TO OUR ADVERTISING FRIENDS.

Advertisements for insertion are requested to send in their favors at an early hour, in the course of the day. The late hours at which a large number of announcements are received, frequently preclude the possibility of their insertion, or compels us to delay the publication of our sheet.

YACHT MESSAGES.

We have before us a bill presented by Senator Raguet the patron of Orleans, of which the object is to do away with the system of yacht messages and substitute liens, so long as no prejudice to our jurisprudence, and a serious obstruction to our commercial prosperity. A very simple and effective bill for the abrogation of the system of yacht bills on the subject. They consume time and needlessly capricious and unreasonable have long felt that they operate prejudicial by by inviting to fraud, and by rendering real estate, which in other countries is properly resorted as the most valid security that can be offered, an uncertain and delusive grasp to the purchaser. Under the present system, loans upon landed property can rarely be effected, save at rates altogether inconsonant with the apparent value of the security—or if effected upon made rate terms, the mortgagee looks in reality more to the personal solvency and irreproachable character of the debtor, than to the hypothecation by which he is protected—for every species of real estate may be fatally encumbered by a tacit mortgage, either dotal or paraphernal, or arising out of the rights of minors. This system also, however, soon so completely intermingled with the system, and has extended its ramifications so widely into the heart of society that any attempt to sever it thoroughly, and tacit mortgages have remained unquestioning reproach to our State. Senator King marvels the honor of making a positive effort to ameliorate this great abuse. The bill drafted a bill which, while sensibly modifying for the abolition of the system, seeks to protect and shield minors and married women. His project is designed to preserve the useful and salutary objects for which the system was originally devised, and at the same time, to repeal those portions of it which have proved highly detrimental to the interests of the people, and have afforded convenient pretexts for roguery.

The bill is entitled, "An Act to provide for the recordation of mortgages in favor of minors and married women." Section 1 provides, that after the 15th January, 1854, all mortgages in favor of minors and married women shall be recorded.—Section 2, the Notaries Public in the several parishes shall cause to be recorded any act passed before them, by which a mortgage is created in favor of the wife on the property of the husband. Section 3, that when married women acquire property by inheritance or will, the Tutelary must take an authentic receipt from the husband, which shall be recorded as a mortgage against the husband—such receipt to be given before the husband, upon his making oath of his receipt of the subject. Those consuming to apply to the husband, upon his making oath of his consent, and administrators her only property.

Section 4 requires letters of curatorship to be recorded, but they are to have no legal effect until the tutor makes oath that they have been duly recorded. Tutors are to make an authentic act in favor of minors, but the letters of tutorship must be equally recorded. Section 5 provides that on the 1st July next, the office of all tutors now existing in this State shall expire, unless in the interval any tutor shall have recorded the letters of the tutorship, or the certificate of the clerk thereof, and shall have taken the prescribed oath.

Section 6 makes it imperative on the Clerks of Courts—except the Supreme Court—on the first July, to examine the records of tutorship, to make out a correct list of the tutors and minors, &c., and to keep the same as part of the records of the Court. Triplicate copies must be made, one to be posted up on the office of the clerk, another on the door of the Court House, and the third to be delivered to the judge of the Court. All tutors failing to qualify as above cited, shall be cited to appear within a specified time and apply for re-appointment—Penalties are prescribed for a failure of the Sheriff to serve notice. Any tutor appearing within the time designated to qualify, in conformity with the provisions of this act, and must further swear that he has caused to be recorded a copy of his letters of tutorship, and if he has given a special mortgage, he must make oath that the same has been properly recorded. If the tutor fail to appear, or qualify within forty days, the competent jurisdiction shall appoint another tutor in his stead, and the tutor thus appointed, shall qualify in the same manner, and shall cause the letters of tutorship to be recorded, together with the evidences of any previous mortgage, which shall operate as a mortgage against any previous tutor. For neglect of these duties, the tutor shall be liable to the minor for any damage thereby incurred, and shall be subject to criminal prosecution, and upon conviction, to the penalties prescribed against embezzlers of public money. A tutor may institute suit against previous tutors, to recover what may be owing to the minors for whom he has been appointed. He may also require the person exercising the power of appointing a tutor may, at any time before the newly appointed tutor has qualified, re-appoint the original tutor, on his appearing and showing that he has been guilty of no neglect, and offering to re-qualify in conformity to the act.

