W Wright, of California, and lady; and Col. John S. Du Solle.

Death of Abotheis Revolutionary Soldiers.—Wm. Nichols, of Woodsfield, Va., died on the 13th ult., aged 94 years. He was a soldier on Winter Hill, Mass., at the time the British burned Charlestown, and afterward, fought in the battles of Bennington, Saratoga and White Plains. He was a native of Middlesex, Mass., but moved his family to Woodsfield, Va., 66 years since, where he resided to the day of his death.

A Singular Case.—A lady in Sandwich (Mass.) died on Wednesday of last week, at the advanced age of 102 years. She was in the habit of winding sheets, her last, for the last 30 years, and still retained an appetite for snuff. Her sister was the centenarian of Yarmouth, who died a few years ago, at the age of 104 years. Mr. Swasey the lady mentioned in the above notice, was also a centenarian, having died at the age of 100 years.

☞ We call attention to the advertisement of the Messrs. Fenno, agents for the celebrated Vessers & Son
