Memoranda.

The steamer J M Woodruff arrived here yesterday from Louisville, which port she left on the 30th ult, having been detained on the trip down. From her officers we learn that they experienced very little difficulty in getting over the bars in the Ohio until they arrived at Smithland, where they were detained for some considerable time, not finding water sufficient to come through, as the intermediate bars were to be passed over with the steamer's head on to a broad surface, which is being built, and which at the present is thrown the water out of the channel, and so to a broad surface.

The steamer Cornet arrived here from St. Louis yesterday with freight to be left on the levee, and reported—

The steamer New Orleans, steamer H. O. Bissell and steamer Alton. Passed aground, steamers J. D. Gurley and Ashley for Memphis, at Island No. 37. Steamer W. Thomas, from St. Louis for the Red River, passing at Cairo.