Section 7 provides for sending notices to tutors who do not reside in the parishes in which they were appointed, and allows them twenty days to appear and make application for re-appointment. Section 8 authorizes the competent authority to appoint a successor to any tutor who cannot be found, and does not appear within the designated period. Section 9 provides that when a tutor removes from one parish to another, he must have his letters of tutorship recorded in the parish to which he has removed. A failure to comply with this provision is made punishable by dismissal from his office, and by fine, and action or damages to the minor should cause, such tutor shall be liable for the same to the extent of his bondsment. Section 10 makes Clerks of Courts removable, by the Judge, in the event of a failure to discharge the duties imposed upon them. Section 11 provides that Judges who fail to do, charge the duties required by this Statute, shall be removable by impeachment or address. Section 12 prescribes that hereafter it shall be necessary to re-inscribe, after a lapse of ten years, legal mortgages in favor of minors, and married women, but the inscription once made, shall remain valid, until extinguished by payment or prescription. Section 13 repeals all laws and parts of laws contrary to the provisions of this act.

Such is an extended outline of the provisions of Mr. King's bill. We trust it will be examined in an impartial and candid manner, and receive the dispassionate attention which every project for the reform of the signal evil of tacit mortgages should command. If the bill be imperfect, let it be modified—if further checks and guards are needed, let them be applied; but the General Assembly owes it to the good people of Louisiana, not to separate, without phenomenally scrutinizing this defective system, and introducing such changes in legislation as, without impairing the rights of minors and married women, shall release millions of real estate from the dead weight and incubus of inactive encumbrance.

THE YOUNG FOLLOWS—A Magazine for Boys and Girls.—We have received the first number of the fourth volume of this exceedingly cheap and beautiful publication. It is a charming collection of tales, enigmas, useful precepts, and sketches of practical wisdom and sound advice adapted to youth, and offering the attraction of numerous handsome illustrations. Among the contributors to the work, are several of the most eminent writers of the day.

RAILROAD MEETING.—On Tuesday last, a number of the citizens of Baton Rouge, assembled at the Hall of Representatives, to take into consideration the project of a Railway communication between this place and the city of New Orleans. On motion, D. D. Avery, Esq., was called to the chair, and J. E. Elam was appointed Secretary. No action was taken on the subject, except the appointment of a committee to make suitable arrangements for the holding of a meeting at some future time. The committee consisted of Messrs W S Pike, T G Morgan, T J Bellington, J W Seymour, J W McMain and D. D. Avery.

DR. MANDEVILLE'S LECTURES.—We are pleased to learn that the School Directors of the Fifth District have invited Dr MANDEVILLE to our city to visit the schools, and to give a course of lectures on Mesmerism and Geology. It is a subject that will interest all, and Dr. MANDEVILLE'S reputation will call together some hundreds of the first talents of our city, to listen to his admirable lucubrations. He is expected here next Monday, when due notice will be given of the arrangements of his course.

UNDERSIGNED SALE OF DRY GOODS.—The particular attention of dealers is called to the unreserved sale of Dry Goods to take place THIS DAY, the 15th February, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at H. PETTIGREW & Co.'s Selling Room, No. 85 Old Levee, between Conti and Bienville streets. Terms, Cash. See their advertisement.

☞ The steamboat of buyers is called to the Cotton Sales now in progress, and numerous parcels, and bale damaged and uncertain Description, for sale at 10 o'clock, at the Cotton Sales Room, corner of Magazine and Gravier streets.

Amusements.

NEW ORLEANS has rarely been so rich and varied in amusements as during the present winter. There are three theatres in full operation, and all liberally sustained and patronized. In Orleans, St. Charles and Varieties are nightly thronged. The American has been converted for the nonce, into a magician's laboratory, and MACALLISTER, the wonderful, astonishes and delights crowded audiences by his stupendous exhibitions. At Armory Hall, learned pigs, trained dogs, disciplined monkeys, and the delightful phenomenon, Miss "Nine SPRAGUER, do all sorts of curious and amusing things to gratify public curiosity, and impart indescribable pleasure to the juveniles. DAN RICE'S Hippodrome is a never failing source of attraction, while his Museum is a conglomeration of all the singular and unique things that human imagination can conceive. VANDENHOFF'S exhibition of wax statues, at Commercial Exchange, has been so well encouraged that the proprietor prolongs his stay far beyond the period originally intended. He has, by the way, added a new figure to his group in the person of the renowned LOLA MONTEZ. All this we have amongst us now, and but a few weeks ago, we might have added Kunkle's and Mr. Campbell's Minstrels, and a half a dozen more to the list of public amusements. In anticipation, there are GOTTSCHALK, OLE BULL and ADELINA PATTI, MR. BOSTWICK and her concert troup, and some other musical celebrities. It will be hard indeed, if the latter, or the temporary sojourner in New Orleans should be at a loss where to spend a pleasant evening. The only embarrassment he can possibly experience is that of effecting a choice amidst such a variety of interesting objects.

