STABLER'S
ANODYNE CHERRY EXPECTORANT

I confidently recommend it to invalids, as many persons by my advice have used it, and in the care of their HOARSENESS and other forms of common COLDS, BRONCHITIS, COUGH, CROUP, and INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, it has given the RELIEF at the time, and effected the CURE in the end. Many of the above diseases are induced, or aggravated, by the use of medicines containing mercury, or other mineral poisons, which destroy the tone of the digestive organs, and ultimately ruin the constitution. Those who have used mercurial medicines, or are now under the influence of mercury, and are afflicted by the above complaints, should not neglect to use this Expectorant, as it will counteract the effects of the mercury, and restore the system to health. Those who have used this Expectorant, and have not been benefited by it, are the only persons who can say that it has failed to cure them. I have used it in my own family, and in my practice, for many years, and have never known it to fail in the cure of any disease of the throat and lungs, when the patient was not too far gone with consumption. I have also used it in my own family, and in my practice, for many years, and have never known it to fail in the cure of any disease of the throat and lungs, when the patient was not too far gone with consumption. I have also used it in my own family, and in my practice, for many years, and have never known it to fail in the cure of any disease of the throat and lungs, when the patient was not too far gone with consumption.
