THE COMPROMISE.
THE PLATFORM.

1. The matter of note of the 31st December, commonly known as the COMPROMISE or set of measures (the "Clay Compromise" as they have been labelled,) are received and acquiesced in by the Whigs of the United States, as a final settlement of the several subjects to which they relate, and so far as it keeps said acts unrepealed, we will maintain them, and resist by their utmost constitutional means, until they are repealed, all efforts to agitate the country with the view of further legislation to prejudice the rights of the South, or to impair the value of the property of her citizens in the territory ceded by her to the United States.

2. The Democratic party, in their late National Convention, have solemnly declared that they will resist all attempts at renewing in Congress or out of it, the agitation of the slavery question, under whatever shape or color the attempt may be made.