NEW BOOKS.—Our thanks are due J. C. MORGAN of the Literary Depot, Exchange Place, for a copy of Ileth Garnett, or the Loves of the Earl of Rochester—a novel from the fascinating pen of Ainsworth

☞ We are indebted to J. B. STEEL, No. 60 Camp street, for Mrs. STOWE'S far-famed and most dangerous work—"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

☞ B. M. NORMAN, No. 14 Camp street, has our thanks for the last number of that amusing publication—The New York Lantern.

Nomination of Judges.

It was our feeling and inclination for the election of Judges to pass without previous nomination, and we should now be satisfied to do so, had not the Whig Central Committee inaugurated its rule of action to the contrary, for the government of that party. This being done, we feel bound to believe it will be complied with wherever necessary to their success. Under these circumstances, we are left no other alternative, indeed it becomes a duty upon us to pursue a line of conduct consistent with self-defence and preservation.

This being the case, would it not be proper for the Democratic members of the Legislature at once to call a State Convention for the nomination of Chief Justice, and for the Democracy of the several Supreme Judicial Districts to call a Convention for the respective districts, and nominate their candidates for Associate Justices? We think so, and we hope they will move speedily in the matter.

[Feliciana State Paper.

We should like to know where the Editor of the State Paper obtained information that the Whig Central Committee had promulgated, as a rule of action, that party nominations for the Judiciary must be made. The statement is entirely new to us. On the contrary, the Whig party has manifested, neither through its constituted organs, nor in an individual capacity, the slightest disposition to infuse politics into the canvass for Judicial office. The only Whig nomination as exalted position on the Bench, is Taliaferro, and he was put in nomination distinctly without reference to party, and by members of the Bar, independent of all party considerations.

St. Domingo.

The following is an extract from a letter to the Courier des Etats Unis, dated "Kingston, (Jamaica) January 24, 1853:

"The news that you gave us of the acceptance, on the part of France, of the protectorate of the Dominican Republic, will be, if fully confirmed, of great importance, not only for the free colonies, but also for the islands of Cuba, the tranquility of which would not be in so much danger from the attempts of filibusters who, in the event that the eastern part of St. Domingo should be placed under American annexation, would have much greater facilities for accomplishing their purposes.

"As regards ourselves, we would see, with great pleasure, such a power as France aiding and taking under her protection a people governed by the whole of a rich and fertile island, worthy under every aspect of being protected against the less civilized neighbor, who has on his side but a force. We would see, in fact, with much satisfaction, such a change effected in favor of the Antilles. What Louis Philippe and the Republic refused, the Empire would not fail to take. England, that treats her colonies with great indifference, and even with contempt, would be obliged to show more deference and respect to them, for fear that we might appeal to her rival whenever it was known that she did not hesitate to take a stronger foothold in the New World, and that other offers gave hope to her colonial productions. For reasons known to the whole world, the United States could not interfere, contre ce fait,).

Upon this, the Washington Globe remarks:

This letter is in French, but seems to be written by a Spaniard. That they are in favor of it, is not material. It shows pretty clearly that in the West Indies the idea prevails that France is or is to be, accessory to the St. Domingo under the name of a protectorate, and that such an occupancy would be approved by many. For ourselves, we do not undertake to say either that Louis Napoleon has formed the design of the bay of Samana, or that he intends to do so; but we say, also, that the quasi denial which he has been published in the face of public opinion, at all conclusive, or at all satisfactory. The Emperor is fully aware of the advantages of the fortification in the West Indies, and if he wishes to take further foothold there—Samana as great a terre de plus—as the writer of the letter says, he will be very likely to do so. His reasons and his pretexts are multifarious. The Dominicans invite him to come; England may not oppose his coming. The position is a commanding one, and may be easily made impregnable. It places him in the neighborhood of Soulouque, whom he will either awe, or devour, or dandle. His navy can express sundry millions of dollars, and the latter, planted in Samana, would possess many facilities for collecting, and could insure a distranquis at any time when the vested interests of the world, in Europe, and have it served by an army of fifteen or twenty thousand soldiers. To occupy Samana, would be to occupy half of Hayti, and to defeat the design of her own on Cuba, to command the Gulf, and even the mouth of the Mississippi, temporarily.

In our opinion, St. Domingo would be a much more valuable acquisition for France than the Marquesas and Tahiti, with the Sandwich Islands to boot, which last the Emperor likes to have, also, unless we are much mistaken.

How far the French Emperor's moderation and justice, internationally construed, can safely be relied on, yet remains to be seen and to be tested. Judging from his antecedents, our confidence in them is not absolutely unlimited.—He claims to represent the Napoleonic ideas, which were pretty comprehensive and extravagant—not an iota more moderate and self-denying than the ideas of Alexander the Great.

☞ There are three kinds of men in the world: the "Wills," the "Won'ts," and the "Cants." The former effect everything, the other oppose everything, and the latter fail in everything. "I will" builds our railroads and steamboats. "I won't" dont believe in "experiments and nonsense," while "I can't" grows words for wheat, and commonly ends his days in the slow digestion of a court of bankruptcy.

APPROPRIATE.—At a recent celebration at Buffalo, New York, of the anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, by the Printers Union, the following appropriate and technical toast was offered by Mr. Levien, of the Buffalo Commercial:

"Printer's Wives—May they always have plenty of small caps for the heads of their little original articles."

ROBBERIES AT BATON ROUGE.—From the following which we find in the Gazette, it would seem that rascality prospers at the capital:

On the night of the 11th instant, the dwelling of T. O. Morgan Esq. was entered by a thief who made sure his mark, having relieved the Judge of silver ware to the amount of about three hundred and fifty dollars, said thief took his leave.

On the same night the residence of Mr. Wm. Cline was quietly entered, the light fingered person repaired to the bed room and helped himself to Mr C's wallet containing $71 55. Rewards are offered for the apprehension of the thieves.

But a few nights ago the store of Mr. A. Monton was entered through a window, and much change as had been left loose taken. All this speaks well of the action of our energetic city watch. What are they about? Where are the watch?

☞ Throw a Printer where you will and he will light on his feet. The Reading (Pa.) Journal states that a young man, a Printer, in that vicinity, undertook to descend a perpendicular shaft, some eighty-five feet, into the iron mines, by means of a bucket and windlass. When about ten feet below the surface, the bucket struck an obstruction, overturned, and threw the young man out, feet foremost, which pointed him head first into a quagmire. He was but slightly injured. Who but a Printer would have been so mirculously preserved from death?

EX-GOVERNOR LUCAS.—The death of this venerable gentleman occurred at his residence near Iberville, on Wednesday morning, after many suffering, and protracted illness of several months. For several years past Gov. Lucas lived in retirement, and was but little known to the present generation, except to those who resided in the vicinity of his residence. He died in the full possession of his mental faculties at the advanced age of 79 years.

A meeting of the citizens of Jackson, at which Gov. Foote presided, was held at the Court House on Wednesday evening last, at which resolutions were introduced and warmly discussed, and last Saturday and Sunday Conventions, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the offices of Governor and Lieutenant Governor, were held by the Democratic and Whig parties, respectively, at Jackson.

City Intelligence.

PLACIDE'S VARIETIES.—The Spectre Children.—These juvenile prodigies make their second appearance to-night, in the same pieces performed last evening, and with a complete change of costume. Exhibitors as they were when they had trod the boards in this city, they have vastly improved since their late European tour.

ST. CHARLES THEATRE.—Benefit of Mr. and Mrs. Sosa.—The numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. SOSA will bear in mind that the performance to-night, has been set apart for their benefit. The selection made for this occasion, is a most attractive one, comprising that beautiful and startling drama of "The Corsican Brothers," after which, "Shakespeare's Old Guard," and in conclusion the dramatic sketch of "The Bridegroom's Son," in which Mrs. Sosa sustains the principal character.

AMERICAN THEATRE.—Macallister.—The entertaining manner of Goldwire gives some of his secrets to-night, at the American. Every one who has seen Macallister is in perfect raptures with his astonishing and almost supernatural feats. The great difference between him and every other performer of the kind we have seen, is the perfect ease, nonchalance and ease with which he executes his marvellous tricks. The feat of the Ring and of the inexhaustible Bottle are alone worth the price of admission.

DOMENICO'S TROUPE.—There will be a performance at the Armory Hall to-night, of the usual attractive character. Herr Von Spingler will also execute his surprising feats. He is indeed the very chief of whirligigs. The "dissolving views" are another great attraction at the Armory Hall.

DAN RICE'S HIPPODROME.—The performances at the Circus vary in interest every night. It is one of the most attractive places of resort in the city.

ORLEANS THEATRE.—Meyerbeer's magnificent opera of "The Prophet," will be presented to-night. The public never grow tired of the repetition of this great master piece.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.—Judge Lorse.—James Dempsey was tried yesterday on the charge of having on the 16th January last, stolen a pitcher from Valentine Follinger, and was acquitted.

James Wilson, charged with having on the 17th December, stolen a pocket book from R. Driver, was tried and found guilty, with a recommendation to the mercy of the Court.

Michael Daule was tried on the charge of having on the 13th January, committed an assault and battery on the person of Catherine Lamb, and was acquitted.

Mary Morley, charged with having on the 16th January last, stolen $26 from Hannah Hurley, was tried and acquitted.

ASSAULT.—John Saunders complained yesterday to Recorder Genois, that on Saturday evening, 14th, he was set upon by a person known by a fencing dog in Main street, and that on going to the owner of the animal, a barber, living on said door, to remonstrate with him on the subject, he grossly insulted and threatened to assault him with a cowhide.

SPEAKING CURSE.—Martin Monan, charged with speaking curse words, was sent yesterday, by Recorder Genois, to the Workhouse for one month.

ROBBERY.—Daniel McCormick alias Yankee Dan, was arrested yesterday by the First District police, charged with having robbed John Antoine, on the Levee. The case has not yet been investigated.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS.—Five individuals were arrested on Sunday night by the First District police, set with breaking open the door of a dwelling house, with intent to commit larceny, or being dangerous and suspicious characters.

STABBING.—Patrick Kelly and John Gallagher were brought up yesterday before Recorder Winter the former charged with having stabbed the latter on the 9th inst. Duffy with a knife, in Rooms street and the latter with aiding and abetting in the assault. Kelly was committed to await his trial before the First District Court, and Gallagher was required to give bonds to keep the peace.

BREACHES OF THE PEACE.—Monday morning always brings with it the arraignment of a large number of individuals before the Recorder, charged with disturbing the peace, and other disorderly conduct—yesterday was no exception to the rule, the arrests for these offences having been very numerous, both on Saturday night and Sunday. Some of the cases, however, offer any thing of particular interest.

VAGRANT.—Catharine Reilly was arrested yesterday on the usual charge, of liquidating his late business, but the honor to inform the public that she will sell his establishment en masse for cash on favorable terms.

Great Quarters for Division L. M.
GERMANIA, No. 53
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 15, 1853.
THE approaching anniversary of the birth day of WASHINGTON, the Father of our Country, will be celebrated by the Volunteer Corps of this Division, in a manner worthy of the occasion.
For that purpose, they will assemble fully equipped on THURSDAY next February, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the Armory of the Division, on the Levee, at the Banquet street.
The Division Infantry will be fully equipped, with forty in their pieces. On the 21st inst. at sunset, they will fire a national salute on the new Place d'Armes, commencing with the Star Spangled Banner, and in the 7th from each quarter at sunset and sunset.
All Brig. Gen. Augustin, commanding the Louisiana Brigade, Brig. Gen. P. A. Roman, commanding First Brigade, and Brig. Gen. B. Crossan, Commanding Second Brigade, are respectfully invited to be present, charged with the execution of this order, in so far as it concerns their respective commands, and will hold themselves in readiness to receive the Division Staff of arms.
By order of the Officers of the Division and those of the Military Division of the State that may be in the city on the 2nd inst. are invited to join the Major General and Staff in a ball to be given at the Main Exhibition, in Bayou-la-street. He is also charged with having turned her out of doors, with a bastard child.

COMMITTED.—John Kennedy was brought up yesterday before Recorder Genois, charged by Francis Lamb with having on the 13th inst. struck him with a pistol, on Saturday evening, fraudulently handed the vessel and stolen a coat. The accused was committed for trial.

DISPATCH.—Charles Stein was arrested on this day, by policeman Clark, of the Second District, on the charge of being a deserter from the United States army.

☞ IT WOULD HARDLY DO for any one to have the temerity nowadays to question the excellence of Dr Haviland's German Bitters, which are prepared by Dr C. M. Jayne & Son, of Philadelphia. Headache or and derangement of the digestive organs, their many virtues have long since been most plainly apparent. They purge from the system the morbid humors that cause all unsettlements, and bring back to the cheek, and sufferings to the brow. They banish those clogs upon happiness, and restore the system to high health.
